"We are not and will not become a predatory lender as defined in Chapter 2-32 of the Municipal Code. We further pledge that none of our affiliates is, and none of them will become, a predatory lender as defined in Chapter 2-32 of the Municipal Code. We understand that becoming a predatory lender or becoming an affiliate of a predatory lender may result in the loss of the privilege of doing business with the City."

If the Disclosing Party is unable to make this pledge because it or any of its affiliates (as defined in Section 2-32-455(b) of the Municipal Code) is a predatory lender within the meaning of Chapter 2-32 of the Municipal Code, explain here (attach additional pages if necessary):

If the letters "NA," the word "None," or no response appears on the lines above, it will be conclusively presumed that the Disclosing Party certified to the above statements.

Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit
Filed by
The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc.

This Attachment B modifies and supplements the information provided in the City of Chicago Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit executed by the Disclosing Party as of July 20, 2015 (the "EDS"). Any capitalized term used in this Attachment B will have the definition set forth in the EDS, except as provided below.

SECTION III: BUSINESS RELATIONSHIPS WITH CITY ELECTED OFFICIALS

To the best knowledge of the Disclosing Party, after reasonable inquiry, the Disclosing Party has not had a "business relationship," as defined in Chapter 2-156 of the Municipal Code, with any City elected official in the 12 months ending on the date that the Disclosing Party executed the EDS. For purposes of this statement, the term "City elected official" is treated as including only the City's Mayor, Aldermen, Treasurer and Clerk and not including their spouses, domestic partners (as defined in Chapter 2-156 of the Municipal Code) or any entity in which any such person has an interest.

SECTION V – CERTIFICATIONS

B. FURTHER CERTIFICATIONS

The Disclosing Party certifies that, as of the date that the Disclosing Party executed the EDS, to the best of its knowledge, after reasonable inquiry, the statements contained in Section V, paragraphs B.2.a through and including B.2.e are accurate with respect to the executive officers and directors of the Disclosing Party. With respect to Section V, paragraphs B.2.b, c and e, the Disclosing Party hereby makes reference to the information on legal proceedings set forth in the filings made by it with the Securities and Exchange Commission, which may be found at www.sec.gov or www.pnc.com/secfilings. Copies of the most current such disclosures are attached as Annex I to this Attachment B. The Disclosing Party certifies that none of the judgments set forth therein, individually or in the aggregate, would have a material adverse effect on the Applicant's ability to perform with respect to the Matter.

The Disclosing Party certifies that, as of the date that the Disclosing Party executed the EDS, to the best of its knowledge, after reasonable inquiry, the statements contained in Section V, paragraphs B.3.a through and including B.3.d and B.4 are accurate with respect to any Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party or any responsible official of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity or any other official or employee of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity pursuant to the direction or authorization of a responsible official of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity. The Disclosing Party makes no certification concerning any agent of the Disclosing Party or any Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party nor concerning any partner of any Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party, except to the extent that such partner is also an Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party.

For purposes of the certifications contained in the EDS as modified in this Attachment B: The term "Affiliated Entity" does not include BlackRock, Inc. or any of its subsidiaries or other affiliates (as such term is defined for purposes of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended), except to the extent that such entity would be an Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party for any other reason.

D. INTEREST IN CITY BUSINESS

As to the disclosure set forth in Section V, paragraph D.1., to the best knowledge of the Disclosing Party, after reasonable inquiry, no official or employee of the City of Chicago has a financial interest in his or her own name or in the name of any other person in the Matter.

As to the disclosure set forth in Section V, paragraph D.4., the Disclosing Party only certifies that no official or employee of the City of Chicago will acquire a prohibited financial interest in the Matter from the Disclosing Party, any Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party or any responsible official of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity or any other official or employee of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity pursuant to the direction or authorization of a responsible official of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity.

E. CERTIFICATION REGARDING SLAVERY ERA BUSINESS

The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. extensively reviewed the historical records of banks it has acquired and has discovered two instances in the records of the National Bank of Kentucky, a predecessor of PNC Bank, National Association, an Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party.

In 1836, the National Bank of Kentucky loaned $200,000 to the City of Louisville. Records indicate the City then invested in the Lexington & Ohio Railroad Company.

In 1852, the National Bank of Kentucky loaned $135,000 to the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company.

Research indicates that both railroads employed forced labor. There is no evidence that the National Bank of Kentucky accepted individuals as collateral for either loan, or otherwise directly profited from slavery.

NOTE 14 INCOME TAXES

Table 111: Net Operating Loss Carryforwards and Tax Credit Carryforwards

In millions	March 31 2015	December 31 2014
Net Operating Loss Carryforwards:
Federal	$ 977	$ 997
State	$2,536	$ 2,594
Tax Credit Carryforwards:
Federal	$ 35	$ 35
State	$ 7	$ 7

The federal net operating loss carryforwards expire in 2032. The state net operating loss carryforwards will expire from 2015 to 2031. The majority of the tax credit carryforwards expire in 2032. All federal and most state net operating loss and credit carryforwards are from acquired entities and utilization is subject to various statutory limitations. It is anticipated that the company will be able to fully utilize its carryforwards for federal tax purposes, but a valuation allowance of $65 million has been recorded against certain state tax carryforwards as of March 31, 2015. If select uncertain tax positions were successfully challenged by a state, the state net operating losses listed above could be reduced by $60 million.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is currently examining PNC's 2011 through 2013 returns. National City's consolidated federal income tax returns through 2008 have been audited by the IRS. Certain adjustments remain under review by the IRS Appeals Division for years 2004 through 2008.

The Company had unrecognized tax benefits of $83 million at March 31, 2015 and $77 million at December 31, 2014. At March 31, 2015, $68 million of unrecognized tax benefits, if recognized, would favorably impact the effective income tax rate.

It is reasonably possible that the balance of unrecognized tax benefits could increase or decrease in the next twelve months due to completion of tax authorities' exams or the expiration of statutes of limitations. Management estimates that the balance of unrecognized tax benefits could decrease by $58 million within the next twelve months.

During the three months ended March 31, 2015, we recognized $51 million of amortization, $55 million of tax credits, and $19 million of other tax benefits associated with qualified investments in low income housing tax credits within Income taxes.

NOTE 15 LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

We establish accruals for legal proceedings, including litigation and regulatory and governmental investigations and inquiries, when information related to the loss contingencies represented by those matters indicates both that a loss is probable and that the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. Any such accruals are adjusted thereafter as appropriate to reflect changed circumstances. When we are able to do so, we also determine estimates of possible losses or ranges of possible losses, whether in excess of any related accrued liability or where there is no accrued liability, for disclosed legal proceedings ("Disclosed Matters," which are those matters disclosed in this Note 15 as well as those matters disclosed in Note 21 Legal Proceedings in Part II, Item 8 of our 2014 Form 10-K (such prior disclosure referred to as "Prior Disclosure")). For Disclosed Matters where we are able to estimate such possible losses or ranges of possible losses, as of March 31, 2015, we estimate that it is reasonably possible that we could incur losses in an aggregate amount of up to approximately $725 million. The estimates included in this amount are based on our analysis of currently available information and are subject to significant judgment and a variety of assumptions and uncertainties. As new information is obtained we may change our estimates. Due to the inherent subjectivity of the assessments and unpredictability of outcomes of legal proceedings, any amounts accrued or included in this aggregate amount may not represent the ultimate loss to us from the legal proceedings in question. Thus, our exposure and ultimate losses may be higher, and possibly significantly so, than the amounts accrued or this aggregate amount.

In our experience, legal proceedings are inherently unpredictable. One or more of the following factors frequently contribute to this inherent unpredictability: the proceeding is in its early stages; the damages sought are unspecified, unsupported or uncertain; it is unclear whether a case brought as a class action will be allowed to proceed on that basis or, if permitted to proceed as a class action, how the class will be defined; the other party is seeking relief other than or in addition to compensatory damages (including, in the case of regulatory and governmental investigations and inquiries, the possibility of fines and penalties); the matter presents meaningful legal uncertainties, including novel issues of law; we have not engaged in meaningful settlement discussions; discovery has not started or is not complete; there are significant facts in dispute; the possible outcomes may not be amenable to the use of statistical or quantitative analytical tools; predicting possible outcomes depends on making assumptions about future decisions of courts or regulatory bodies or the behavior of other parties; and there are a large number of parties named as defendants (including where it is uncertain how damages or liability, if any, will be shared among multiple defendants). Generally, the less progress that has been made in the proceedings or the broader the range of potential results, the harder it is for us to estimate losses or ranges of losses that it is reasonably possible we could incur.

Table of Contents

As a result of these types of factors, we are unable, at this time, to estimate the losses that it is reasonably possible that we could incur or ranges of such losses with respect to some of the matters disclosed, and the aggregate estimated amount provided above does not include an estimate for every Disclosed Matter. Therefore, as the estimated aggregate amount disclosed above does not include all of the Disclosed Matters, the amount disclosed above does not represent our maximum reasonably possible loss exposure for all of the Disclosed Matters. The estimated aggregate amount also does not reflect any of our exposure to matters not so disclosed, as discussed below under "Other."

We include in some of the descriptions of individual Disclosed Matters certain quantitative information related to the plaintiff's claim against us as alleged in the plaintiff's pleadings or other public filings or otherwise publicly available information. While information of this type may provide insight into the potential magnitude of a matter, it does not necessarily represent our estimate of reasonably possible loss or our judgment as to any currently appropriate accrual.

Some of our exposure in Disclosed Matters may be offset by applicable insurance coverage. We do not consider the possible availability of insurance coverage in determining the amounts of any accruals (although we record the amount of related insurance recoveries that are deemed probable up to the amount of the accrual) or in determining any estimates of possible losses or ranges of possible losses.

Captive Mortgage Reinsurance Litigation

In March 2015, the parties in White, et al. v. The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc., et al. (Civil Action No. 11-7928), pending in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, stipulated to, and the court ordered, a stay of all proceedings pending the outcome of another matter currently on appeal before the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit that involves overlapping issues.

Lender Placed Insurance Litigation

In March 2015, in Montoya vs. PNC Bank, N.A., et al.(Case No. 14-cv-20474-JG), the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida denied PNC's motion to dismiss, except that it granted the motion as to the Ohio good faith and fair dealing claim.

Mortgage Repurchase Litigation

In January 2015, the lawsuit pending in the United States District Court for the District of Minnesota under the caption Residential Funding Company, LLC v. PNC Bank, N.A., et al. (Civil No. 13-3498- JRT-JSM) was consolidated for pre-trial purposes with other lawsuits pending in the District of Minnesota filed by Residential Funding Company, LLC against other originators of mortgage loans that it had purchased. The consolidated action is captioned In Re: RFC and RESCAP Liquidating Trust Litigation, Civil File No. 13-cv-3451 (SRN/JJK/HB).

Pre-need Funeral Arrangements

In March 2015, in the case pending in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri under the caption Jo Ann Howard, P.C., et al. v. Cassity, et al. (No. 4:09-CV-1252-ERW), the court, after a jury trial, entered a judgment against National City Bank and PNC Bank (the PNC defendants) in the amount of $355.5 million in compensatory damages and $35.6 million in punitive damages. In April 2015, the plaintiffs filed motions with the court seeking $178.8 million in pre-judgment interest. Also, in April 2015, the PNC defendants filed motions with the court to reduce the compensatory damages by the amounts paid in settlement by other defendants, to strike the punitive damages award, for judgment as a matter of law, and for a new trial. If the PNC defendants do not obtain sufficient relief through these motions, they intend to appeal the judgment to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit.

Other Regulatory and Governmental Inquiries

PNC is the subject of investigations, audits and other forms of regulatory and governmental inquiry covering a broad range of issues in our banking, securities and other financial services businesses, in some cases as part of reviews of specified activities at multiple industry participants. Over the last few years, we have experienced an increase in regulatory and governmental investigations, audits and other inquiries. Areas of current regulatory or governmental inquiry with respect to PNC include consumer protection, fair lending, mortgage origination and servicing, mortgage and non mortgage-related insurance and reinsurance, municipal finance activities, conduct by broker-dealers, automobile lending practices, and participation in government insurance or guarantee programs, some of which are described in Prior Disclosure. These inquiries, including those described in Prior Disclosure, may lead to administrative, civil or criminal proceedings, and possibly result in remedies including fines, penalties, restitution, or alterations in our business practices, and in additional expenses and collateral costs.

Our practice is to cooperate fully with regulatory and governmental investigations, audits and other inquiries, including those described in Prior Disclosure.

Other

In addition to the proceedings or other matters described above and in Prior Disclosure, PNC and persons to whom we may have indemnification obligations, in the normal course of business, are subject to various other pending and threatened legal proceedings in which claims for monetary damages and other relief are asserted. We do not anticipate, at the present time, that the ultimate aggregate liability, if any, arising out of such other legal proceedings will have a material adverse effect on our financial position. However, we cannot now determine whether or not any claims asserted against us or others to whom we may have indemnification obligations, whether in the proceedings or other matters described above or otherwise, will have a material adverse effect on our results of operations in any future reporting period, which will depend on, among other things, the amount of the loss resulting from the claim and the amount of income otherwise reported for the reporting period.

See Note 16 Commitments and Guarantees for additional information regarding the Visa indemnification and our other obligations to provide indemnification, including to current and former officers, directors, employees and agents of PNC and companies we have acquired.

NOTE 16 COMMITMENTS AND GUARANTEES

Commitments

In the normal course of business, we have various commitments outstanding, certain of which are not included on our Consolidated Balance Sheet. The following table presents our outstanding commitments to extend credit along with significant other commitments as of March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, respectively.

Table 112: Commitments to Extend Credit and Other Commitments

In millions	March 31 2015	December 31 2014
Commitments to extend credit
Total commercial lending	$ 96,866	$ 99,837
Home equity lines of credit	17,784	17,839
Credit card	18,539	17,833
Other	4,771	4,178
Total commitments to extend credit	137,960	139,687
Net outstanding standby letters of credit (a)	9,750	9,991
Reinsurance agreements	2,428	4,297
Standby bond purchase agreements (b)	1,080	1,095
Other commitments related to equity investments (c)	970	962
Total commitments to extend credit and other commitments	$152,188	$156,032

(a) Net outstanding standby letters of credit include $5 4 billion and $5.2 billion which support remarketing programs at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, respectively.
(b) We enter into standby bond purchase agreements to support municipal bond obligations
(c) Includes $411 million and $441 million related to investments in qualified affordable housing projects at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, respectively.

Commitments to Extend Credit

Commitments to extend credit, or net unfunded loan commitments, represent arrangements to lend funds or provide liquidity subject to specified contractual conditions. These commitments generally have fixed expiration dates, may require payment of a fee, and contain termination clauses in the event the customer's credit quality deteriorates. Based on our historical experience, some commitments expire unfunded, and therefore cash requirements are substantially less than the total commitment.

Net Outstanding Standby Letters of Credit

We issue standby letters of credit and share in the risk of standby letters of credit issued by other financial institutions, in each case to support obligations of our customers to third parties, such as insurance requirements and the facilitation of transactions involving capital markets product execution. Internal credit ratings related to our net outstanding standby letters of credit were as follows:

Table 113: Internal Credit Ratings Related to Net Outstanding Standby Letters of Credit

	March 31 2015	December 31 2014
Internal credit ratings (as a percentage of portfolio):
Pass (a)	95%	95%
Below pass (b)	5%	5%

(a) Indicates that expected risk of loss is currently low
(b) Indicates a higher degree of risk of default.

If the customer fails to meet its financial or performance obligation to the third party under the terms of the contract or there is a need to support a remarketing program, then upon a draw by a beneficiary, subject to the terms of the letter of credit, we would be obligated to make payment to them. The standby letters of credit outstanding on March 31, 2015 had terms ranging from less than 1 year to 8 years.

As of March 31, 2015, assets of $989 million secured certain specifically identified standby letters of credit. In addition, a portion of the remaining standby letters of credit issued on behalf of specific customers is also secured by collateral or guarantees that secure the customers' other obligations to us. The carrying amount of the liability for our obligations related to standby letters of credit and participations in standby letters of credit was $180 million at March 31, 2015 and is included in Other liabilities on our Consolidated Balance Sheet.

DOCUMENTS INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE

Portions of the definitive Proxy Statement of The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. to be filed pursuant to Regulation 14A for the 2015 annual meeting of shareholders (Proxy Statement) are incorporated by reference into Part III of this Form 10-K.

The principal source of parent company cash flow is the dividends it receives from its subsidiary bank, which may be impacted by the following:

- Capital needs,
- Laws and regulations,
- Corporate policies,
- Contractual restrictions, and
- Other factors.

Also, there are statutory and regulatory limitations on the ability of national banks to pay dividends or make other capital distributions. The amount available for dividend payments to the parent company by PNC Bank without prior regulatory approval was approximately $1.5 billion at December 31, 2014.

Under federal law, a bank subsidiary generally may not extend credit to, or engage in other types of covered transactions (including the purchase of assets) with, the parent company or its non-bank subsidiaries on terms and under circumstances that are not substantially the same as comparable transactions with nonaffiliates. A bank subsidiary may not extend credit to, or engage in a covered transaction with, the parent company or a non-bank subsidiary if the aggregate amount of the bank's extensions of credit and other covered transactions with the parent company or non-bank subsidiary exceeds 10% of the capital stock and surplus of such bank subsidiary or the aggregate amount of the bank's extensions of credit and other covered transactions with the parent company and all non-bank subsidiaries exceeds 20% of the capital and surplus of such bank subsidiary. Such extensions of credit, with limited exceptions, must be at least fully collateralized in accordance with specified collateralization thresholds, with the thresholds varying based on the type of assets serving as collateral. In certain circumstances, federal regulatory authorities may impose more restrictive limitations.

Federal Reserve Board regulations require depository institutions to maintain cash reserves with a Federal Reserve Bank (FRB). At December 31, 2014, the balance outstanding at the FRB was $31.4 billion.

NOTE 21 LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

We establish accruals for legal proceedings, including litigation and regulatory and governmental investigations and inquiries, when information related to the loss contingencies represented by those matters indicates both that a loss is probable and that the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. Any such accruals are adjusted thereafter as appropriate to reflect changed circumstances. When we are able to do so, we also determine estimates of possible losses or ranges of possible losses, whether in excess of any related accrued liability or where there is no accrued liability, for disclosed legal proceedings ("Disclosed Matters," which are those matters disclosed in this Note 21). For Disclosed Matters where we are able to estimate such possible losses or ranges of possible losses, as of December 31, 2014, we estimate that it is reasonably possible that we could incur losses in an aggregate amount of up to approximately $650 million. The estimates included in this amount are based on our analysis of currently available information and are subject to significant judgment and a variety of assumptions and uncertainties. As new information is obtained we may change our estimates. Due to the inherent subjectivity of the assessments and unpredictability of outcomes of legal proceedings, any amounts accrued or included in this aggregate amount may not represent the ultimate loss to us from the legal proceedings in question. Thus, our exposure and ultimate losses may be higher, and possibly significantly so, than the amounts accrued or this aggregate amount.

In our experience, legal proceedings are inherently unpredictable. One or more of the following factors frequently contribute to this inherent unpredictability: the proceeding is in its early stages; the damages sought are unspecified, unsupported or uncertain; it is unclear whether a case brought as a class action will be allowed to proceed on that basis or, if permitted to proceed as a class action, how the class will be defined; the other party is seeking relief other than or in addition to compensatory damages (including, in the case of regulatory and governmental investigations and inquiries, the possibility of fines and penalties); the matter presents meaningful legal uncertainties, including novel issues of law; we have not engaged in meaningful settlement discussions; discovery has not started or is not complete; there are significant facts in dispute; the possible outcomes may not be amenable to the use of statistical or quantitative analytical tools; predicting possible outcomes depends on making assumptions about future decisions of courts or regulatory bodies or the behavior of other parties; and there are a large number of parties named as defendants (including where it is uncertain how damages or liability, if any, will be shared among multiple defendants). Generally, the less progress that has been made in the proceedings or the broader the range of potential results, the harder it is for us to estimate losses or ranges of losses that it is reasonably possible we could incur.

Table of Contents

As a result of these types of factors, we are unable, at this time, to estimate the losses that it is reasonably possible that we could incur or ranges of such losses with respect to some of the matters disclosed, and the aggregate estimated amount provided above does not include an estimate for every Disclosed Matter. Therefore, as the estimated aggregate amount disclosed above does not include all of the Disclosed Matters, the amount disclosed above does not represent our maximum reasonably possible loss exposure for all of the Disclosed Matters. The estimated aggregate amount also does not reflect any of our exposure to matters not so disclosed, as discussed below under "Other."

We include in some of the descriptions of individual Disclosed Matters certain quantitative information related to the plaintiff's claim against us as alleged in the plaintiff's pleadings or other public filings or otherwise publicly available information. While information of this type may provide insight into the potential magnitude of a matter, it does not necessarily represent our estimate of reasonably possible loss or our judgment as to any currently appropriate accrual.

Some of our exposure in Disclosed Matters may be offset by applicable insurance coverage. We do not consider the possible availability of insurance coverage in determining the amounts of any accruals (although we record the amount of related insurance recoveries that are deemed probable up to the amount of the accrual) or in determining any estimates of possible losses or ranges of possible losses.

Interchange Litigation

Beginning in June 2005, a series of antitrust lawsuits were filed against Visa®, MasterCard®, and several major financial institutions, including cases naming National City (since merged into PNC) and its subsidiary, National City Bank of Kentucky (since merged into National City Bank which in turn was merged into PNC Bank, N.A.). The cases have been consolidated for pretrial proceedings in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York under the caption In re Payment Card Interchange Fee and Merchant-Discount Antitrust Litigation (Master File No. 1:05-md-1720-JG-JO). Those cases naming National City were brought as class actions on behalf of all persons or business entities who have accepted Visa® or Master Card®. The plaintiffs, merchants operating commercial businesses throughout the U.S. and trade associations, allege, among other things, that the defendants conspired to fix the prices for general purpose card network services and otherwise imposed unreasonable restraints on trade, resulting in the payment of inflated interchange fees, in violation of the antitrust laws. In January 2009, the plaintiffs filed amended and supplemental complaints adding, among other things, allegations that the restructuring of Visa and MasterCard, each of which included an initial public offering, violated the antitrust laws. In their complaints, the plaintiffs seek, among other things, injunctive relief, unspecified damages (trebled under the antitrust laws) and attorneys' fees.

In July 2012, the parties entered into a memorandum of understanding with the class plaintiffs and an agreement in principle with certain individual plaintiffs with respect to a settlement of these cases, under which the defendants will collectively pay approximately $6.6 billion to the class and individual settling plaintiffs and have agreed to changes in the terms applicable to their respective card networks (including an eight-month reduction in default credit interchange rates). The parties entered into a definitive agreement with respect to this settlement in October 2012. The court granted final approval of the settlement in December 2013. Several objectors have appealed the order of approval to the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, which appeal is pending. As a result of the previously funded litigation escrow (described in Note 22 Commitments and Guarantees), which will cover substantially all of our share of the Visa portion of this settlement, we anticipate no material financial impact from the monetary amount of this settlement. Numerous merchants, including some large national merchants, have objected to or requested exclusion (opted out) from the proposed class settlements, and some of those opting out have lawsuits pending in federal and state courts against Visa, MasterCard and, in some instances, one or more of the other issuing banks (including PNC).

National City and National City Bank entered into judgment and loss sharing agreements with Visa and certain other banks with respect to all of the above referenced litigation. All of the litigation against Visa is also subject to the indemnification obligations described in Note 22 Commitments and Guarantees. PNC Bank, N.A. is not named a defendant in any of the Visa or MasterCard related antitrust litigation nor was it initially a party to the judgment or loss sharing agreements, but it has been subject to these indemnification obligations and became responsible for National City Bank's position in the litigation and responsibilities under the agreements upon completion of the merger of National City Bank into PNC Bank, N.A. In March 2011, we entered into a MasterCard Settlement and Judgment Sharing Agreement with MasterCard and other financial institution defendants and an Omnibus Agreement Regarding Interchange Litigation Sharing and Settlement Sharing with Visa, MasterCard and other financial institution defendants. If there is a resolution of all claims against all defendants, the Omnibus Agreement, in substance, apportions that resolution into a Visa portion and a MasterCard portion, with the Visa portion being two-thirds and the MasterCard portion being one-third. This apportionment only applies in the case of either a global settlement involving all defendants or an adverse judgment against the defendants, to the extent that damages either are related to the merchants' inter-network conspiracy claims or are otherwise not attributed to specific MasterCard or Visa conduct or damages. The MasterCard portion (or any MasterCard-related liability not subject to the Omnibus Agreement) will then be apportioned under the MasterCard Settlement and Judgment Sharing Agreement among MasterCard and PNC and the other financial institution defendants that are parties to this agreement. The responsibility for the Visa portion (or any Visa-related liability not subject to the Omnibus Agreement) will be apportioned under the pre-existing indemnification responsibilities and judgment and loss sharing agreements.

CBNV Mortgage Litigation

Between 2001 and 2003, on behalf of either individual plaintiffs or proposed classes of plaintiffs, several separate lawsuits were filed in state and federal courts against Community Bank of Northern Virginia (CBNV), a PNC Bank predecessor, and other defendants asserting claims arising from second mortgage loans made to the plaintiffs. The state lawsuits were removed to federal court and, with the lawsuits that had been filed in federal court, were consolidated for pre-trial proceedings in a multidistrict litigation (MDL) proceeding in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania under the caption In re: Community Bank of Northern Virginia Lending Practices Litigation (No. 03-0425 (W.D. Pa.), MDL No. 1674). In January 2008, the Pennsylvania district court issued an order sending back to the General Court of Justice, Superior Court Division, for Wake County, North Carolina the claims of two proposed class members. These claims are asserted in a case originally filed in 2001 and captioned Bumpers, et al. v. Community Bank of Northern Virginia (01-CVS-011342).

MDL Proceedings in Pennsylvania. In October 2011, the plaintiffs filed a joint consolidated amended class action complaint covering all of the class action lawsuits pending in this proceeding. The amended complaint names CBNV, another bank, and purchasers of loans originated by CBNV and the other bank (including the Residential Funding Company, LLC ("RFC")) as defendants. (In December 2013, the Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceeding involving the RFC was completed with the company being liquidated and claims against the company being resolved, including, through a settlement between the plaintiffs and RFC approved in November 2013, the claims in these lawsuits.) The principal allegations in the amended complaint are that a group of persons and entities collectively characterized as the "Shumway/Bapst Organization" referred prospective second residential mortgage loan borrowers to CBNV and the other bank, that CBNV and the other bank charged these borrowers improper title and loan fees at loan closings, that the disclosures provided to the borrowers at loan closings were inaccurate, and that CBNV and the other bank paid some of the loan fees to the Shumway/Bapst Organization as purported "kickbacks" for the referrals. The amended complaint asserts claims for violations of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA), the Truth in Lending Act (TILA), as amended by the Home Ownership and Equity Protection Act (HOEPA), and the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act (RICO).

The amended complaint seeks to certify a class of all borrowers who obtained a second residential non-purchase money mortgage loan, secured by their principal dwelling, from either CBNV or the other defendant bank, the terms of which made the loan subject to HOEPA. The plaintiffs seek, among other things, unspecified damages (including treble damages under RICO and RESPA), rescission of loans, declaratory and injunctive relief, interest, and attorneys' fees. In November 2011, the defendants filed a motion to dismiss the amended complaint. In June 2013, the court granted in part and denied in part the motion, dismissing the claims of any plaintiff whose loan did not originate or was not assigned to CBNV, narrowing the scope of the RESPA claim, and dismissing several of the named plaintiffs for lack of standing. The court also dismissed the claims against the other lender defendant on jurisdictional grounds. The limitation of the potential class to CBNV borrowers reduces its size to approximately 22,500 from the 50,000 members alleged in the amended complaint. Also in June 2013, the plaintiffs filed a motion for class certification, which was granted in July 2013. In August 2013, we filed a motion seeking leave to appeal the granting of the motion for class certification. The court granted the motion in October 2013, and our appeal is pending.

North Carolina Proceedings. The plaintiffs in Bumpers make similar allegations to those included in the amended complaint in the MDL proceedings. Following the remand to North Carolina state court, the plaintiffs in Bumpers sought to represent a class of North Carolina borrowers in state court proceedings in North Carolina. The plaintiffs claim that this class consists of approximately 650 borrowers. The district court in Pennsylvania handling the MDL proceedings enjoined class proceedings in Bumpers in March 2008. In April 2008, the North Carolina Superior Court granted the Bumpers plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment on their individual claims and awarded them approximately $11,000 each plus interest. CBNV appealed the grant of the motion for summary judgment. In September 2011, the North Carolina Court of Appeals affirmed in part and reversed in part the granting of the plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment. The court affirmed the judgment on the plaintiffs' claim that they paid a loan discount fee but were not provided a loan discount. It reversed the judgment on the plaintiffs' claim that they were overcharged for settlement services and remanded that claim for trial. The court also held that, in light of the Pennsylvania district court's injunction against class proceedings having been vacated in September 2010, the trial court may on remand consider the issue of class certification. In August 2012, the North Carolina Supreme Court granted our petition for discretionary review of the decision of the North Carolina Court of Appeals. The appeal was argued in January 2013. In August 2013, the North Carolina Supreme Court reversed the decision of the Court of Appeals and remanded the case to the Superior Court for further proceedings. In September 2013, after the other plaintiff voluntarily dismissed his case, the remaining plaintiff filed a motion for leave to amend his complaint in the trial court. The plaintiff's remaining claims, as reflected in the proposed amended complaint, relate exclusively to the loan discount fee.

Overdraft Litigation

Beginning in October 2009, PNC Bank, National City Bank and RBC Bank (USA) have been named in lawsuits brought as class actions relating to the manner in which they charged overdraft fees on ATM and debit transactions to customers and related matters. All but two of these lawsuits, both pending against RBC Bank (USA), have been settled. The following is a description of the remaining pending lawsuits.

The pending lawsuits naming RBC Bank (USA), along with similar lawsuits pending against numerous other banks, have been consolidated for pre-trial proceedings in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida (the "MDL Court") under the caption In re Checking Account Overdraft Litigation (MDL No. 2036, Case No. 1:09-MD-02036-JLK). A consolidated amended complaint was filed in December 2010 that consolidated all of the claims in these MDL Court cases. The first case against RBC Bank (USA) pending in the MDL Court (Dasher v. RBC Bank (10-cv-22190-JLK)) was filed in July 2010 in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida. The other case against RBC Bank (USA) (Avery v. RBC Bank (Case No. 10-cv-329)) was originally filed in North Carolina state court in July 2010 and was removed to the United States District Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina before being transferred to the MDL Court. An amended complaint was filed in Avery in August 2010.

These cases seek to certify multi-state classes of customers for the common law claims described below (covering all states in which RBC Bank (USA) had retail branch operations during the class periods), and subclasses of RBC Bank (USA) customers with accounts in North Carolina branches, with each subclass being asserted for purposes of claims under those states' consumer protection statutes. No class periods are stated in any of the complaints, other than for the applicable statutes of limitations, which vary by state and claim.

The customer agreements with the plaintiffs in these two cases contain arbitration provisions. RBC Bank (USA)'s original motion in Dasher to compel arbitration under these provisions was denied by the MDL Court. This denial was appealed to the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit. While this appeal was pending, the United States Supreme Court issued its decision in AT&T Mobility v. Concepcion, following which the court of appeals vacated the MDL Court's denial of the arbitration motion and remanded to the MDL Court for further consideration in light of the Concepcion decision. RBC Bank (USA)'s motion to compel arbitration, now covering both Dasher and Avery, was denied in January 2013. We appealed the denial of the motion to the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit, which, in February 2014, affirmed the order of the district court denying arbitration. We filed a motion asking the court of appeals to reconsider its decision, which it denied in March 2014. In April 2014, we filed a motion asking the court of appeals to stay its ruling pending the filing of a petition for a writ of certiorari with the U.S. Supreme Court. The court of appeals granted our motion later in April 2014 and stayed its ruling until July 2014. We filed a petition for a writ of certiorari in June 2014, which was denied in October 2014. Accordingly, the stay of the court of appeals' ruling is no longer in effect. In December 2014, we filed a motion to dismiss the complaint.

The complaints in each of these lawsuits allege that the banks engaged in unlawful practices in assessing overdraft fees arising from electronic point-of-sale and ATM debits. The principal practice challenged in these lawsuits is the banks' purportedly common policy of posting debit transactions on a daily basis from highest amount to lowest amount, thereby allegedly inflating the number of overdraft fees assessed. Other practices challenged include the failure to decline to honor debit card transactions where the account has insufficient funds to cover the transactions.

The plaintiffs assert claims for unconscionability; unjust enrichment; and violation of the consumer protection statute of North Carolina. In the Dasher complaint, the plaintiffs also assert claims for a breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing and for conversion. The plaintiffs seek, among other things, restitution of overdraft fees paid, unspecified actual and punitive damages (with actual damages, in some cases, trebled under state law), pre-judgment interest, attorneys' fees, and declaratory relief finding the overdraft policies to be unfair and unconscionable.

Fulton Financial

In 2009, Fulton Financial Advisors, N.A. filed lawsuits against PNC Capital Markets, LLC and NatCity Investments, Inc. in the Court of Common Pleas of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania arising out of Fulton's purchase of auction rate certificates (ARCs) through PNC and NatCity. Each of the lawsuits alleges violations of the Pennsylvania Securities Act, negligent misrepresentation, negligence, breach of fiduciary duty, common law fraud, and aiding and abetting common law fraud in connection with the purchase of the ARCs by Fulton. Specifically, Fulton alleges that, as a result of the decline of financial markets in 2007 and 2008, the market for ARCs became illiquid; that PNC and NatCity knew or should have known of the increasing threat of the ARC market becoming illiquid; and that PNC and NatCity did not inform Fulton of this increasing threat, but allowed Fulton to continue to purchase ARCs, to Fulton's detriment. In its complaints, Fulton alleges that it then held ARCs purchased through PNC for a price of more than $123 million and purchased through

NatCity for a price of more than $175 million. In each complaint, Fulton seeks, among other things, unspecified actual and punitive damages, rescission, attorneys' fees and interest.

In the case against PNC (Fulton Financial Advisors, N.A. v. PNC Capital Markets, LLC (CI 09-10838)), PNC filed preliminary objections to Fulton's complaint, which were denied. NatCity removed the case against it to the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania (Fulton Financial Advisors, N.A. v. NatCity Investments, Inc. (No. 5:09-cv-04855)), and in November 2009 filed a motion to dismiss the complaint. In October 2013, the court granted the motion to dismiss with respect to claims under the Pennsylvania Securities Act and for negligent misrepresentation, common law fraud, and aiding and abetting common law fraud and denied the motion with respect to claims for negligence and breach of fiduciary duty. Fulton filed an amended complaint in December 2013, reasserting its negligence and breach of fiduciary duty claims and adding a new claim under the Pennsylvania Securities Act. Fulton and NatCity filed motions for summary judgment in February 2015.

Weavering Macro Fixed Income Fund

In July 2009, the liquidators of the Weavering Macro Fixed Income Fund Limited ("Weavering") issued a Plenary Summons in the High Court, Dublin, Ireland, in connection with the provision of administration services to Weavering by a European subsidiary of PNC Global Investment Servicing ("PNC GIS"), then a subsidiary of PNC. The Plenary Summons was served on the PNC GIS subsidiary ("GIS Europe") on or about June 30, 2010.

In July 2010, PNC completed the sale of PNC GIS to The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation ("BNY Mellon"), pursuant to a stock purchase agreement dated February 1, 2010. In May 2011, BNY Mellon provided notice to PNC of an indemnification claim pursuant to the stock purchase agreement related to this litigation. PNC's responsibility for this litigation was subject to the terms and limitations included in the indemnification provisions of the stock purchase agreement.

In November 2014, the parties reached a settlement of this litigation. The settlement is conditioned on court approval in the Cayman Islands, where Weavering was organized. The Cayman Islands court approved the settlement in February 2015. The amount of the settlement is not material to PNC.

In its Notice of Intention to Proceed and Statement of Claim, which the liquidator served in May 2011, the liquidator alleged, among other things, that GIS Europe breached its contractual duties to Weavering as well as an alleged duty of care to Weavering, and investors in Weavering, and made claims of breach of the administration and accounting services agreement, negligence, gross negligence, breach of duty, misrepresentation and negligent misstatement. The statement of claim further alleged that investors in Weavering lost approximately €282,000,000 and that, in addition, expended approximately €98,000,000 in brokerage and exchange commissions, interest, and fees as a result of the transactions at issue. The statement of claim sought, among other things, damages, costs, and interest. In January 2014, in response to a motion made by GIS Europe, the court entered a consent order adjourning the motion and staying the plaintiff's claims until the plaintiff complies in full with its discovery obligations. The plaintiff was required to complete its production by early July 2014, but, in that month, the court extended the deadline for doing so until December 2014.

Captive Mortgage Reinsurance Litigation

In December 2011, a lawsuit (White, et al. v. The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc., et al. (Civil Action No. 11-7928)) was filed against PNC (as successor in interest to National City Corporation and several of its subsidiaries) and several mortgage insurance companies in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. This lawsuit, which was brought as a class action, alleges that National City structured its program of reinsurance of private mortgage insurance in such a way as to avoid a true transfer of risk from the mortgage insurers to National City's captive reinsurer. The plaintiffs allege that the payments from the mortgage insurers to the captive reinsurer constitute kickbacks, referral payments, or unearned fee splits prohibited under the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA), as well as common law unjust enrichment. The plaintiffs claim, among other things, that from the beginning of 2004 until the end of 2010 National City's captive reinsurer collected from the mortgage insurance company defendants at least $219 million as its share of borrowers' private mortgage insurance premiums and that its share of paid claims during this period was approximately $12 million. The plaintiffs seek to certify a nationwide class of all persons who obtained residential mortgage loans originated, funded or originated through correspondent lending by National City or any of its subsidiaries or affiliates between January 1, 2004 and the present and, in connection with these mortgage loans, purchased private mortgage insurance and whose residential mortgage loans were included within National City's captive mortgage reinsurance arrangements. Plaintiffs seek, among other things, statutory damages under RESPA (which include treble damages), restitution of reinsurance premiums collected, disgorgement of profits, and attorneys' fees. In August 2012, the district court directed the plaintiffs to file an amended complaint, which the plaintiffs filed in September 2012. In November 2012, we filed a motion to dismiss the amended complaint. The court dismissed, without prejudice, the amended complaint in June 2013 on statute of limitations grounds. A second amended complaint, in response to the court's dismissal order, was filed in July 2013. We filed a motion to dismiss the second amended complaint, also in July 2013. In August 2014, the court denied the motion to dismiss.

Table of Contents

We then filed an uncontested motion to stay all proceedings pending the outcome of another matter currently on appeal before the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit that involves overlapping issues. In September 2014, the district court granted the stay. In October 2014, the court of appeals decided that other matter, holding that the RESPA claims in that case were barred by the statute of limitations. We then filed a motion for reconsideration of the denial of our motion to dismiss in light of the court of appeals' decision. In January 2015, the district court denied our motion.

Residential Mortgage-Backed Securities Indemnification Demands

We have received indemnification demands from several entities sponsoring residential mortgage-backed securities and their affiliates where purchasers of the securities have brought litigation against the sponsors and other parties involved in the securitization transactions. National City Mortgage had sold whole loans to the sponsors or their affiliates that were allegedly included in certain of these securitization transactions. According to the indemnification demands, the plaintiffs' claims in these lawsuits are based on alleged misstatements and omissions in the offering documents for these transactions. The indemnification demands assert that agreements governing the sale of these loans or the securitization transactions to which National City Mortgage was a party require us to indemnify the sponsors and their affiliates for losses suffered in connection with these lawsuits. The parties have settled several of these cases. There has not been any determination that the parties seeking indemnification have any liability to the plaintiffs in the other lawsuits and the amount, if any for which we are responsible in the settled cases has not been determined.

Lender Placed Insurance Litigation

In June 2013, a lawsuit (Lauren vs. PNC Bank, N.A., et al.(Case No. 2:14-cv-00230)) was filed in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, subsequently transferred to the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio, against PNC Bank and American Security Insurance Company ("ASIC"), a provider of property and casualty insurance to PNC for certain residential mortgages. This lawsuit, which was brought as a class action, alleges, with respect to PNC Bank, that it breached alleged contractual (including the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing) and fiduciary duties to residential mortgage borrowers, and, as to Ohio borrowers, violated the Ohio Consumer Sales Practice Act, all in connection with the administration of PNC Bank's program for placement of insurance for borrowers who fail to obtain hazard insurance coverages required by the terms of their mortgages. The plaintiff alleges, among other things, that defendants placed insurance in unnecessary and excessive amounts and that PNC Bank improperly profited from these arrangements, principally as a result of the payment of commissions to PNC Bank and of reinsurance arrangements between PNC and the insurance provider. The plaintiff originally sought to certify a nationwide class and an Ohio sub-class of all persons who, during applicable periods, have or had a residential mortgage loan or line of credit with PNC Bank, and had hazard insurance placed upon the property by PNC Bank. The plaintiff seeks, among other things, damages, restitution or disgorgement of profits improperly obtained, injunctive relief, interest, and attorneys' fees. In October 2013, the court ruled on our motion to dismiss the complaint, granting our motion with respect to the Ohio Consumer Sales Practice Act claim and otherwise denying the motion. We filed a motion seeking reconsideration of the denial as to the fiduciary duty claim, which motion was denied in November 2013. In January 2014, the court granted ASIC's motion to dismiss the nationwide class action allegations with respect to the state common law claim of unjust enrichment pending against ASIC. Later in January 2014, PNC Bank filed a similar motion to dismiss the nationwide class action allegations, on the same grounds as asserted in ASIC's motion to dismiss, with respect to the state common law claims of breach of contract, breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, and breach of fiduciary duty pending against PNC Bank. The plaintiff thereafter agreed to withdraw those allegations. In February 2014, the court entered an order dismissing the plaintiff's nationwide class action allegations with regard to all remaining claims against PNC, thereby leaving an Ohio-only class sought by plaintiff as to those claims. Also in February 2014, the court on its own motion transferred the matter to the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio, and the plaintiff moved to amend her complaint to, among other things, assert a nationwide RICO claim on behalf of the class. In May 2014, the court granted the plaintiff's motion to amend her complaint, with the understanding that defendants may pursue their arguments against the viability of this claim by way of a motion to dismiss. In June 2014, the defendants moved to dismiss the amended complaint. The motion is pending.

In February and March 2014, two additional class action lawsuits were filed. One of them (Montoya, et al. v. PNC Bank, N.A., et al., Case No. 1:14-cv-20474-JEM) was filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida against PNC Bank, ASIC and its parent, Assurant, Inc. The other case (Tighe v. PNC Bank, N.A., et al., Case No. 14-CV-2017) was filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York against these same parties as well as Alpine Indemnity Limited, a reinsurance subsidiary of PNC. The allegations of these complaints are similar to those found in the Lauren complaint. In May 2014, the Tighe lawsuit was transferred to the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio. In June 2014, the Tighe plaintiff filed a notice of voluntary dismissal without prejudice, thereby terminating that action.

In the complaint, the plaintiffs in Montoya assert breach of contract by PNC, breach of its duty of good faith and fair dealing, unjust enrichment, breach of a fiduciary duty, and violations of Florida and New Jersey statutes pertaining to deceptive and unfair trade practices. These plaintiffs also assert claims under the federal TILA and RICO statutes. The plaintiffs seek a nationwide class on all claims except the state law statutory claims, for which they seek to certify subclasses of Florida and New Jersey residents, respectively. The plaintiffs seek, among other things, damages (including treble damages), disgorgement of "unjust benefits," injunctive relief, interest and attorneys' fees. PNC filed a motion to dismiss the complaint in Montoya in May 2014. In August 2014, the court in Montoya granted in part and denied in part PNC's motion to dismiss. Specifically, the court dismissed the breach of contract, Florida deceptive and unfair trade practices, and federal TILA and RICO claims, although it allowed the RICO claims to be re-pled. The remaining claims are state claims for breach of the covenant of good faith, unjust enrichment, the New Jersey Consumer Fraud Act, and breach of fiduciary duty. Thereafter, in September 2014, on plaintiffs' uncontested motions, the Lauren lawsuit was voluntarily dismissed and a third amended complaint in Montoya was filed adding Lauren as a plaintiff there. In October 2014, PNC moved to partially dismiss the third amended complaint. The motion to dismiss seeks dismissal of the re-pleaded RICO claims and plaintiff Lauren's state law claims for breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing and breach of fiduciary duty. At the same time, PNC also moved to strike nationwide class allegations with respect to the state law claims. Shortly thereafter, the plaintiffs stipulated to this relief, as a result of which the plaintiffs' state law claims are now being brought solely as statewide class action claims in the three states in which the plaintiffs reside. In January 2015, the plaintiffs filed a motion for class certification.

Patent Infringement Litigation

In June 2013, a lawsuit (Intellectual Ventures I LLC and Intellectual Ventures II LLC vs. PNC Financial Services Group, Inc., and PNC Bank, NA, Case No. 2:13-cv-00740-AJS) was filed in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania against PNC and PNC Bank for patent infringement. The plaintiffs allege that multiple systems by which PNC and PNC Bank provide online banking services and other services via electronic means infringe five patents owned by the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs seek, among other things, a declaration that PNC and PNC Bank are infringing each of the patents, damages for past and future infringement, and attorneys' fees. In July 2013, we filed an answer with counterclaims, denying liability and seeking declarations that the asserted patents are invalid and that PNC has not infringed them. In November 2013, PNC filed Covered Business Method/Post Grant Review petitions in the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office ("PTO") seeking to invalidate all five of the patents. In December 2013, the court dismissed the plaintiffs' claims as to two of the patents and entered a stay of the lawsuit pending the PTO's consideration of PNC's review petitions, including any appeals from decisions of the PTO. The PTO instituted review proceedings in May 2014 on four of the five patents at issue, finding that the subject matter of those patents was "more likely than not" unpatentable. The court previously dismissed the plaintiffs' claims with respect to the one patent not selected for review by the PTO.

In June 2014, Intellectual Ventures filed a second lawsuit (Intellectual Ventures I LLC and Intellectual Ventures II LLC v PNC Bank Financial Services Group, Inc., PNC Bank NA, and PNC Merchant Services Company, LP, Case No. 2:14-cv-00832-AKS) in the same court as the first lawsuit. This lawsuit alleges that PNC defendants infringed five patents, including the patent dismissed in the first lawsuit that is not subject to PTO review, and relates generally to the same technology and subject matter as the first lawsuit. The court has stayed this case pending the PTO's consideration of various review petitions of the patents at issue in this case, as well as the review of the patents at issue in the first lawsuit and the appeals from any PTO decisions.

Mortgage Repurchase Litigation

In December 2013, Residential Funding Company, LLC ("RFC") filed a lawsuit in the United States District Court for the District of Minnesota against PNC Bank, N.A., as alleged successor in interest to National City Mortgage Co., NCMC Newco, Inc., and North Central Financial Corporation (Residential Funding Company, LLC v. PNC Bank, N.A., et al. (Civil No. 13-3498- JRT-JSM)). In its complaint, RFC alleges that PNC Bank (through predecessors) sold $6.5 billion worth of residential mortgage loans to RFC during the timeframe at issue (approximately May 2006 through September 2008), a portion of which were allegedly materially defective, resulting in damages and losses to RFC. RFC alleges that PNC Bank breached representations and warranties made under seller contracts in connection with these sales. The complaint asserts claims for breach of contract and indemnification. RFC seeks, among other things, monetary damages, costs, and attorney's fees. In March 2014, we filed a motion to dismiss the complaint. RFC then filed an amended complaint, as well as a motion to transfer the lawsuit to the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. In April 2014, we moved to dismiss the amended complaint. In June 2014, RFC withdrew its motion to transfer the lawsuit. In October 2014, the court granted our motion to dismiss with prejudice the breach of contract claims in the complaint with respect to loans sold before May 14, 2006 and otherwise denied our motion to dismiss.

Pre-need Funeral Arrangements

National City Bank and PNC Bank are defendants in a lawsuit pending in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri under the caption Jo Ann Howard, P C., et al. v. Cassity, et al. (No. 4:09-CV-1252-ERW) arising out of trustee services provided by Allegiant Bank, a National City Bank and PNC Bank predecessor, with respect to Missouri trusts that held pre-need funeral contract assets. Under a pre-need funeral contract, a customer pays an amount up front in exchange for payment of funeral expenses following the customer's death. In a number of states, including Missouri, pre-need funeral contract sellers are required to deposit a portion of the proceeds of the sale of pre-need funeral contracts in a trust account.

The lawsuit was filed in August 2009 by the Special Deputy Receiver for three insolvent affiliated companies, National Prearranged Services, Inc. a seller of pre-need funeral contracts (NPS), Lincoln Memorial Life Insurance Company (Lincoln), and Memorial Service Life Insurance Company (Memorial). Seven individual state life and health insurance guaranty associations, who claim they are liable under state law for payment of certain benefits under life insurance policies sold by Lincoln and Memorial, and the National Organization of Life & Health Guaranty Associations have also joined the action as plaintiffs. In addition to National City Bank and PNC Bank (added following filing of the lawsuit as successor-in-interest to National City Bank), other defendants included members of the Cassity family, who controlled NPS, Lincoln, and Memorial; officers and directors of NPS, Lincoln, and Memorial; auditors and attorneys for NPS, Lincoln, and Memorial; the trustees of each of the trusts that held pre-need funeral contract assets; and the investment advisor to the Pre-need Trusts. NPS retained several banks to act as trustees for the trusts holding NPS pre-need funeral contract assets (the "NPS Trusts"), with Allegiant Bank acting as one of these trustees with respect to seven Missouri NPS Trusts. All of the other defendants have settled with the plaintiffs, are otherwise no longer a party to the lawsuit, or are insolvent.

In their Third Amended Complaint, filed in 2012 following the granting by the court in part of motions to dismiss made by National City Bank and the other NPS Trust trustees, the plaintiffs allege that Allegiant Bank breached its fiduciary duties and acted negligently as the trustee for the Missouri NPS Trusts. In part as a result of these breaches, the plaintiffs allege, members of the Cassity family, acting in concert with other defendants, were able to improperly remove millions of dollars from the NPS Trusts, which in turn caused NPS, Lincoln, and Memorial to become insolvent. The complaint alleges $600 million in present and future losses to the plaintiffs due to the insolvency of NPS, Lincoln, and Memorial. The lawsuit seeks, among other things, unspecified actual and punitive damages, various equitable remedies including restitution, attorneys' fees, costs of suit and interest.

In July 2013, five of the six defendants in a parallel federal criminal action, including two members of the Cassity family, entered into plea agreements with the United States to resolve criminal charges arising out of their conduct at NPS, Lincoln and Memorial. In August 2013, after a jury trial, the sixth defendant, the investment advisor to the NPS Trusts, was convicted on all criminal counts against him. The criminal charges against the defendants alleged, among other thing, a scheme to defraud Allegiant Bank and the other trustees of the NPS Trusts.

In May 2014, the court granted the plaintiffs' motion to disallow National City Bank's affirmative defense relating to the plaintiffs' alleged failure to mitigate damages. In July 2014, National City Bank's motion for reconsideration was denied. In September 2014, the plaintiffs filed a motion seeking leave to amend their complaint to reassert aiding and abetting claims, previously dismissed by the court in 2012. The court denied this motion in December 2014. Also in December 2014, the court granted in part and denied in part National City Bank's motion for summary judgment.

A jury trial in this case began in February 2015.

Other Regulatory and Governmental Inquiries

PNC is the subject of investigations, audits and other forms of regulatory and governmental inquiry covering a broad range of issues in our banking, securities and other financial services businesses, in some cases as part of reviews of specified activities at multiple industry participants. Over the last few years, we have experienced an increase in regulatory and governmental investigations, audits and other inquiries. Areas of current regulatory or governmental inquiry with respect to PNC include consumer protection, fair lending, mortgage origination and servicing, mortgage and non mortgage-related insurance and reinsurance, municipal finance activities, conduct by broker-dealers, automobile lending practices, and participation in government insurance or guarantee programs, some of which are described below. These inquiries, including those described below, may lead to administrative, civil or criminal proceedings, and possibly result in remedies including fines, penalties, restitution, or alterations in our business practices, and in additional expenses and collateral costs.

- One area of significant regulatory and governmental focus has been mortgage lending and servicing. Numerous federal and state governmental, legislative and regulatory authorities are investigating practices in this area. PNC has received inquiries from, or is the subject of investigations by, a broad range of governmental, legislative and regulatory authorities relating to our activities in this area and is cooperating with these investigations and inquiries. As a result of the number and range of authorities conducting the investigations and inquiries, as well as the nature of these types of investigations and inquiries, among other factors, PNC cannot at this time predict the ultimate overall cost to or effect on PNC from potential governmental, legislative or regulatory actions arising out of these investigations and inquiries.
    - In April 2011, as a result of a publicly-disclosed interagency horizontal review of residential mortgage servicing operations at fourteen federally regulated mortgage servicers, PNC entered into a consent order with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and PNC Bank entered into a consent order with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Collectively, these consent orders describe certain foreclosure-related practices and controls that the regulators found to be deficient and require PNC and PNC Bank to, among other things, develop and implement plans and programs to enhance PNC's residential mortgage servicing and foreclosure processes, retain an independent consultant to review certain residential mortgage foreclosure actions, take certain remedial actions, and oversee compliance with the orders and the new plans and programs. The two orders do not foreclose the potential for civil money penalties from either of these regulators, although the range of potential penalties communicated to PNC by the regulators in connection with the agreements described below is not material to PNC.

In connection with these orders, PNC established a Compliance Committee of the Boards of PNC and PNC Bank to monitor and coordinate PNC's and PNC Bank's implementation of the commitments under the orders. PNC and PNC Bank are executing Action Plans designed to meet the requirements of the orders. Consistent with the orders, PNC also engaged an independent consultant to conduct a review of certain residential foreclosure actions, including those identified through borrower complaints, and identify whether any remedial actions for borrowers are necessary.

In early 2013, PNC and PNC Bank, along with twelve other residential mortgage servicers, reached agreements with the OCC and the Federal Reserve to amend these consent orders. Pursuant to the amended consent orders, in order to accelerate the remediation process, PNC agreed to make a payment of approximately $70 million for distribution to potentially affected borrowers in the review population and to provide approximately $111 million in additional loss mitigation or other foreclosure prevention relief, which may be satisfied pursuant to the amended consent orders by a variety of borrower relief actions or by additional cash payments or resource commitments to borrower counseling or education. Fulfillment of these commitments will satisfy all of PNC's and PNC Bank's obligations under the consent orders in connection with the independent foreclosure review. We do not expect any additional financial charges related to the amendment to the consent orders to be material. PNC's and PNC Bank's obligations to comply with the remaining provisions of the consent orders remain.

- In February 2012, the Department of Justice, other federal regulators and 49 state attorneys general announced agreements with the five largest mortgage servicers. Written agreements were filed with the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York in March 2012. Under these agreements, the mortgage servicers will make cash payments to federal and state governments, provide various forms of financial relief to borrowers, and implement new mortgage servicing standards. These governmental authorities are continuing their review of, and have engaged in discussions with, other mortgage servicers, including PNC, that were subject to the interagency horizontal review, which could result in the imposition of substantial payments and other forms of relief (similar to that agreed to by the five largest servicers) on some or all of these mortgage servicers, including PNC. Whether and to what extent any such relief may be imposed on PNC is not yet known.
- PNC has received subpoenas from the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York. The first two subpoenas, served in 2011, concern National City Bank's lending practices in connection with loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) as well as certain non-FHA-insured loan origination, sale and securitization practices, and a third, served in 2013, seeks information regarding claims for costs that are incurred by foreclosure counsel in connection with the foreclosure of loans insured or guaranteed by FHA, FNMA, or FHLMC. PNC is cooperating with the investigations.
- The Department of Justice, Consumer Protection Bureau, served a subpoena on PNC in 2013 seeking information concerning the return rate for certain merchant and payment processor customers with whom PNC has a depository relationship. We believe that the subpoena is intended to determine whether, and to what extent, PNC may have facilitated fraud committed by third-parties against consumers. We are cooperating with the subpoena.
- Through the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Maryland, the office of the Inspector General for the Small Business Administration ("SBA") served a subpoena on PNC in 2012 requesting documents concerning PNC's relationship with, including SBA-guaranteed loans made through, a broker named Jade Capital Investments, LLC ("Jade"), as well as information regarding other PNC-originated SBA guaranteed loans made to businesses located in the State of Maryland, the Commonwealth of Virginia, and Washington, DC. Certain of the Jade loans have been identified in an indictment and subsequent superseding indictment charging persons associated with Jade with conspiracy to commit bank fraud, substantive violations of the federal bank fraud statute, and money laundering. PNC is cooperating with the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Maryland.

Our practice is to cooperate fully with regulatory and governmental investigations, audits and other inquiries, including those described in this Note 21.

Other

In addition to the proceedings or other matters described above, PNC and persons to whom we may have indemnification obligations, in the normal course of business, are subject to various other pending and threatened legal proceedings in which claims for monetary damages and other relief are asserted. We do not anticipate, at the present time, that the ultimate aggregate liability, if any, arising out of such other legal proceedings will have a material adverse effect on our financial position. However, we cannot now determine whether or not any claims asserted against us or others to whom we may have indemnification obligations, whether in the proceedings or other matters described above or otherwise, will have a material adverse effect on our results of operations in any future reporting period, which will depend on, among other things, the amount of the loss resulting from the claim and the amount of income otherwise reported for the reporting period.

See Note 22 Commitments and Guarantees for additional information regarding the Visa indemnification and our other obligations to provide indemnification, including to current and former officers, directors, employees and agents of PNC and companies we have acquired.

Net outstanding standby letters of credit (a)	9,991	10,521
Total credit commitments	$149,678	$140,391

(a) Net outstanding standby letters of credit include $5.2 billion and $6.6 billion which support remarketing programs at December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively.

Net Unfunded Loan Commitments

Commitments to extend credit represent arrangements to lend funds or provide liquidity subject to specified contractual conditions. These commitments generally have fixed expiration dates, may require payment of a fee, and contain termination clauses in the event the customer's credit quality deteriorates. Based on our historical experience, some commitments expire unfunded, and therefore cash requirements are substantially less than the total commitment.

Net Outstanding Standby Letters of Credit

We issue standby letters of credit and have risk participations in standby letters of credit issued by other financial institutions, in each case to support obligations of our customers to third parties, such as insurance requirements and the facilitation of transactions involving capital markets product execution. Internal credit ratings related to our net outstanding standby letters of credit were as follows:

Table 149: Internal Credit Ratings Related to Net Outstanding Standby Letters of Credit

Internal credit ratings (as a percentage of portfolio):
Pass (a)	95%	96%
Below pass (b)	5%	4%

If the customer fails to meet its financial or performance obligation to the third party under the terms of the contract or there is a need to support a remarketing program, then upon a draw by a beneficiary, subject to the terms of the letter of credit, we would be obligated to make payment to them. The standby letters of credit outstanding on December 31, 2014 had terms ranging from less than 1 year to 8 years.

As of December 31, 2014, assets of $1.0 billion secured certain specifically identified standby letters of credit. In addition, a portion of the remaining standby letters of credit issued on behalf of specific customers is also secured by collateral or guarantees that secure the customers' other obligations to us. The carrying amount of the liability for our obligations related to standby letters of credit and participations in standby letters of credit was $182 million at December 31, 2014 and is included in Other liabilities on our Consolidated Balance Sheet.

6. The Disclosing Party understands and shall comply with the applicable requirements of Chapters 2-55 (Legislative Inspector General), 2-56 (Inspector General) and 2-156 (Governmental Ethics) of the Municipal Code.

7. If the Disclosing Party is unable to certify to any of the above statements in this Part B (Further Certifications), the Disclosing Party must explain below:

See Attachment B

If the letters "NA," the word "None," or no response appears on the lines above, it will be conclusively presumed that the Disclosing Party certified to the above statements.

8. To the best of the Disclosing Party's knowledge after reasonable inquiry, the following is a complete list of all current employees of the Disclosing Party who were, at any time during the 12-month period preceding the execution date of this EDS, an employee, or elected or appointed official, of the City of Chicago (if none, indicate with "N/A" or "none").

This Attachment B modifies and supplements the information provided in the City of Chicago Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit executed by the Disclosing Party as of July 20, 2015 (the "EDS"). Any capitalized term used in this Attachment B will have the definition set forth in the EDS, except as provided below.

SECTION III: BUSINESS RELATIONSHIPS WITH CITY ELECTED OFFICIALS

To the best knowledge of the Disclosing Party, after reasonable inquiry, the Disclosing Party has not had a "business relationship," as defined in Chapter 2-156 of the Municipal Code, with any City elected official in the 12 months ending on the date that the Disclosing Party executed the EDS. For purposes of this certification, the term "City elected official" is treated as including only the City's Mayor, Aldermen, Treasurer and Clerk and not including their spouses, domestic partners (as defined in Chapter 2-156 of the Municipal Code) or any entity in which any such person has an interest.

SECTION V – CERTIFICATIONS

B. FURTHER CERTIFICATIONS

The Disclosing Party certifies that, as of the date that the Disclosing Party executed the EDS, to the best of its knowledge, after reasonable inquiry, the statements contained in Section V, paragraphs B.2.a through and including B.2.e are accurate with respect to the officers and managers of the Disclosing Party. With respect to Section V, paragraphs B.2.b, c and e, the Disclosing Party hereby makes reference to the information on legal proceedings set forth in the filings made by its parent company, The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc., with the Securities and Exchange Commission, which may be found at www.sec.gov or www.pnc.com/secfilings. Copies of the most current such disclosures are attached as Annex I to this Attachment B. The Disclosing Party certifies that none of the judgments set forth therein, individually or in the aggregate, would have a material adverse effect on the Applicant's ability to perform with respect to the Matter.

The Disclosing Party certifies that, as of the date that the Disclosing Party executed the EDS, to the best of its knowledge, after reasonable inquiry, the statements contained in Section V, paragraphs B.3.a through and including B.3.d and B.4 are accurate with respect to any Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party or any responsible official of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity or any other official or employee of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity pursuant to the direction or authorization of a responsible official of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity. The Disclosing Party makes no certification concerning any agent of the Disclosing Party or any Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party nor concerning any partner of any Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party, except to the extent that such partner is also an Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party.

For purposes of the certifications contained in the EDS as modified in this Attachment B: The term "Affiliated Entity" does not include BlackRock, Inc. or any of its subsidiaries or other affiliates (as such term is defined for purposes of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended), except to the extent that such entity would be an Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party for any other reason.

D. INTEREST IN CITY BUSINESS

As to the disclosure set forth in Section V, paragraph D.1., to the best knowledge of the Disclosing Party, after reasonable inquiry, no official or employee of the City of Chicago has a financial interest in his or her own name or in the name of any other person in the Matter.

As to the disclosure set forth in Section V, paragraph D.4., the Disclosing Party only certifies that no official or employee of the City of Chicago will acquire a prohibited financial interest in the Matter from the Disclosing Party, any Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party or any responsible official of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity or any other official or employee of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity pursuant to the direction or authorization of a responsible official of the Disclosing Party or any such Affiliated Entity acting in such capacity.

E. CERTIFICATION REGARDING SLAVERY ERA BUSINESS

The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. extensively reviewed the historical records of banks it has acquired and has discovered two instances in the records of the National Bank of Kentucky, a predecessor of PNC Bank, National Association, an Affiliated Entity of the Disclosing Party.

In 1836, the National Bank of Kentucky loaned $200,000 to the City of Louisville. Records indicate the City then invested in the Lexington & Ohio Railroad Company.

In 1852, the National Bank of Kentucky loaned $135,000 to the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company.

Research indicates that both railroads employed forced labor. There is no evidence that the National Bank of Kentucky accepted individuals as collateral for either loan, or otherwise directly profited from slavery.

NOTE 14 INCOME TAXES

Table 111: Net Operating Loss Carryforwards and Tax Credit Carryforwards

In millions	March 31 2015	December 31 2014
Net Operating Loss Carryforwards:
Federal	$ 977	$ 997
State	$2,536	$ 2,594
Tax Credit Carryforwards:
Federal	$ 35	$ 35
State	$ 7	$ 7

The federal net operating loss carryforwards expire in 2032. The state net operating loss carryforwards will expire from 2015 to 2031. The majority of the tax credit carryforwards expire in 2032. All federal and most state net operating loss and credit carryforwards are from acquired entities and utilization is subject to various statutory limitations. It is anticipated that the company will be able to fully utilize its carryforwards for federal tax purposes, but a valuation allowance of $65 million has been recorded against certain state tax carryforwards as of March 31, 2015. If select uncertain tax positions were successfully challenged by a state, the state net operating losses listed above could be reduced by $60 million.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is currently examining PNC's 2011 through 2013 returns. National City's consolidated federal income tax returns through 2008 have been audited by the IRS. Certain adjustments remain under review by the IRS Appeals Division for years 2004 through 2008.

The Company had unrecognized tax benefits of $83 million at March 31, 2015 and $77 million at December 31, 2014. At March 31, 2015, $68 million of unrecognized tax benefits, if recognized, would favorably impact the effective income tax rate.

It is reasonably possible that the balance of unrecognized tax benefits could increase or decrease in the next twelve months due to completion of tax authorities' exams or the expiration of statutes of limitations. Management estimates that the balance of unrecognized tax benefits could decrease by $58 million within the next twelve months.

During the three months ended March 31, 2015, we recognized $51 million of amortization, $55 million of tax credits, and $19 million of other tax benefits associated with qualified investments in low income housing tax credits within Income taxes.

NOTE 15 LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

We establish accruals for legal proceedings, including litigation and regulatory and governmental investigations and inquiries, when information related to the loss contingencies represented by those matters indicates both that a loss is probable and that the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. Any such accruals are adjusted thereafter as appropriate to reflect changed circumstances. When we are able to do so, we also determine estimates of possible losses or ranges of possible losses, whether in excess of any related accrued liability or where there is no accrued liability, for disclosed legal proceedings ("Disclosed Matters," which are those matters disclosed in this Note 15 as well as those matters disclosed in Note 21 Legal Proceedings in Part II, Item 8 of our 2014 Form 10-K (such prior disclosure referred to as "Prior Disclosure")). For Disclosed Matters where we are able to estimate such possible losses or ranges of possible losses, as of March 31, 2015, we estimate that it is reasonably possible that we could incur losses in an aggregate amount of up to approximately $725 million. The estimates included in this amount are based on our analysis of currently available information and are subject to significant judgment and a variety of assumptions and uncertainties. As new information is obtained we may change our estimates. Due to the inherent subjectivity of the assessments and unpredictability of outcomes of legal proceedings, any amounts accrued or included in this aggregate amount may not represent the ultimate loss to us from the legal proceedings in question. Thus, our exposure and ultimate losses may be higher, and possibly significantly so, than the amounts accrued or this aggregate amount.

In our experience, legal proceedings are inherently unpredictable. One or more of the following factors frequently contribute to this inherent unpredictability: the proceeding is in its early stages; the damages sought are unspecified, unsupported or uncertain; it is unclear whether a case brought as a class action will be allowed to proceed on that basis or, if permitted to proceed as a class action, how the class will be defined; the other party is seeking relief other than or in addition to compensatory damages (including, in the case of regulatory and governmental investigations and inquiries, the possibility of fines and penalties); the matter presents meaningful legal uncertainties, including novel issues of law; we have not engaged in meaningful settlement discussions; discovery has not started or is not complete; there are significant facts in dispute; the possible outcomes may not be amenable to the use of statistical or quantitative analytical tools; predicting possible outcomes depends on making assumptions about future decisions of courts or regulatory bodies or the behavior of other parties; and there are a large number of parties named as defendants (including where it is uncertain how damages or liability, if any, will be shared among multiple defendants). Generally, the less progress that has been made in the proceedings or the broader the range of potential results, the harder it is for us to estimate losses or ranges of losses that it is reasonably possible we could incur.

As a result of these types of factors, we are unable, at this time, to estimate the losses that it is reasonably possible that we could incur or ranges of such losses with respect to some of the matters disclosed, and the aggregate estimated amount provided above does not include an estimate for every Disclosed Matter. Therefore, as the estimated aggregate amount disclosed above does not include all of the Disclosed Matters, the amount disclosed above does not represent our maximum reasonably possible loss exposure for all of the Disclosed Matters. The estimated aggregate amount also does not reflect any of our exposure to matters not so disclosed, as discussed below under "Other."

We include in some of the descriptions of individual Disclosed Matters certain quantitative information related to the plaintiff's claim against us as alleged in the plaintiff's pleadings or other public filings or otherwise publicly available information. While information of this type may provide insight into the potential magnitude of a matter, it does not necessarily represent our estimate of reasonably possible loss or our judgment as to any currently appropriate accrual.

Some of our exposure in Disclosed Matters may be offset by applicable insurance coverage. We do not consider the possible availability of insurance coverage in determining the amounts of any accruals (although we record the amount of related insurance recoveries that are deemed probable up to the amount of the accrual) or in determining any estimates of possible losses or ranges of possible losses.

Captive Mortgage Reinsurance Litigation

In March 2015, the parties in White, et al. v. The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. et al. (Civil Action No. 11-7928), pending in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, stipulated to, and the court ordered, a stay of all proceedings pending the outcome of another matter currently on appeal before the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit that involves overlapping issues.

Lender Placed Insurance Litigation

In March 2015, in Montoya vs PNC Bank, N.A., et al.(Case No. 14-cv-20474-JG), the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida denied PNC's motion to dismiss, except that it granted the motion as to the Ohio good faith and fair dealing claim.

Mortgage Repurchase Litigation

In January 2015, the lawsuit pending in the United States District Court for the District of Minnesota under the caption Residential Funding Company, LLC v PNC Bank, N.A., et al. (Civil No. 13-3498- JRT-JSM) was consolidated for pre-trial purposes with other lawsuits pending in the District of Minnesota filed by Residential Funding Company, LLC against other originators of mortgage loans that it had purchased. The consolidated action is captioned In Re: RFC and RESCAP Liquidating Trust Litigation, Civil File No. 13-cv-3451 (SRN/JJK/HB).

Pre-need Funeral Arrangements

In March 2015, in the case pending in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri under the caption Jo Ann Howard, P C., et al. v. Cassity, et al. (No. 4:09-CV-1252-ERW), the court, after a jury trial, entered a judgment against National City Bank and PNC Bank (the PNC defendants) in the amount of $355.5 million in compensatory damages and $35.6 million in punitive damages. In April 2015, the plaintiffs filed motions with the court seeking $178.8 million in pre-judgment interest. Also, in April 2015, the PNC defendants filed motions with the court to reduce the compensatory damages by the amounts paid in settlement by other defendants, to strike the punitive damages award, for judgment as a matter of law, and for a new trial. If the PNC defendants do not obtain sufficient relief through these motions, they intend to appeal the judgment to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit.

Other Regulatory and Governmental Inquiries

PNC is the subject of investigations, audits and other forms of regulatory and governmental inquiry covering a broad range of issues in our banking, securities and other financial services businesses, in some cases as part of reviews of specified activities at multiple industry participants. Over the last few years, we have experienced an increase in regulatory and governmental investigations, audits and other inquiries. Areas of current regulatory or governmental inquiry with respect to PNC include consumer protection, fair lending, mortgage origination and servicing, mortgage and non mortgage-related insurance and reinsurance, municipal finance activities, conduct by broker-dealers, automobile lending practices, and participation in government insurance or guarantee programs, some of which are described in Prior Disclosure. These inquiries, including those described in Prior Disclosure, may lead to administrative, civil or criminal proceedings, and possibly result in remedies including fines, penalties, restitution, or alterations in our business practices, and in additional expenses and collateral costs.

Our practice is to cooperate fully with regulatory and governmental investigations, audits and other inquiries, including those described in Prior Disclosure.

Other

In addition to the proceedings or other matters described above and in Prior Disclosure, PNC and persons to whom we may have indemnification obligations, in the normal course of business, are subject to various other pending and threatened legal proceedings in which claims for monetary damages and other relief are asserted. We do not anticipate, at the present time, that the ultimate aggregate liability, if any, arising out of such other legal proceedings will have a material adverse effect on our financial position. However, we cannot now determine whether or not any claims asserted against us or others to whom we may have indemnification obligations, whether in the proceedings or other matters described above or otherwise, will have a material adverse effect on our results of operations in any future reporting period, which will depend on, among other things, the amount of the loss resulting from the claim and the amount of income otherwise reported for the reporting period.

See Note 16 Commitments and Guarantees for additional information regarding the Visa indemnification and our other obligations to provide indemnification, including to current and former officers, directors, employees and agents of PNC and companies we have acquired.

NOTE 16 COMMITMENTS AND GUARANTEES

Commitments

In the normal course of business, we have various commitments outstanding, certain of which are not included on our Consolidated Balance Sheet. The following table presents our outstanding commitments to extend credit along with significant other commitments as of March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, respectively.

Table 112: Commitments to Extend Credit and Other Commitments

In millions	March 31 2015	December 31 2014
Commitments to extend credit
Total commercial lending	$ 96,866	$ 99,837
Home equity lines of credit	17,784	17,839
Credit card	18,539	17,833
Other	4,771	4,178
Total commitments to extend credit	137,960	139,687
Net outstanding standby letters of credit (a)	9,750	9,991
Reinsurance agreements	2,428	4,297
Standby bond purchase agreements (b)	1,080	1,095
Other commitments related to equity investments (c)	970	962
Total commitments to extend credit and other commitments	$152,188	$156,032

(a) Net outstanding standby letters of credit include $5.4 billion and $5.2 billion which support remarketing programs at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, respectively.
(b) We enter into standby bond purchase agreements to support municipal bond obligations.
(c) Includes $411 million and $441 million related to investments in qualified affordable housing projects at March 31, 2015 and December 31, 2014, respectively.

Commitments to Extend Credit

Commitments to extend credit, or net unfunded loan commitments, represent arrangements to lend funds or provide liquidity subject to specified contractual conditions. These commitments generally have fixed expiration dates, may require payment of a fee, and contain termination clauses in the event the customer's credit quality deteriorates. Based on our historical experience, some commitments expire unfunded, and therefore cash requirements are substantially less than the total commitment.

Net Outstanding Standby Letters of Credit

We issue standby letters of credit and share in the risk of standby letters of credit issued by other financial institutions, in each case to support obligations of our customers to third parties, such as insurance requirements and the facilitation of transactions involving capital markets product execution. Internal credit ratings related to our net outstanding standby letters of credit were as follows:

Table 113: Internal Credit Ratings Related to Net Outstanding Standby Letters of Credit

	March 31 2015	December 31 2014
Internal credit ratings (as a percentage of portfolio):
Pass (a)	95%	95%
Below pass (b)	5%	5%

(a) Indicates that expected risk of loss is currently low.
(b) Indicates a higher degree of risk of default.

If the customer fails to meet its financial or performance obligation to the third party under the terms of the contract or there is a need to support a remarketing program, then upon a draw by a beneficiary, subject to the terms of the letter of credit, we would be obligated to make payment to them. The standby letters of credit outstanding on March 31, 2015 had terms ranging from less than 1 year to 8 years.

As of March 31, 2015, assets of $989 million secured certain specifically identified standby letters of credit. In addition, a portion of the remaining standby letters of credit issued on behalf of specific customers is also secured by collateral or guarantees that secure the customers' other obligations to us. The carrying amount of the liability for our obligations related to standby letters of credit and participations in standby letters of credit was $180 million at March 31, 2015 and is included in Other liabilities on our Consolidated Balance Sheet.

DOCUMENTS INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE

Portions of the definitive Proxy Statement of The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. to be filed pursuant to Regulation 14A for the 2015 annual meeting of shareholders (Proxy Statement) are incorporated by reference into Part III of this Form 10-K.

The principal source of parent company cash flow is the dividends it receives from its subsidiary bank, which may be impacted by the following:

- Capital needs,
- Laws and regulations,
- Corporate policies,
- Contractual restrictions, and
- Other factors.

Also, there are statutory and regulatory limitations on the ability of national banks to pay dividends or make other capital distributions. The amount available for dividend payments to the parent company by PNC Bank without prior regulatory approval was approximately $1.5 billion at December 31, 2014.

Under federal law, a bank subsidiary generally may not extend credit to, or engage in other types of covered transactions (including the purchase of assets) with, the parent company or its non-bank subsidiaries on terms and under circumstances that are not substantially the same as comparable transactions with nonaffiliates. A bank subsidiary may not extend credit to, or engage in a covered transaction with, the parent company or a non-bank subsidiary if the aggregate amount of the bank's extensions of credit and other covered transactions with the parent company or non-bank subsidiary exceeds 10% of the capital stock and surplus of such bank subsidiary or the aggregate amount of the bank's extensions of credit and other covered transactions with the parent company and all non-bank subsidiaries exceeds 20% of the capital and surplus of such bank subsidiary. Such extensions of credit, with limited exceptions, must be at least fully collateralized in accordance with specified collateralization thresholds, with the thresholds varying based on the type of assets serving as collateral. In certain circumstances, federal regulatory authorities may impose more restrictive limitations.

Federal Reserve Board regulations require depository institutions to maintain cash reserves with a Federal Reserve Bank (FRB). At December 31, 2014, the balance outstanding at the FRB was $31.4 billion.

NOTE 21 LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

We establish accruals for legal proceedings, including litigation and regulatory and governmental investigations and inquiries, when information related to the loss contingencies represented by those matters indicates both that a loss is probable and that the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. Any such accruals are adjusted thereafter as appropriate to reflect changed circumstances. When we are able to do so, we also determine estimates of possible losses or ranges of possible losses, whether in excess of any related accrued liability or where there is no accrued liability, for disclosed legal proceedings ("Disclosed Matters," which are those matters disclosed in this Note 21). For Disclosed Matters where we are able to estimate such possible losses or ranges of possible losses, as of December 31, 2014, we estimate that it is reasonably possible that we could incur losses in an aggregate amount of up to approximately $650 million. The estimates included in this amount are based on our analysis of currently available information and are subject to significant judgment and a variety of assumptions and uncertainties. As new information is obtained we may change our estimates. Due to the inherent subjectivity of the assessments and unpredictability of outcomes of legal proceedings, any amounts accrued or included in this aggregate amount may not represent the ultimate loss to us from the legal proceedings in question. Thus, our exposure and ultimate losses may be higher, and possibly significantly so, than the amounts accrued or this aggregate amount.

In our experience, legal proceedings are inherently unpredictable. One or more of the following factors frequently contribute to this inherent unpredictability: the proceeding is in its early stages; the damages sought are unspecified, unsupported or uncertain; it is unclear whether a case brought as a class action will be allowed to proceed on that basis or, if permitted to proceed as a class action, how the class will be defined; the other party is seeking relief other than or in addition to compensatory damages (including, in the case of regulatory and governmental investigations and inquiries, the possibility of fines and penalties); the matter presents meaningful legal uncertainties, including novel issues of law; we have not engaged in meaningful settlement discussions; discovery has not started or is not complete; there are significant facts in dispute; the possible outcomes may not be amenable to the use of statistical or quantitative analytical tools; predicting possible outcomes depends on making assumptions about future decisions of courts or regulatory bodies or the behavior of other parties; and there are a large number of parties named as defendants (including where it is uncertain how damages or liability, if any, will be shared among multiple defendants). Generally, the less progress that has been made in the proceedings or the broader the range of potential results, the harder it is for us to estimate losses or ranges of losses that it is reasonably possible we could incur.

As a result of these types of factors, we are unable, at this time, to estimate the losses that it is reasonably possible that we could incur or ranges of such losses with respect to some of the matters disclosed, and the aggregate estimated amount provided above does not include an estimate for every Disclosed Matter. Therefore, as the estimated aggregate amount disclosed above does not include all of the Disclosed Matters, the amount disclosed above does not represent our maximum reasonably possible loss exposure for all of the Disclosed Matters. The estimated aggregate amount also does not reflect any of our exposure to matters not so disclosed, as discussed below under "Other."

We include in some of the descriptions of individual Disclosed Matters certain quantitative information related to the plaintiff's claim against us as alleged in the plaintiff's pleadings or other public filings or otherwise publicly available information. While information of this type may provide insight into the potential magnitude of a matter, it does not necessarily represent our estimate of reasonably possible loss or our judgment as to any currently appropriate accrual.

Some of our exposure in Disclosed Matters may be offset by applicable insurance coverage. We do not consider the possible availability of insurance coverage in determining the amounts of any accruals (although we record the amount of related insurance recoveries that are deemed probable up to the amount of the accrual) or in determining any estimates of possible losses or ranges of possible losses.

Interchange Litigation

Beginning in June 2005, a series of antitrust lawsuits were filed against Visa®, MasterCard®, and several major financial institutions, including cases naming National City (since merged into PNC) and its subsidiary, National City Bank of Kentucky (since merged into National City Bank which in turn was merged into PNC Bank, N.A.). The cases have been consolidated for pretrial proceedings in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York under the caption In re Payment Card Interchange Fee and Merchant-Discount Antitrust Litigation (Master File No. 1:05-md-1720-JG-JO). Those cases naming National City were brought as class actions on behalf of all persons or business entities who have accepted Visa® or MasterCard®. The plaintiffs, merchants operating commercial businesses throughout the U.S. and trade associations, allege, among other things, that the defendants conspired to fix the prices for general purpose card network services and otherwise imposed unreasonable restraints on trade, resulting in the payment of inflated interchange fees, in violation of the antitrust laws. In January 2009, the plaintiffs filed amended and supplemental complaints adding, among other things, allegations that the restructuring of Visa and MasterCard, each of which included an initial public offering, violated the antitrust laws. In their complaints, the plaintiffs seek, among other things, injunctive relief, unspecified damages (trebled under the antitrust laws) and attorneys' fees.

In July 2012, the parties entered into a memorandum of understanding with the class plaintiffs and an agreement in principle with certain individual plaintiffs with respect to a settlement of these cases, under which the defendants will collectively pay approximately $6.6 billion to the class and individual settling plaintiffs and have agreed to changes in the terms applicable to their respective card networks (including an eight-month reduction in default credit interchange rates). The parties entered into a definitive agreement with respect to this settlement in October 2012. The court granted final approval of the settlement in December 2013. Several objectors have appealed the order of approval to the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, which appeal is pending. As a result of the previously funded litigation escrow (described in Note 22 Commitments and Guarantees), which will cover substantially all of our share of the Visa portion of this settlement, we anticipate no material financial impact from the monetary amount of this settlement. Numerous merchants, including some large national merchants, have objected to or requested exclusion (opted out) from the proposed class settlements, and some of those opting out have lawsuits pending in federal and state courts against Visa, MasterCard and, in some instances, one or more of the other issuing banks (including PNC).

National City and National City Bank entered into judgment and loss sharing agreements with Visa and certain other banks with respect to all of the above referenced litigation. All of the litigation against Visa is also subject to the indemnification obligations described in Note 22 Commitments and Guarantees. PNC Bank, N.A. is not named a defendant in any of the Visa or MasterCard related antitrust litigation nor was it initially a party to the judgment or loss sharing agreements, but it has been subject to these indemnification obligations and became responsible for National City Bank's position in the litigation and responsibilities under the agreements upon completion of the merger of National City Bank into PNC Bank, N.A. In March 2011, we entered into a MasterCard Settlement and Judgment Sharing Agreement with MasterCard and other financial institution defendants and an Omnibus Agreement Regarding Interchange Litigation Sharing and Settlement Sharing with Visa, MasterCard and other financial institution defendants. If there is a resolution of all claims against all defendants, the Omnibus Agreement, in substance, apportions that resolution into a Visa portion and a MasterCard portion, with the Visa portion being two-thirds and the MasterCard portion being one-third. This apportionment only applies in the case of either a global settlement involving all defendants or an adverse judgment against the defendants, to the extent that damages either are related to the merchants' inter-network conspiracy claims or are otherwise not attributed to specific MasterCard or Visa conduct or damages. The MasterCard portion (or any MasterCard-related liability not subject to the Omnibus Agreement) will then be apportioned under the MasterCard Settlement and Judgment Sharing Agreement among MasterCard and PNC and the other financial institution defendants that are parties to this agreement. The responsibility for the Visa portion (or any Visa-related liability not subject to the Omnibus Agreement) will be apportioned under the pre-existing indemnification responsibilities and judgment and loss sharing agreements.

CBNV Mortgage Litigation

Between 2001 and 2003, on behalf of either individual plaintiffs or proposed classes of plaintiffs, several separate lawsuits were filed in state and federal courts against Community Bank of Northern Virginia (CBNV), a PNC Bank predecessor, and other defendants asserting claims arising from second mortgage loans made to the plaintiffs. The state lawsuits were removed to federal court and, with the lawsuits that had been filed in federal court, were consolidated for pre-trial proceedings in a multidistrict litigation (MDL) proceeding in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania under the caption In re: Community Bank of Northern Virginia Lending Practices Litigation (No. 03-0425 (W.D. Pa.), MDL No. 1674). In January 2008, the Pennsylvania district court issued an order sending back to the General Court of Justice, Superior Court Division, for Wake County, North Carolina the claims of two proposed class members. These claims are asserted in a case originally filed in 2001 and captioned Bumpers, et al. v. Community Bank of Northern Virginia (01-CVS-011342).

MDL Proceedings in Pennsylvania. In October 2011, the plaintiffs filed a joint consolidated amended class action complaint covering all of the class action lawsuits pending in this proceeding. The amended complaint names CBNV, another bank, and purchasers of loans originated by CBNV and the other bank (including the Residential Funding Company, LLC ("RFC")) as defendants. (In December 2013, the Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceeding involving the RFC was completed with the company being liquidated and claims against the company being resolved, including, through a settlement between the plaintiffs and RFC approved in November 2013, the claims in these lawsuits.) The principal allegations in the amended complaint are that a group of persons and entities collectively characterized as the "Shumway/Bapst Organization" referred prospective second residential mortgage loan borrowers to CBNV and the other bank, that CBNV and the other bank charged these borrowers improper title and loan fees at loan closings, that the disclosures provided to the borrowers at loan closings were inaccurate, and that CBNV and the other bank paid some of the loan fees to the Shumway/Bapst Organization as purported "kickbacks" for the referrals. The amended complaint asserts claims for violations of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA), the Truth in Lending Act (TILA), as amended by the Home Ownership and Equity Protection Act (HOEPA), and the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act (RICO).

The amended complaint seeks to certify a class of all borrowers who obtained a second residential non-purchase money mortgage loan, secured by their principal dwelling, from either CBNV or the other defendant bank, the terms of which made the loan subject to HOEPA. The plaintiffs seek, among other things, unspecified damages (including treble damages under RICO and RESPA), rescission of loans, declaratory and injunctive relief, interest, and attorneys' fees. In November 2011, the defendants filed a motion to dismiss the amended complaint. In June 2013, the court granted in part and denied in part the motion, dismissing the claims of any plaintiff whose loan did not originate or was not assigned to CBNV, narrowing the scope of the RESPA claim, and dismissing several of the named plaintiffs for lack of standing. The court also dismissed the claims against the other lender defendant on jurisdictional grounds. The limitation of the potential class to CBNV borrowers reduces its size to approximately 22,500 from the 50,000 members alleged in the amended complaint. Also in June 2013, the plaintiffs filed a motion for class certification, which was granted in July 2013. In August 2013, we filed a motion seeking leave to appeal the granting of the motion for class certification. The court granted the motion in October 2013, and our appeal is pending.

North Carolina Proceedings. The plaintiffs in Bumpers make similar allegations to those included in the amended complaint in the MDL proceedings. Following the remand to North Carolina state court, the plaintiffs in Bumpers sought to represent a class of North Carolina borrowers in state court proceedings in North Carolina. The plaintiffs claim that this class consists of approximately 650 borrowers. The district court in Pennsylvania handling the MDL proceedings enjoined class proceedings in Bumpers in March 2008. In April 2008, the North Carolina Superior Court granted the Bumpers plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment on their individual claims and awarded them approximately $11,000 each plus interest. CBNV appealed the grant of the motion for summary judgment. In September 2011, the North Carolina Court of Appeals affirmed in part and reversed in part the granting of the plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment. The court affirmed the judgment on the plaintiffs' claim that they paid a loan discount fee but were not provided a loan discount. It reversed the judgment on the plaintiffs' claim that they were overcharged for settlement services and remanded that claim for trial. The court also held that, in light of the Pennsylvania district court's injunction against class proceedings having been vacated in September 2010, the trial court may on remand consider the issue of class certification. In August 2012, the North Carolina Supreme Court granted our petition for discretionary review of the decision of the North Carolina Court of Appeals. The appeal was argued in January 2013. In August 2013, the North Carolina Supreme Court reversed the decision of the Court of Appeals and remanded the case to the Superior Court for further proceedings. In September 2013, after the other plaintiff voluntarily dismissed his case, the remaining plaintiff filed a motion for leave to amend his complaint in the trial court. The plaintiff's remaining claims, as reflected in the proposed amended complaint, relate exclusively to the loan discount fee.

Overdraft Litigation

Beginning in October 2009, PNC Bank, National City Bank and RBC Bank (USA) have been named in lawsuits brought as class actions relating to the manner in which they charged overdraft fees on ATM and debit transactions to customers and related matters. All but two of these lawsuits, both pending against RBC Bank (USA), have been settled. The following is a description of the remaining pending lawsuits.

The pending lawsuits naming RBC Bank (USA), along with similar lawsuits pending against numerous other banks, have been consolidated for pre-trial proceedings in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida (the "MDL Court") under the caption In re Checking Account Overdraft Litigation (MDL No. 2036, Case No. 1:09-MD-02036-JLK). A consolidated amended complaint was filed in December 2010 that consolidated all of the claims in these MDL Court cases. The first case against RBC Bank (USA) pending in the MDL Court (Dasher v. RBC Bank (10-cv-22190-JLK)) was filed in July 2010 in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida. The other case against RBC Bank (USA) (Avery v. RBC Bank (Case No. 10-cv-329)) was originally filed in North Carolina state court in July 2010 and was removed to the United States District Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina before being transferred to the MDL Court. An amended complaint was filed in Avery in August 2010.

These cases seek to certify multi-state classes of customers for the common law claims described below (covering all states in which RBC Bank (USA) had retail branch operations during the class periods), and subclasses of RBC Bank (USA) customers with accounts in North Carolina branches, with each subclass being asserted for purposes of claims under those states' consumer protection statutes. No class periods are stated in any of the complaints, other than for the applicable statutes of limitations, which vary by state and claim.

The customer agreements with the plaintiffs in these two cases contain arbitration provisions. RBC Bank (USA)'s original motion in Dasher to compel arbitration under these provisions was denied by the MDL Court. This denial was appealed to the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit. While this appeal was pending, the United States Supreme Court issued its decision in AT&T Mobility v Concepcion, following which the court of appeals vacated the MDL Court's denial of the arbitration motion and remanded to the MDL Court for further consideration in light of the Concepcion decision. RBC Bank (USA)'s motion to compel arbitration, now covering both Dasher and Avery, was denied in January 2013. We appealed the denial of the motion to the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit, which, in February 2014, affirmed the order of the district court denying arbitration. We filed a motion asking the court of appeals to reconsider its decision, which it denied in March 2014. In April 2014, we filed a motion asking the court of appeals to stay its ruling pending the filing of a petition for a writ of certiorari with the U.S. Supreme Court. The court of appeals granted our motion later in April 2014 and stayed its ruling until July 2014. We filed a petition for a writ of certiorari in June 2014, which was denied in October 2014. Accordingly, the stay of the court of appeals' ruling is no longer in effect. In December 2014, we filed a motion to dismiss the complaint.

The complaints in each of these lawsuits allege that the banks engaged in unlawful practices in assessing overdraft fees arising from electronic point-of-sale and ATM debits. The principal practice challenged in these lawsuits is the banks' purportedly common policy of posting debit transactions on a daily basis from highest amount to lowest amount, thereby allegedly inflating the number of overdraft fees assessed. Other practices challenged include the failure to decline to honor debit card transactions where the account has insufficient funds to cover the transactions.

The plaintiffs assert claims for unconscionability; unjust enrichment; and violation of the consumer protection statute of North Carolina. In the Dasher complaint, the plaintiffs also assert claims for a breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing and for conversion. The plaintiffs seek, among other things, restitution of overdraft fees paid, unspecified actual and punitive damages (with actual damages, in some cases, trebled under state law), pre-judgment interest, attorneys' fees, and declaratory relief finding the overdraft policies to be unfair and unconscionable.

Fulton Financial

In 2009, Fulton Financial Advisors, N.A. filed lawsuits against PNC Capital Markets, LLC and NatCity Investments, Inc. in the Court of Common Pleas of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania arising out of Fulton's purchase of auction rate certificates (ARCs) through PNC and NatCity. Each of the lawsuits alleges violations of the Pennsylvania Securities Act, negligent misrepresentation, negligence, breach of fiduciary duty, common law fraud, and aiding and abetting common law fraud in connection with the purchase of the ARCs by Fulton. Specifically, Fulton alleges that, as a result of the decline of financial markets in 2007 and 2008, the market for ARCs became illiquid; that PNC and NatCity knew or should have known of the increasing threat of the ARC market becoming illiquid; and that PNC and NatCity did not inform Fulton of this increasing threat, but allowed Fulton to continue to purchase ARCs, to Fulton's detriment. In its complaints, Fulton alleges that it then held ARCs purchased through PNC for a price of more than $123 million and purchased through

NatCity for a price of more than $175 million. In each complaint, Fulton seeks, among other things, unspecified actual and punitive damages, rescission, attorneys' fees and interest.

In the case against PNC (Fulton Financial Advisors, N.A. v. PNC Capital Markets, LLC (CI 09-10838)), PNC filed preliminary objections to Fulton's complaint, which were denied. NatCity removed the case against it to the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania (Fulton Financial Advisors, N.A. v. NatCity Investments, Inc. (No. 5:09-cv-04855)), and in November 2009 filed a motion to dismiss the complaint. In October 2013, the court granted the motion to dismiss with respect to claims under the Pennsylvania Securities Act and for negligent misrepresentation, common law fraud, and aiding and abetting common law fraud and denied the motion with respect to claims for negligence and breach of fiduciary duty. Fulton filed an amended complaint in December 2013, reasserting its negligence and breach of fiduciary duty claims and adding a new claim under the Pennsylvania Securities Act. Fulton and NatCity filed motions for summary judgment in February 2015.

Weavering Macro Fixed Income Fund

In July 2009, the liquidators of the Weavering Macro Fixed Income Fund Limited ("Weavering") issued a Plenary Summons in the High Court, Dublin, Ireland, in connection with the provision of administration services to Weavering by a European subsidiary of PNC Global Investment Servicing ("PNC GIS"), then a subsidiary of PNC. The Plenary Summons was served on the PNC GIS subsidiary ("GIS Europe") on or about June 30, 2010.

In July 2010, PNC completed the sale of PNC GIS to The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation ("BNY Mellon"), pursuant to a stock purchase agreement dated February 1, 2010. In May 2011, BNY Mellon provided notice to PNC of an indemnification claim pursuant to the stock purchase agreement related to this litigation. PNC's responsibility for this litigation was subject to the terms and limitations included in the indemnification provisions of the stock purchase agreement.

In November 2014, the parties reached a settlement of this litigation. The settlement is conditioned on court approval in the Cayman Islands, where Weavering was organized. The Cayman Islands court approved the settlement in February 2015. The amount of the settlement is not material to PNC.

In its Notice of Intention to Proceed and Statement of Claim, which the liquidator served in May 2011, the liquidator alleged, among other things, that GIS Europe breached its contractual duties to Weavering as well as an alleged duty of care to Weavering, and investors in Weavering, and made claims of breach of the administration and accounting services agreement, negligence, gross negligence, breach of duty, misrepresentation and negligent misstatement. The statement of claim further alleged that investors in Weavering lost approximately €282,000,000 and that, in addition, expended approximately €98,000,000 in brokerage and exchange commissions, interest, and fees as a result of the transactions at issue. The statement of claim sought, among other things, damages, costs, and interest. In January 2014, in response to a motion made by GIS Europe, the court entered a consent order adjourning the motion and staying the plaintiff's claims until the plaintiff complies in full with its discovery obligations. The plaintiff was required to complete its production by early July 2014, but, in that month, the court extended the deadline for doing so until December 2014.

Captive Mortgage Reinsurance Litigation

In December 2011, a lawsuit (White, et al. v. The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc., et al. (Civil Action No. 11-7928)) was filed against PNC (as successor in interest to National City Corporation and several of its subsidiaries) and several mortgage insurance companies in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. This lawsuit, which was brought as a class action, alleges that National City structured its program of reinsurance of private mortgage insurance in such a way as to avoid a true transfer of risk from the mortgage insurers to National City's captive reinsurer. The plaintiffs allege that the payments from the mortgage insurers to the captive reinsurer constitute kickbacks, referral payments, or unearned fee splits prohibited under the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA), as well as common law unjust enrichment. The plaintiffs claim, among other things, that from the beginning of 2004 until the end of 2010 National City's captive reinsurer collected from the mortgage insurance company defendants at least $219 million as its share of borrowers' private mortgage insurance premiums and that its share of paid claims during this period was approximately $12 million. The plaintiffs seek to certify a nationwide class of all persons who obtained residential mortgage loans originated, funded or originated through correspondent lending by National City or any of its subsidiaries or affiliates between January 1, 2004 and the present and, in connection with these mortgage loans, purchased private mortgage insurance and whose residential mortgage loans were included within National City's captive mortgage reinsurance arrangements. Plaintiffs seek, among other things, statutory damages under RESPA (which include treble damages), restitution of reinsurance premiums collected, disgorgement of profits, and attorneys' fees. In August 2012, the district court directed the plaintiffs to file an amended complaint, which the plaintiffs filed in September 2012. In November 2012, we filed a motion to dismiss the amended complaint. The court dismissed, without prejudice, the amended complaint in June 2013 on statute of limitations grounds. A second amended complaint, in response to the court's dismissal order, was filed in July 2013. We filed a motion to dismiss the second amended complaint, also in July 2013. In August 2014, the court denied the motion to dismiss.

We then filed an uncontested motion to stay all proceedings pending the outcome of another matter currently on appeal before the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit that involves overlapping issues. In September 2014, the district court granted the stay. In October 2014, the court of appeals decided that other matter, holding that the RESPA claims in that case were barred by the statute of limitations. We then filed a motion for reconsideration of the denial of our motion to dismiss in light of the court of appeals' decision. In January 2015, the district court denied our motion.

Residential Mortgage-Backed Securities Indemnification Demands

We have received indemnification demands from several entities sponsoring residential mortgage-backed securities and their affiliates where purchasers of the securities have brought litigation against the sponsors and other parties involved in the securitization transactions. National City Mortgage had sold whole loans to the sponsors or their affiliates that were allegedly included in certain of these securitization transactions. According to the indemnification demands, the plaintiffs' claims in these lawsuits are based on alleged misstatements and omissions in the offering documents for these transactions. The indemnification demands assert that agreements governing the sale of these loans or the securitization transactions to which National City Mortgage was a party require us to indemnify the sponsors and their affiliates for losses suffered in connection with these lawsuits. The parties have settled several of these cases. There has not been any determination that the parties seeking indemnification have any liability to the plaintiffs in the other lawsuits and the amount, if any for which we are responsible in the settled cases has not been determined.

Lender Placed Insurance Litigation

In June 2013, a lawsuit (Lauren vs. PNC Bank, N.A., et al.(Case No. 2:14-cv-00230)) was filed in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, subsequently transferred to the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio, against PNC Bank and American Security Insurance Company ("ASIC"), a provider of property and casualty insurance to PNC for certain residential mortgages. This lawsuit, which was brought as a class action, alleges, with respect to PNC Bank, that it breached alleged contractual (including the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing) and fiduciary duties to residential mortgage borrowers, and, as to Ohio borrowers, violated the Ohio Consumer Sales Practice Act, all in connection with the administration of PNC Bank's program for placement of insurance for borrowers who fail to obtain hazard insurance coverages required by the terms of their mortgages. The plaintiff alleges, among other things, that defendants placed insurance in unnecessary and excessive amounts and that PNC Bank improperly profited from these arrangements, principally as a result of the payment of commissions to PNC Bank and of reinsurance arrangements between PNC and the insurance provider. The plaintiff originally sought to certify a nationwide class and an Ohio sub-class of all persons who, during applicable periods, have or had a residential mortgage loan or line of credit with PNC Bank, and had hazard insurance placed upon the property by PNC Bank. The plaintiff seeks, among other things, damages, restitution or disgorgement of profits improperly obtained, injunctive relief, interest, and attorneys' fees. In October 2013, the court ruled on our motion to dismiss the complaint, granting our motion with respect to the Ohio Consumer Sales Practice Act claim and otherwise denying the motion. We filed a motion seeking reconsideration of the denial as to the fiduciary duty claim, which motion was denied in November 2013. In January 2014, the court granted ASIC's motion to dismiss the nationwide class action allegations with respect to the state common law claim of unjust enrichment pending against ASIC. Later in January 2014, PNC Bank filed a similar motion to dismiss the nationwide class action allegations, on the same grounds as asserted in ASIC's motion to dismiss, with respect to the state common law claims of breach of contract, breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, and breach of fiduciary duty pending against PNC Bank. The plaintiff thereafter agreed to withdraw those allegations. In February 2014, the court entered an order dismissing the plaintiff's nationwide class action allegations with regard to all remaining claims against PNC, thereby leaving an Ohio-only class sought by plaintiff as to those claims. Also in February 2014, the court on its own motion transferred the matter to the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio, and the plaintiff moved to amend her complaint to, among other things, assert a nationwide RICO claim on behalf of the class. In May 2014, the court granted the plaintiff's motion to amend her complaint, with the understanding that defendants may pursue their arguments against the viability of this claim by way of a motion to dismiss. In June 2014, the defendants moved to dismiss the amended complaint. The motion is pending.

In February and March 2014, two additional class action lawsuits were filed. One of them (Montoya, et al. v. PNC Bank, N.A., et al., Case No. 1:14-cv-20474-JEM) was filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida against PNC Bank, ASIC and its parent, Assurant, Inc. The other case (Tighe v. PNC Bank, N.A., et al., Case No. 14-CV-2017) was filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York against these same parties as well as Alpine Indemnity Limited, a reinsurance subsidiary of PNC. The allegations of these complaints are similar to those found in the Lauren complaint. In May 2014, the Tighe lawsuit was transferred to the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio. In June 2014, the Tighe plaintiff filed a notice of voluntary dismissal without prejudice, thereby terminating that action.

In the complaint, the plaintiffs in Montoya assert breach of contract by PNC, breach of its duty of good faith and fair dealing, unjust enrichment, breach of a fiduciary duty, and violations of Florida and New Jersey statutes pertaining to deceptive and unfair trade practices. These plaintiffs also assert claims under the federal TILA and RICO statutes. The plaintiffs seek a nationwide class on all claims except the state law statutory claims, for which they seek to certify subclasses of Florida and New Jersey residents, respectively. The plaintiffs seek, among other things, damages (including treble damages), disgorgement of "unjust benefits," injunctive relief, interest and attorneys' fees. PNC filed a motion to dismiss the complaint in Montoya in May 2014. In August 2014, the court in Montoya granted in part and denied in part PNC's motion to dismiss. Specifically, the court dismissed the breach of contract, Florida deceptive and unfair trade practices, and federal TILA and RICO claims, although it allowed the RICO claims to be re-pled. The remaining claims are state claims for breach of the covenant of good faith, unjust enrichment, the New Jersey Consumer Fraud Act, and breach of fiduciary duty. Thereafter, in September 2014, on plaintiffs' uncontested motions, the Lauren lawsuit was voluntarily dismissed and a third amended complaint in Montoya was filed adding Lauren as a plaintiff there. In October 2014, PNC moved to partially dismiss the third amended complaint. The motion to dismiss seeks dismissal of the re-pleaded RICO claims and plaintiff Lauren's state law claims for breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing and breach of fiduciary duty. At the same time, PNC also moved to strike nationwide class allegations with respect to the state law claims. Shortly thereafter, the plaintiffs stipulated to this relief, as a result of which the plaintiffs' state law claims are now being brought solely as statewide class action claims in the three states in which the plaintiffs reside. In January 2015, the plaintiffs filed a motion for class certification.

Patent Infringement Litigation

In June 2013, a lawsuit (Intellectual Ventures I LLC and Intellectual Ventures II LLC vs. PNC Financial Services Group, Inc., and PNC Bank, NA, Case No. 2:13-cv-00740-AJS) was filed in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania against PNC and PNC Bank for patent infringement. The plaintiffs allege that multiple systems by which PNC and PNC Bank provide online banking services and other services via electronic means infringe five patents owned by the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs seek, among other things, a declaration that PNC and PNC Bank are infringing each of the patents, damages for past and future infringement, and attorneys' fees. In July 2013, we filed an answer with counterclaims, denying liability and seeking declarations that the asserted patents are invalid and that PNC has not infringed them. In November 2013, PNC filed Covered Business Method/Post Grant Review petitions in the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office ("PTO") seeking to invalidate all five of the patents. In December 2013, the court dismissed the plaintiffs' claims as to two of the patents and entered a stay of the lawsuit pending the PTO's consideration of PNC's review petitions, including any appeals from decisions of the PTO. The PTO instituted review proceedings in May 2014 on four of the five patents at issue, finding that the subject matter of those patents was "more likely than not" unpatentable. The court previously dismissed the plaintiffs' claims with respect to the one patent not selected for review by the PTO.

In June 2014, Intellectual Ventures filed a second lawsuit (Intellectual Ventures I LLC and Intellectual Ventures II LLC v. PNC Bank Financial Services Group, Inc., PNC Bank NA, and PNC Merchant Services Company, LP, Case No. 2:14-cv-00832-AKS) in the same court as the first lawsuit. This lawsuit alleges that PNC defendants infringed five patents, including the patent dismissed in the first lawsuit that is not subject to PTO review, and relates generally to the same technology and subject matter as the first lawsuit. The court has stayed this case pending the PTO's consideration of various review petitions of the patents at issue in this case, as well as the review of the patents at issue in the first lawsuit and the appeals from any PTO decisions.

Mortgage Repurchase Litigation

In December 2013, Residential Funding Company, LLC ("RFC") filed a lawsuit in the United States District Court for the District of Minnesota against PNC Bank, N.A., as alleged successor in interest to National City Mortgage Co., NCMC Newco, Inc., and North Central Financial Corporation (Residential Funding Company, LLC v. PNC Bank, N.A., et al (Civil No. 13-3498- JRT-JSM)). In its complaint, RFC alleges that PNC Bank (through predecessors) sold $6.5 billion worth of residential mortgage loans to RFC during the timeframe at issue (approximately May 2006 through September 2008), a portion of which were allegedly materially defective, resulting in damages and losses to RFC. RFC alleges that PNC Bank breached representations and warranties made under seller contracts in connection with these sales. The complaint asserts claims for breach of contract and indemnification. RFC seeks, among other things, monetary damages, costs, and attorney's fees. In March 2014, we filed a motion to dismiss the complaint. RFC then filed an amended complaint, as well as a motion to transfer the lawsuit to the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. In April 2014, we moved to dismiss the amended complaint. In June 2014, RFC withdrew its motion to transfer the lawsuit. In October 2014, the court granted our motion to dismiss with prejudice the breach of contract claims in the complaint with respect to loans sold before May 14, 2006 and otherwise denied our motion to dismiss.

Pre-need Funeral Arrangements

National City Bank and PNC Bank are defendants in a lawsuit pending in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri under the caption Jo Ann Howard, P.C., et al v. Cassity, et al. (No. 4:09-CV-1252-ERW) arising out of trustee services provided by Allegiant Bank, a National City Bank and PNC Bank predecessor, with respect to Missouri trusts that held pre-need funeral contract assets. Under a pre-

need funeral contract, a customer pays an amount up front in exchange for payment of funeral expenses following the customer's death. In a number of states, including Missouri, pre-need funeral contract sellers are required to deposit a portion of the proceeds of the sale of pre-need funeral contracts in a trust account.

The lawsuit was filed in August 2009 by the Special Deputy Receiver for three insolvent affiliated companies, National Prearranged Services, Inc. a seller of pre-need funeral contracts (NPS), Lincoln Memorial Life Insurance Company (Lincoln), and Memorial Service Life Insurance Company (Memorial). Seven individual state life and health insurance guaranty associations, who claim they are liable under state law for payment of certain benefits under life insurance policies sold by Lincoln and Memorial, and the National Organization of Life & Health Guaranty Associations have also joined the action as plaintiffs. In addition to National City Bank and PNC Bank (added following filing of the lawsuit as successor-in-interest to National City Bank), other defendants included members of the Cassity family, who controlled NPS, Lincoln, and Memorial; officers and directors of NPS, Lincoln, and Memorial; auditors and attorneys for NPS, Lincoln, and Memorial; the trustees of each of the trusts that held pre-need funeral contract assets; and the investment advisor to the Pre-need Trusts. NPS retained several banks to act as trustees for the trusts holding NPS pre-need funeral contract assets (the "NPS Trusts"), with Allegiant Bank acting as one of these trustees with respect to seven Missouri NPS Trusts. All of the other defendants have settled with the plaintiffs, are otherwise no longer a party to the lawsuit, or are insolvent.

In their Third Amended Complaint, filed in 2012 following the granting by the court in part of motions to dismiss made by National City Bank and the other NPS Trust trustees, the plaintiffs allege that Allegiant Bank breached its fiduciary duties and acted negligently as the trustee for the Missouri NPS Trusts. In part as a result of these breaches, the plaintiffs allege, members of the Cassity family, acting in concert with other defendants, were able to improperly remove millions of dollars from the NPS Trusts, which in turn caused NPS, Lincoln, and Memorial to become insolvent. The complaint alleges $600 million in present and future losses to the plaintiffs due to the insolvency of NPS, Lincoln, and Memorial. The lawsuit seeks, among other things, unspecified actual and punitive damages, various equitable remedies including restitution, attorneys' fees, costs of suit and interest.

In July 2013, five of the six defendants in a parallel federal criminal action, including two members of the Cassity family, entered into plea agreements with the United States to resolve criminal charges arising out of their conduct at NPS, Lincoln and Memorial. In August 2013, after a jury trial, the sixth defendant, the investment advisor to the NPS Trusts, was convicted on all criminal counts against him. The criminal charges against the defendants alleged, among other thing, a scheme to defraud Allegiant Bank and the other trustees of the NPS Trusts.

In May 2014, the court granted the plaintiffs' motion to disallow National City Bank's affirmative defense relating to the plaintiffs' alleged failure to mitigate damages. In July 2014, National City Bank's motion for reconsideration was denied. In September 2014, the plaintiffs filed a motion seeking leave to amend their complaint to reassert aiding and abetting claims, previously dismissed by the court in 2012. The court denied this motion in December 2014. Also in December 2014, the court granted in part and denied in part National City Bank's motion for summary judgment.

A jury trial in this case began in February 2015.

Other Regulatory and Governmental Inquiries

PNC is the subject of investigations, audits and other forms of regulatory and governmental inquiry covering a broad range of issues in our banking, securities and other financial services businesses, in some cases as part of reviews of specified activities at multiple industry participants. Over the last few years, we have experienced an increase in regulatory and governmental investigations, audits and other inquiries. Areas of current regulatory or governmental inquiry with respect to PNC include consumer protection, fair lending, mortgage origination and servicing, mortgage and non mortgage-related insurance and reinsurance, municipal finance activities, conduct by broker-dealers, automobile lending practices, and participation in government insurance or guarantee programs, some of which are described below. These inquiries, including those described below, may lead to administrative, civil or criminal proceedings, and possibly result in remedies including fines, penalties, restitution, or alterations in our business practices, and in additional expenses and collateral costs.

- One area of significant regulatory and governmental focus has been mortgage lending and servicing. Numerous federal and state governmental, legislative and regulatory authorities are investigating practices in this area. PNC has received inquiries from, or is the subject of investigations by, a broad range of governmental, legislative and regulatory authorities relating to our activities in this area and is cooperating with these investigations and inquiries. As a result of the number and range of authorities conducting the investigations and inquiries, as well as the nature of these types of investigations and inquiries, among other factors, PNC cannot at this time predict the ultimate overall cost to or effect on PNC from potential governmental, legislative or regulatory actions arising out of these investigations and inquiries.
    - In April 2011, as a result of a publicly-disclosed interagency horizontal review of residential mortgage servicing operations at fourteen federally regulated mortgage servicers, PNC entered into a consent order with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and PNC Bank entered into a consent order with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Collectively, these consent orders describe certain foreclosure-related practices and controls that the regulators found to be deficient and require PNC and PNC Bank to, among other things, develop and implement plans and programs to enhance PNC's residential mortgage servicing and foreclosure processes, retain an independent consultant to review certain residential mortgage foreclosure actions, take certain remedial actions, and oversee compliance with the orders and the new plans and programs. The two orders do not foreclose the potential for civil money penalties from either of these regulators, although the range of potential penalties communicated to PNC by the regulators in connection with the agreements described below is not material to PNC.

In connection with these orders, PNC established a Compliance Committee of the Boards of PNC and PNC Bank to monitor and coordinate PNC's and PNC Bank's implementation of the commitments under the orders. PNC and PNC Bank are executing Action Plans designed to meet the requirements of the orders. Consistent with the orders, PNC also engaged an independent consultant to conduct a review of certain residential foreclosure actions, including those identified through borrower complaints, and identify whether any remedial actions for borrowers are necessary.

In early 2013, PNC and PNC Bank, along with twelve other residential mortgage servicers, reached agreements with the OCC and the Federal Reserve to amend these consent orders. Pursuant to the amended consent orders, in order to accelerate the remediation process, PNC agreed to make a payment of approximately $70 million for distribution to potentially affected borrowers in the review population and to provide approximately $111 million in additional loss mitigation or other foreclosure prevention relief, which may be satisfied pursuant to the amended consent orders by a variety of borrower relief actions or by additional cash payments or resource commitments to borrower counseling or education. Fulfillment of these commitments will satisfy all of PNC's and PNC Bank's obligations under the consent orders in connection with the independent foreclosure review. We do not expect any additional financial charges related to the amendment to the consent orders to be material. PNC's and PNC Bank's obligations to comply with the remaining provisions of the consent orders remain.

- In February 2012, the Department of Justice, other federal regulators and 49 state attorneys general announced agreements with the five largest mortgage servicers. Written agreements were filed with the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York in March 2012. Under these agreements, the mortgage servicers will make cash payments to federal and state governments, provide various forms of financial relief to borrowers, and implement new mortgage servicing standards. These governmental authorities are continuing their review of, and have engaged in discussions with, other mortgage servicers, including PNC, that were subject to the interagency horizontal review, which could result in the imposition of substantial payments and other forms of relief (similar to that agreed to by the five largest servicers) on some or all of these mortgage servicers, including PNC. Whether and to what extent any such relief may be imposed on PNC is not yet known.
- PNC has received subpoenas from the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York. The first two subpoenas, served in 2011, concern National City Bank's lending practices in connection with loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) as well as certain non-FHA-insured loan origination, sale and securitization practices, and a third, served in 2013, seeks information regarding claims for costs that are incurred by foreclosure counsel in connection with the foreclosure of loans insured or guaranteed by FHA, FNMA, or FHLMC. PNC is cooperating with the investigations.
- The Department of Justice, Consumer Protection Bureau, served a subpoena on PNC in 2013 seeking information concerning the return rate for certain merchant and payment processor customers with whom PNC has a depository relationship. We believe that the subpoena is intended to determine whether, and to what extent, PNC may have facilitated fraud committed by third-parties against consumers. We are cooperating with the subpoena.
- Through the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Maryland, the office of the Inspector General for the Small Business Administration ("SBA") served a subpoena on PNC in 2012 requesting documents concerning PNC's relationship with, including SBA-guaranteed loans made through, a broker named Jade Capital Investments, LLC ("Jade"), as well as information regarding other PNC-originated SBA guaranteed loans made to businesses located in the State of Maryland, the Commonwealth of Virginia, and Washington, DC. Certain of the Jade loans have been identified in an indictment and subsequent superseding indictment charging persons associated with Jade with conspiracy to commit bank fraud, substantive violations of the federal bank fraud statute, and money laundering. PNC is cooperating with the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Maryland.

Our practice is to cooperate fully with regulatory and governmental investigations, audits and other inquiries, including those described in this Note 21.

Other

In addition to the proceedings or other matters described above, PNC and persons to whom we may have indemnification obligations, in the normal course of business, are subject to various other pending and threatened legal proceedings in which claims for monetary damages and other relief are asserted. We do not anticipate, at the present time, that the ultimate aggregate liability, if any, arising out of such other legal proceedings will have a material adverse effect on our financial position. However, we cannot now determine whether or not any claims asserted against us or others to whom we may have indemnification obligations, whether in the proceedings or other matters described above or otherwise, will have a material adverse effect on our results of operations in any future reporting period, which will depend on, among other things, the amount of the loss resulting from the claim and the amount of income otherwise reported for the reporting period.

See Note 22 Commitments and Guarantees for additional information regarding the Visa indemnification and our other obligations to provide indemnification, including to current and former officers, directors, employees and agents of PNC and companies we have acquired.

Net outstanding standby letters of credit (a)	9,991	10,521
Total credit commitments	$149,678	$140,391

(a) Net outstanding standby letters of credit include $5 2 billion and $6 6 billion which support remarketing programs at December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively.

Net Unfunded Loan Commitments

Commitments to extend credit represent arrangements to lend funds or provide liquidity subject to specified contractual conditions. These commitments generally have fixed expiration dates, may require payment of a fee, and contain termination clauses in the event the customer's credit quality deteriorates. Based on our historical experience, some commitments expire unfunded, and therefore cash requirements are substantially less than the total commitment.

Net Outstanding Standby Letters of Credit

We issue standby letters of credit and have risk participations in standby letters of credit issued by other financial institutions, in each case to support obligations of our customers to third parties, such as insurance requirements and the facilitation of transactions involving capital markets product execution. Internal credit ratings related to our net outstanding standby letters of credit were as follows:

Table 149: Internal Credit Ratings Related to Net Outstanding Standby Letters of Credit

	December 31 2014	December 31 2013
Internal credit ratings (as a percentage of portfolio):
Pass (a)	95%	96%
Below pass (b)	5%	4%

(a) Indicates that expected risk of loss is currently low.
(b) Indicates a higher degree of risk of default.

If the customer fails to meet its financial or performance obligation to the third party under the terms of the contract or there is a need to support a remarketing program, then upon a draw by a beneficiary, subject to the terms of the letter of credit, we would be obligated to make payment to them. The standby letters of credit outstanding on December 31, 2014 had terms ranging from less than 1 year to 8 years.

As of December 31, 2014, assets of $1.0 billion secured certain specifically identified standby letters of credit. In addition, a portion of the remaining standby letters of credit issued on behalf of specific customers is also secured by collateral or guarantees that secure the customers' other obligations to us. The carrying amount of the liability for our obligations related to standby letters of credit and participations in standby letters of credit was $182 million at December 31, 2014 and is included in Other liabilities on our Consolidated Balance Sheet.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the request of the Chief Financial Officer and the Commissioner of Aviation, I transmit herewith an ordinance authorizing an issuance of General Airport Revenue Bonds.

Your favorable consideration of this ordinance will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,

ORDINANCE

WHEREAS, the City of Chicago (the "City") is a duly constituted and existing municipality within the meaning of Section 1 of Article VII of the 1970 Constitution of the State of Illinois (the "Constitution") having a population in excess of 25,000 and is a home rule unit of local government under Section 6(a) of Article VII of the Constitution; and

WHEREAS, the City owns and operates an airport known as Chicago O'Hare International Airport (the "Airport"); and

WHEREAS, the City has previously issued various series of its Chicago O'Hare International Airport General Airport Revenue Bonds that are currently outstanding (the "Outstanding Senior Lien Bonds"); and

WHEREAS, the Outstanding Senior Lien Bonds are "Senior Lien Obligations" secured under the Master Indenture of Trust Securing Chicago O'Hare International Airport General Airport Revenue Senior Lien Obligations dated as of September 1, 2012 between the City and U.S. Bank National Association as trustee (the "Senior Lien Trustee") as supplemented (the "Senior Lien Master Indenture"); and

WHEREAS, the City has previously established a commercial paper program providing for the issuance from time to time of commercial paper notes for Airport purposes (the "Commercial Paper Notes"); and

WHEREAS, the Outstanding Senior Lien Bonds and any Commercial Paper Notes currently or later outstanding are referred to collectively herein as the "Outstanding Airport Obligations"; and

WHEREAS, the City has determined to authorize the issuance of its Chicago O'Hare International Airport General Airport Senior Lien Revenue Bonds (the "2015 Senior Lien Bonds") pursuant to the Senior Lien Master Indenture, in one or more series, for the purposes of (i) funding the cost of certain capital projects for the Airport, including, without limitation, capital projects included in the O'Hare Capital Improvement Program or in the O'Hare Modernization Program, which constitute Airport Projects under the Senior Lien Master Indenture and capitalized interest (the "Airport Projects") and (ii) the refunding of any and all Outstanding Airport Obligations; and

WHEREAS, the City proposes to issue and sell 2015 Senior Lien Bonds in the manner hereinafter authorized, in one or more series, in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $2,000,000,000; now therefore

Be It Ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

PART A

ARTICLE I

AUTHORIZATION, FINDINGS, DETERMINATIONS AND APPROVAL OF DOCUMENTS

Section 1.1. Authorization. The above recitals are incorporated in this Ordinance. This Ordinance is adopted pursuant to Section 6(a) of Article VII of the Constitution. This Ordinance authorizes the issuance of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds as follows: (i) this Part A authorizes the 2015 financing plan, (ii) Part B hereof authorizes the issuance, from time to time, of all or a portion of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds, in one or more series, in such principal amounts and with such terms and provisions as set forth therein and in the Senior Lien Master Indenture, and the related Supplemental Indentures therein approved; and (iii) Part C hereof provides for the enactment of this Ordinance.

Section 1.2. Findings and Determinations. This City Council hereby finds and determines as follows:

(a) that the issuance of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds and the refunding of the Outstanding Airport Obligations and any other bonds, notes or other obligations issued by the City to finance or refinance any Airport Project will result in debt service savings or provide other benefits to the Airport;

(b) that the Airport Projects to be financed by the City with the proceeds of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds are necessary and essential to the efficient operation of the Airport;

(c) that the City's ability to issue 2015 Senior Lien Bonds from time to time without further action by this City Council at various times, in various principal amounts and with various interest rates and interest rate mechanisms, maturities, redemption provisions and other terms will enhance the City's opportunities to obtain financing for the Airport upon the most favorable terms available;

(d) that from time to time it is desirable to refund (i) outstanding airport revenue bonds and notes of the City (including bonds and notes payable from passenger facility charges or special facility revenues) and other payment obligations related thereto (the "Outstanding Obligations") and (ii) future issues of Airport revenue bonds and notes of the City (including bonds and notes payable from passenger facility charges or special facility revenues) as may be outstanding from time to time, and other payment obligations related thereto (the "Future Outstanding Obligations");

(e) that the delegations of authority that are contained in this Ordinance are necessary and desirable because this City Council cannot itself as advantageously, expeditiously or conveniently exercise such authority and make such specific determinations. Thus, authority is granted to the Mayor, the Chief Financial Officer appointed by the Mayor or the City

Comptroller (the "Authorized Officer" as referred to herein being either the Chief Financial Officer or the City Comptroller) to determine to sell one or more series of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds, at one or more times, as and to the extent such officers determine that such sale or sales is desirable and in the best financial interest of the City and the Airport.

Section 1.3. Forms of Documents. There have been presented to this City Council forms of the following documents:

(a) Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture Securing Chicago O'Hare International Airport General Airport Senior Lien Revenue Bonds, Series 2015A (attached hereto as Exhibit A);

(b) Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture Securing Chicago O'Hare International Airport General Airport Senior Lien Revenue Bonds, Series 2015B (attached hereto as Exhibit B);

Remarketing Agent and variable interest rates commonly referred to as "flexible," "adjustable" or "commercial paper" rates, in which specified bonds of a series bear interest at rates that differ from the rates borne by other bonds of the series and have different accrual and mandatory tender and purchase provisions (herein called "Variable Rates"), and may be secured as to principal, purchase price and interest by one or more Letters of Credit or Reimbursement Agreements. Any 2015 Senior Lien Bonds that initially bear interest at a variable rate may thereafter bear such other interest rate or rates as may be established in accordance with the provisions of the related Supplemental Indenture. The 2015 Senior Lien Bonds may be issued under bond structures commonly referred to as "medium term" and "put option," which may include provisions pursuant to which the Owners of such 2015 Senior Lien Bonds have the option to tender such 2015 Senior Lien Bonds for payment prior to their stated maturity dates or mandatory redemption dates and the City may permit such a "put option" with or without having available a Letter of Credit or liquidity facility sufficient to fund the purchase price of any 2015 Senior Lien Bonds tendered for purchase pursuant to such "put option," if an Authorized Officer determines that the terms and provisions of the "put option" will provide the City with sufficient time to fund or otherwise provide for the payment of such purchase price. Any 2015 Senior Lien Bonds that bear interest at a fixed rate may be issued as current interest bonds, as capital appreciation bonds or as capital appreciation bonds that convert to current interest bonds at a future date after their issuance.

(b) The 2015 Senior Lien Bonds shall mature not later than January 1, 2057, and shall bear interest from their date, or from the most recent date to which interest has been paid or duly provided for, until the City's obligation with respect to the payment of the principal amount thereof shall be discharged, payable as provided in the related Supplemental Indenture at a rate or rates not in excess of the lesser of 18% per annum or, so long as such 2015 Senior Lien Bonds are secured by a Letter of Credit, the maximum interest rate with respect to such 2015 Senior Lien Bonds used for purposes of calculating the stated amount of such Letter of Credit. Each series of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds may be subject to mandatory and optional redemption (including mandatory redemption pursuant to the application of Sinking Fund Payments) and demand purchase or mandatory purchase provisions prior to maturity, upon the terms and conditions set forth in the Senior Lien Master Indenture and the related Supplemental Indenture. The redemption price may be based upon a formula designed to compensate the Owner of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds to be redeemed based upon prevailing market conditions on the date fixed for redemption, commonly known as a "make-whole" redemption price (the "Make-Whole Redemption Price"). At the time of sale of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds, an Authorized Officer shall determine the provisions of the formula to be used to establish any Make-Whole Redemption Price, which may vary depending on whether the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds are issued on a taxable or tax-exempt basis. An Authorized Officer shall confirm and transmit the applicable Make-Whole Redemption Price on such dates and to such parties as shall be necessary to effectuate such redemption.

(c) The 2015 Senior Lien Bonds shall be entitled "Chicago O'Hare International Airport General Airport Senior Lien Revenue Bonds" or "Chicago O'Hare International Airport General Airport Senior Lien Revenue Refunding Bonds," as appropriate. The 2015 Senior Lien Bonds may be issued in one or more separate series, appropriately designated to indicate the order of their issuance.

(d) Each 2015 Senior Lien Bond shall be issued in fully registered form and in the denominations set forth in the related Supplemental Indenture; and shall be dated and numbered and further designated and identified as provided in the Senior Lien Master Indenture and the related Supplemental Indenture.

(e) Principal of and premium, if any, on the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds shall be payable at the principal corporate trust office of the Senior Lien Trustee or any Paying Agent as provided in the Senior Lien Master Indenture and related Supplemental Indenture. Payment of interest on the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds shall be made to the registered owner thereof and shall be paid by check or draft of the Senior Lien Trustee mailed to the registered owner at his or her address as it appears on the registration books of the City kept by the Senior Lien Trustee or at such other address as is furnished to the Senior Lien Trustee in writing by such registered owner, or by wire transfer as further provided in the Senior Lien Master Indenture and related Supplemental Indenture.

(f) Subject to the limitations set forth in this Section, authority is hereby delegated to either the Mayor or the Authorized Officer to determine the aggregate principal amount of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds to be issued, the date thereof, the maturities thereof, any provisions for optional redemption thereof, the schedule of Sinking Fund Payments, if any, to be applied to the mandatory redemption thereof (which mandatory redemption shall be at a Redemption Price equal to the principal amount of each 2015 Senior Lien Bond to be redeemed, without premium, plus accrued interest), the rate or rates of interest payable thereon or method for determining such rate or rates and the first interest payment date thereof. Any optional redemption shall be at Redemption Prices that may include a redemption premium for each 2015 Senior Lien Bond to be redeemed expressed as a percentage, not exceeding twenty percent (20%), of the principal amount (or in the case of capital appreciation bonds, the accreted value as of the redemption date) of the 2015 Senior Lien Bond to be redeemed, or as a formula designed to compensate the owner of the 2015 Senior Lien Bond to be redeemed based upon prevailing market conditions on the date fixed for such redemption, commonly known as a "make whole" redemption premium.

Section 2.2. Purposes. Pursuant to Section 203 of the Senior Lien Master Indenture, the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds are to be issued for the following purposes, as determined by the Authorized Officer at the time of the sale of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds:

(a) the payment, or the reimbursement for the payment, of all or a portion of the costs of acquiring, constructing and equipping any Airport Project or Projects;

(b) the refunding of any outstanding Airport Obligations (including commercial paper notes);

(c) the funding of deposits in and the deposit of moneys into the Debt Service Fund, one or more Dedicated Sub-Funds, a program fee account, a debt service reserve account, a capitalized interest account and such other accounts and subaccounts (including capitalized interest accounts for any series of Senior Lien Bonds) as may be provided for in the Senior Lien Master Indenture and the Supplemental Indenture relating to such series; and

The proceeds of each series of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds shall be applied for the purposes set forth above in the manner and in the amounts specified in a Certificate of an Authorized Officer (as defined in the Senior Lien Master Indenture) delivered in connection with the issuance of such series pursuant to the Senior Lien Master Indenture and the related Supplemental Indenture.

Section 2.3. Pledge of Revenues and Other Available Moneys. The 2015 Senior Lien Bonds, together with interest thereon, shall be limited obligations of the City secured by a pledge of the Revenues and by any Other Available Moneys pledged under the Senior Lien Master Indenture and the related Supplemental Indenture, and shall be valid claims of the registered owners thereof only against the funds and assets and other money held by the Senior Lien Trustee with respect thereto and against such Revenues and Other Available Moneys. The 2015 Senior Lien Bonds and the obligation to pay interest thereon do not now and shall never constitute an indebtedness or a loan of credit of the City, or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers, within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation of the State of Illinois. In connection with the issuance of any series of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds secured by a pledge of or otherwise payable from Other Available Moneys, the City shall determine in the related Supplemental Indenture or by a Certificate of an Authorized Officer filed with the Senior Lien Trustee, all of the terms and conditions of such pledge, including the annual payment amount, the lien status thereof and the duration of such pledge.

Section 2.4. Approval of Reimbursement Agreement; Authorization of Bank Notes. The Mayor or the Authorized Officer is hereby authorized, with respect to each applicable series of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds, to execute and deliver a Reimbursement Agreement in substantially the form previously used for similar financings of the City with appropriate revisions in text as the Mayor or the Authorized Officer shall determine are necessary or desirable in connection with the sale of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds, and the City Clerk is hereby authorized to attest the same and affix thereto the corporate seal of the City or a facsimile thereof, the execution and delivery thereof to constitute conclusive evidence of this City Council's approval of any and all changes or revisions therein. The Mayor or the Authorized Officer is hereby further authorized to execute and deliver a Bank Note pursuant to each Reimbursement Agreement in substantially the form previously used for similar financings of the City with appropriate revisions to reflect the terms and provisions of the related Reimbursement Agreement, and the City Clerk is hereby authorized to attest the same and affix thereto the corporate seal of the City or a facsimile thereof, the execution and delivery thereof to constitute conclusive evidence of this City Council's approval of any and all changes or revisions therein. The interest rate payable on any Bank Note shall not exceed 21% per annum (including the recovery by the Bank of any amounts otherwise not payable to the Bank solely as a result of the interest limit set forth in the Bank Note, any interest so recovered to be determined at an interest rate not to exceed 28 percent per annum) and the maturity thereof shall not be later than five years after the latest maturity date of the related series of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds. The annual fee payable to any Bank under a Reimbursement Agreement shall be determined by the Authorized Officer as shall be in the best interest of the City in the operation of the Airport under then existing market conditions. The obligations of the City under each Reimbursement Agreement and under each Bank Note do not now and shall never constitute an indebtedness or a loan of credit of the City, or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers, within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation of the State of Illinois. Such obligations shall be limited obligations of the City secured by a pledge of the Revenues and by the other specified sources pledged under the Senior Lien Master Indenture and the related Supplemental Indenture, and shall be valid claims only against the funds and assets and other money held by the Senior Lien Trustee with respect thereto and against such Revenues.

Section 2.5. Approval of Supplemental Indentures.

(c) Each such Supplemental Indenture shall be substantially in the form of the Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture or the Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture, as appropriate, presented to this meeting and may contain such changes or revisions as shall be approved by the Mayor or the Authorized Officer, which changes or revisions may include, without limit, such changes as may be necessary or desirable, as determined by the Mayor or the Authorized Officer, to incorporate provisions into a Supplemental Indenture relating to Variable Rates generally in use in the municipal securities market.

(d) If determined by the Authorized Officer to be in the best financial interest of the City in the operation of the Airport, modifications may be made to the form of Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture providing (a) for 2015 Senior Lien Bonds bearing interest at a Variable Rate to be secured by a Letter of Credit, and (b) for an interest rate mode in which the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds bear interest at a rate that reflects inflation and deflation as of a specified date prior to each interest payment date.

(e) By the purchase of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds, purchasers of such 2015 Senior Lien Bonds agree, for themselves and any successor Owners, to the provisions of any one or more Senior Lien Master Indenture amendments executed and delivered pursuant to the authorization set forth in Part B, Section 2.5(g) of that certain bond ordinance which was adopted by the City Council of the City on November 18, 2009, relating to bond financing at O'Hare Airport, including, but not limited to, the 2010 Amendment.

(f) The execution and delivery of a Supplemental Indenture shall constitute conclusive evidence of this City Council's approval of the form of such Supplemental Indenture as executed and delivered.

Section 2.6. Credit Instruments. The Authorized Officer is hereby authorized to arrange for the provision of (a) one or more Qualified Credit Instruments and (b) one or more Qualified Reserve Account Credit Instruments (as defined in the Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture) as security for all or a portion of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds if the Authorized Officer determines that it would be in the best financial interest of the City in the operation of the Airport.

Section 2.7. Sale of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds.

(a) Subject to the limitations contained in this Ordinance, authority is hereby delegated to the Mayor or the Authorized Officer to sell the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds in one or more series from time to time to one or more underwriters selected by the Authorized Officer pursuant to one or more Contracts of Purchase with respect to the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds between the City and such underwriters; provided that the aggregate purchase price of each series of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds shall not be less than 85% of the principal amount thereof to be issued (less any original issue discount which may be used in the marketing thereof) plus accrued interest thereon from their date to the date of delivery thereof and payment thereof. In addition, one or more of the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds may be issued as bonds the interest on which will be includable in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes under the Code, if determined by the Authorized Officer to be beneficial to the City in the operation of the Airport.

(b) The Mayor or the Authorized Officer, with the concurrence of the Chairman of the Committee on Finance of the City Council, is hereby authorized and directed to execute and deliver one or more Contracts of Purchase relating to the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds in substantially the form of the Contracts of Purchase used in connection with the previous sales of airport revenue bonds by the City, together with such changes thereto and modifications thereof as shall be approved by the Mayor or the Authorized Officer, as the case may be, subject to the limitations contained in this Ordinance, the execution and delivery thereof to constitute conclusive evidence of this City Council's approval of such changes and modifications.

(c) To evidence the exercise of the authority delegated to the Mayor or the Authorized Officer by this Ordinance, the Mayor or the Authorized Officer, as the case may be, is hereby directed to execute and file with the City Clerk in connection with the sale of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds a certificate setting forth the determinations made pursuant to the authority granted herein, which certificate shall constitute conclusive evidence of the proper exercise by them of such authority. Contemporaneously with the filing of such certificate, the Mayor or the Authorized Officer shall also file with the City Clerk one copy of each Official Statement and executed Contract of Purchase in connection with the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds. Each filing shall be made as soon as practicable subsequent to the execution of the Contract of Purchase. The City Clerk shall direct copies of such filings to the City Council.

(d) The Authorized Officer is hereby authorized to cause to be prepared the form or forms of Preliminary Official Statement describing the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds. Each Preliminary Official Statement (or applicable parts thereof) shall be in substantially the form of the Official Statements used in connection with previous sales of airport revenue bonds by the City, together with such changes thereto and modifications thereof as shall be approved by the Authorized Officer. The distribution of each Preliminary Official Statement to prospective purchasers and the use thereof by the underwriters in connection with the offering of the 2015

Senior Lien Bonds are hereby authorized and approved. The Mayor or the Authorized Officer is hereby authorized to permit the distribution of a final Official Statement, in substantially the form of each Preliminary Official Statement, with such changes, omissions, insertions and revisions thereto and completions thereof as the Mayor or the Authorized Officer shall deem advisable, and the Mayor or the Authorized Officer is authorized to execute and deliver each such final Official Statement to the underwriters in the name and on behalf of the City, the execution of such final official statement to constitute conclusive evidence of this City Council's approval of such changes and completions.

(f) The Authorized Officer is hereby authorized to execute and deliver a Continuing Disclosure Undertaking (the "Continuing Disclosure Undertaking") evidencing the City's agreement to comply with the requirements of Section (b)(5) of Rule 15c2-12 adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in a form approved by the Corporation Counsel. Upon its execution and delivery on behalf of the City as herein provided, the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking will be binding on the City, and the officers, employees and agents of the City are hereby authorized to do all such acts and things and to execute all such documents as may be necessary to carry out and comply with the provisions of the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking as executed. The Authorized Officer is hereby further authorized to amend the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking in accordance with its terms from time to time following its execution and delivery as said Authorized Officer shall deem necessary. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Ordinance, the sole remedies for any failure by the City to comply with the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking shall be the ability of the beneficial owner of any 2015 Senior Lien Bond to seek mandamus or specific performance by court order to cause the City to comply with its obligations under the Continuing Disclosure Undertaking.

Section 2.8. Execution and Delivery of 2015 Senior Lien Bonds. Pursuant to the Senior Lien Master Indenture, the Mayor shall execute the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds on behalf of the City, by manual or facsimile signature, and the corporate seal of the City or a facsimile thereof shall be affixed, imprinted, engraved or otherwise reproduced on the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds and they shall be attested by the manual or facsimile signature of the City Clerk. The Mayor or the Authorized Officer is authorized (a) to tender for Outstanding Airport Obligations by direct tender or by open market tender, at such tender prices and on such tender payment dates, as shall be determined by the Mayor or the Authorized Officer and (b) on behalf of the City to enter into such agreements with bondholders and financial institutions and otherwise do, or cause to be done, all things necessary or desirable to accomplish the redemption, purchase or tender for purchase of Outstanding Airport Obligations.

Section 2.14. Public Approval. The actions of the Committee on Finance of the City Council of the City with respect to the publication of notice for and the holding of a public hearing in connection with the 2015 Senior Lien Bonds are hereby ratified and confirmed in all respects. Section 2.15. Debt Service Reserve Funds. The Mayor, the Commissioner of Aviation, the Authorized Officer, the City Clerk and other officers, agents and employees of the City are hereby further authorized, empowered and directed for and on behalf of the City, to execute and deliver all papers, documents, certificates and other instruments that may be required to carry out the authority conferred by this Ordinance, the Senior Lien Master Indenture and any Supplemental Indenture or to evidence said authority.

Section 2.17. Proxies. The Mayor and the Authorized Officer may each designate another to act as their respective proxy and to affix their respective signatures to, in the case of the Mayor, each 2015 Senior Lien Bond, whether in temporary or definitive form, and to any other instrument, certificate or document required to be signed by the Mayor or the Authorized Officer pursuant to this Ordinance and the Senior Lien Master Indenture. Section 2.08. Mutilated, Lost, Stolen or Destroyed Bonds. If any Bond is mutilated, lost, stolen or destroyed, the City may execute and the Trustee may authenticate a new Bond of like date, maturity, interest rate and denomination as the Bond mutilated, lost, stolen or destroyed, provided that, in the case of any mutilated Bond, such mutilated Bond shall first be surrendered to the Trustee, and in the case of any lost, stolen or destroyed Bond, there shall be first furnished to the City and the Trustee evidence of such loss, theft or destruction satisfactory to the City and the Trustee, together with indemnity satisfactory to them. In the event any such Bond shall have matured, instead of issuing a substitute Bond the City may pay the same without surrender thereof. The City and the Trustee may charge the Registered Owner of such Bond with their reasonable fees and expenses in this connection. All Bonds so surrendered to the Trustee shall be cancelled and destroyed, and evidence of such destruction shall be given to the City. Upon the date of final maturity or redemption of all of the Bonds, the Trustee shall destroy any inventory of unissued certificates.

Section 2.09. Registration and Exchange of Bonds; Persons Treated as Owners. The City shall cause books for the registration and for the transfer of the Bonds as provided in this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture to be kept by the Trustee as the Bond Registrar of the City. Upon surrender for transfer of any Bond at the principal office of the Bond Registrar, duly endorsed for transfer or accompanied by an assignment duly executed by the Registered Owner or his or her attorney duly authorized in writing, the City shall execute and the Bond Registrar shall authenticate and deliver in the name of the transferee or transferees a fully registered Bond for a like aggregate principal amount.

Bonds may be exchanged at the principal office of the Bond Registrar for a like aggregate principal amount of fully registered Bonds of the same maturity of other authorized denominations. The City shall execute and the Bond Registrar shall authenticate and deliver Bonds which the Bondowners making the exchange are entitled to receive, bearing numbers not contemporaneously then outstanding. The execution by the City of any Bond of any denomination shall constitute full and due authorization of such denomination and the Bond Registrar shall thereby be authorized to authenticate and deliver such Bond.

The Bond Registrar shall not be required to register for transfer or exchange any undelivered Bond or any Bond after the giving of notice calling such Bond for redemption or partial redemption.

The person in whose name any fully registered Bond is registered at the close of business on any Record Date with respect to any Interest Payment Date shall be entitled to receive the interest payable on such Interest Payment Date notwithstanding the cancellation of such registered Bond upon any transfer or exchange thereof subsequent to the Record Date and prior to such Interest Payment Date, except if and to the extent there shall be a default in the payment of the interest due on such Interest Payment Date, in which case such defaulted interest shall be paid to the person in whose name such Bond is registered either at the close of business on the day preceding the date of payment of such defaulted interest or on a subsequent Record Date for such payment if one shall have been established as hereinafter provided. A subsequent Record Date may be established by or on behalf of the City by notice mailed to the Registered Owners of Bonds not less than 10 days preceding such Record Date, which Record Date shall be not more than 30 days prior to the subsequent interest payment date.

Except as provided in the Indenture, as to any Bond the person in whose name the same shall be registered shall be deemed and regarded as the absolute owner thereof for all purposes, and payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest on any Bond shall be made only to or upon the written order of the Registered Owner thereof or his legal representative. All such payments shall be valid and effectual to satisfy and discharge the liability upon such Bond to the extent of the sum or sums so paid.

In each case the Bond Registrar shall require the payment by the Bondowner requesting exchange or transfer of any tax or other governmental charge required to be paid with respect to such exchange or transfer, but otherwise no charge shall be made to the Bondowner for such exchange or transfer.

Section 2.10. Book-Entry Provisions. The provisions of this Section shall apply so long as the Bonds are maintained in book-entry form with DTC or another Securities Depository, any provisions of this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding.

(a) Payments. The Bonds shall be payable to the Securities Depository, or its nominee, as the Registered Owner of the Bonds, in next day funds on each date on which the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds is due as set forth in this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture and in the Bonds. Such payments shall be made to the offices of the Securities Depository specified by the Securities Depository to the City and the Trustee in writing. Without notice to or the consent of the beneficial owners of the Bonds, the City and the Securities Depository may agree in writing to make payments of principal and interest in a manner different from that set forth herein. If such different manner of payment is agreed upon, the City shall give the Trustee notice thereof, and the Trustee shall make payments with respect to the Bonds in the manner specified in such notice as set forth herein. Neither the City nor the Trustee shall have any obligation with respect to the transfer or crediting of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds to Participants or the beneficial owners of the Bonds or their nominees.

(b) Replacement of the Securities Depository. If the City receives notice that the Securities Depository has received notice from its Participants having interests in at least 50% in principal amount of the Bonds that the Securities Depository or its successor is incapable of discharging its responsibilities as a securities depository or that it is in the best interests of the beneficial owners that they obtain certificated Bonds, the City shall cause the Trustee to authenticate and deliver Bond certificates. The City shall have no obligation to make any investigation to determine the occurrence of any events that would permit the City to make any determination described in this paragraph.

(c) Discontinuance of Book-Entry or Change of Securities Depository. If, following a determination or event specified in paragraph (b) above, the City discontinues the maintenance of the Bonds in book-entry form with the then current Securities Depository, the City will issue replacement Bonds to the replacement Securities Depository, if any, or, if no replacement Securities Depository is selected for the Bonds, directly to the Participants as shown on the records of the former Securities Depository or, to the extent requested by any Participant, to the beneficial owners of the Bonds shown on the records of such Participant. Replacement Bonds shall be in fully registered form and in Authorized Denominations, be payable as to interest on the Interest Payment Date of the Bonds by check or draft mailed to each Registered Owner at the address of such Registered Owner as it appears on the bond registration books maintained by the City for such purpose at the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee or at the option of any Registered Owner of not less than $1,000,000 original principal amount of Bonds, by wire transfer to any address in the continental United States of America on such Interest Payment Date to such Registered Owner as of such Record Date, if such Registered Owner provides the Trustee with written notice of such wire transfer address not later than the Record Date (which notice may provide that it will remain in effect with respect to subsequent Interest Payment Dates unless and until changed or revoked by subsequent notice). Principal and redemption premium, if any, on the replacement Bonds are payable only upon presentation and surrender of such replacement Bond or Bonds at the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee.

(d) Effect of Book-Entry System. The Securities Depository and its Participants and the beneficial owners of the Bonds, by their acceptance of the Bonds, agree that the City and the Trustee shall not have liability for the failure of such Securities Depository to perform its obligations to the Participants and the beneficial owners of the Bonds, nor shall the City or the Trustee be liable for the failure of any Participant or other nominee of the beneficial owners to perform any obligation of the Participant to a beneficial owner of the Bonds.

Section 3.03. Deposit of Funds. For the redemption of any of the Bonds, the City shall cause to be deposited in the Principal and Interest Account moneys sufficient to pay when due the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the redemption date to be applied in accordance with the provisions of Section 4.05 hereof.

If after the payment of all Costs of Issuance, as specified in a Certificate filed with the Trustee, there shall be any balance remaining in the Costs of Issuance Account, such balance shall be transferred to the Program Fee Account.

Moneys in the Program Fee Account shall be used solely for the payment of fees and expenses with respect to the Bonds as set forth in a Certificate filed with the Trustee.

Section 4.07. Tax Covenants. The City covenants to take any action required by the provisions of the Code and within its power to take in order to preserve the exemption from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds (other than with respect to an alternative minimum tax imposed on interest on the Bonds), including, but not limited to, the provisions of Section 148 of the Code relating to "arbitrage bonds." The City covenants to comply with the provisions of the Tax Certificates.

Section 4.08. Nonpresentment of Bonds. If any Bond shall not be presented for payment when the principal thereof becomes due, either at maturity, or at the date fixed for redemption thereof, or otherwise, if moneys sufficient to pay any such Bond shall have been made available to the Trustee for the benefit of the Registered Owner or Owners thereof, subject to the provisions of the immediately following paragraph, all liability of the City to the Registered Owner thereof for the payment of such Bond shall forthwith cease, determine and be completely discharged, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Trustee to hold such moneys, without liability for interest thereon, for the benefit of the Registered Owner of such Bond who shall thereafter be restricted exclusively to such moneys, for any claim of whatever nature under the Indenture or this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture or on, or with respect to, such Bond.

Any moneys so deposited with and held by the Trustee not so applied to the payment of Bonds within two years after the date on which the same shall have become due shall be repaid by the Trustee to the City upon direction of an Authorized Officer, and thereafter the Registered Owners of such Bonds shall be entitled to look only to the City for payment, and then only to the extent of the amount so repaid, and all liability of the Trustee with respect to such moneys shall thereupon cease, and the City shall not be liable for any interest thereon and shall not be regarded as a trustee of such moneys.

Before being required to make any such payment to the City, the Trustee may, at the expense of the City, publish such notice as may be deemed appropriate by the Trustee listing the Bonds so payable and not presented, and stating that such moneys remain unclaimed and that after a date set forth therein any balance thereof then remaining will be paid to the City. The obligation of the Trustee under this Section 4.08 to pay any such funds to the City shall be subject, however, to any provisions of law applicable to the Trustee or to such funds providing other requirements for disposition of unclaimed property.

Section 4.09. Moneys to Be Held in Trust. All moneys required to be deposited with or paid to the Trustee for the account of any Fund or Account referred to in any provision of this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture shall be held by the Trustee in trust as provided in Section 1003 of the Indenture, and shall, while held by the Trustee, constitute part of the Trust Estate and be subject to the lien or security interest created hereby.

Any Qualified Investments held to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Account shall be valued in accordance with Section 307 of the Indenture. If on any valuation date as provided in Section 307 of the Indenture the amount on deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Account is more than the Reserve Requirement, the amount of such excess shall be transferred by the Trustee for deposit into the Revenue Fund established under the Indenture.

(b) If at any time the Debt Service Reserve Account holds both a Qualified Reserve Account Credit Instrument and Qualified Investments, the Qualified Investments shall be liquidated and the proceeds applied for the purposes for which Debt Service Reserve Account moneys may be applied under this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture prior to any draw being made on the Qualified Reserve Account Credit Instrument. If the Debt Service Reserve Account holds Qualified Reserve Account Credit Instruments issued by more than one issuer, draws shall be made under such credit instruments on a pro rata basis to the extent of available funds. Amounts deposited in the 2015A Dedicated Sub-Fund for the purpose of restoring amounts withdrawn from the Debt Service Reserve Account shall be applied first to reimburse the Qualified Credit Provider and thereby reinstate the Qualified Reserve Account Credit Instrument and next to make deposits into the Debt Service Reserve Account.

[Section 4.11. Common Debt Service Reserve Sub-Fund. The City hereby designates the Bonds as Common Reserve Bonds. The City and the Trustee covenant and agree that the Common Debt Service Reserve Sub-Fund is to be administered for the equal benefit, protection and security of the Owners of the Common Reserve Bonds and that, with respect to the Common Debt Service Reserve Sub-Fund, all Outstanding Common Reserve Bonds are on a parity and rank equally without preference, priority or distinction.]

(vii) If applicable, that certain specified disbursements are not required to be certified by a Consulting Engineer pursuant to (b) below, specifying the amount of such disbursements and the reason that such disbursements need not be so certified.

(b) In respect to disbursements from the Project Account in payment for work done in connection with the construction, acquisition and installation of 2015A Airport Projects, such requisition, signed by the Chief Financial Officer or the City Comptroller, shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by a Consulting Engineer certifying that the obligations in stated amounts have been incurred by the City, and that each item thereof is a proper charge against the designated sub-account of the Project Account and has not been included in any prior requisition which has been paid, and insofar as any such obligation was incurred for work, materials, equipment or supplies, such work was actually performed in the furtherance of the construction, acquisition and installation of such 2015A Airport Projects delivered at the site of the Airport for those purposes, or delivered for storage or fabrication at a place or places approved by a Consulting Engineer and under the control of the City. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no certificate of a Consulting Engineer shall be required with respect to disbursements for Costs of Issuance or other costs that the Chief Financial Officer or the City Comptroller shall have certified as being costs that are not directly related to the actual construction, acquisition and installation of 2015A Airport Projects such as land acquisition, payment of auditor's fees and other similar costs that may otherwise be paid from the Project Accounts in compliance with the Tax Certificates.

(c) Upon receipt of any such orders and accompanying certificates the Trustee shall pay each such obligation from the appropriate sub-account of the Project Account and the Trustee shall make disbursements in accordance with the directions from the Chief Financial Officer or the City Comptroller. Concerning the Trustee

Section 7.01. Acceptance of Trusts. The Trustee hereby accepts the trusts imposed upon it by this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture, and agrees to perform said trusts, but only upon and subject to the express terms and conditions set forth herein and in the Indenture. Except as otherwise expressly set forth in this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture, the Trustee assumes no duties, responsibilities or liabilities by reason of its execution of this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture other than as set forth in the Indenture and this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture, and this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture is executed and accepted by the Trustee subject to all the terms and conditions of its acceptance of the trust under the Indenture, as fully as if said terms and conditions were herein set forth at length.

Section 7.02. Dealing in Bonds. The Trustee, in its individual capacity, either as principal or agent, may also engage in or be interested in any financial or other transaction with the City, and may act as depositary, trustee or agent for any committee or body of the owners of Bonds secured hereby or other obligations of the City as freely as if it did not act in any capacity hereunder.

ARTICLE VIII

Supplemental Indentures

Section 8.01. Supplements or Amendments to Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture. This Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture may be supplemented or amended in the manner set forth in Articles VII and VIII, respectively, of the Indenture.

ARTICLE IX

The 2010 Amendment deletes in full Section 413 of the Indenture which contains restrictions on the sale or transfer of the Airport. In consideration for the security interests granted by the City for the benefit of the Owners of the Bonds, the Owners from time to time of the Bonds hereby consent to the Thirty-Seventh Supplemental Indenture and to the 2010 Amendment of the Indenture. Such consents shall be fully effective for all purposes of Article VIII of the Indenture. The consent of any Owner made pursuant to this Section may be revoked in writing as provided by subsection (b) of Section 803 of the Indenture.

ARTICLE X

Insurer Provisions

Section 10.01. Insurer Provisions. The City hereby designates _____ as the Insurer with respect to the Insured Bonds. The Insurer shall be entitled to the benefits of Section 1104 of the Indenture. The following covenants shall apply only to the Insured Bonds and shall only be applicable during the period in which any Insured Bonds are Outstanding or any amounts are due to _____ under the Policy, and _____'s rights have not terminated pursuant to clause (a) of this Section 10.01. The covenants contained in this Section 10.01 may only be enforced by _____ and may be modified, amended or waived at any time with the prior written consent of _____ and without the consent of the Trustee (so long as such modification or amendment imposes no additional duties on the Trustee) or any holder of the Bonds.

(a) The existence of all rights given to _____ under this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture or the Indenture are expressly conditioned on the timely and full performance of the payment obligations of _____ under the Policy.

(b) _____ shall be considered the sole Owner of the Insured Bonds as provided in Section 1104 of the Indenture.

(c) It shall constitute an event of default hereunder for purposes of Section 901(d) of the Indenture if the City fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of the Indenture, or defaults in the performance or observance of any covenants, agreements or conditions on its part contained in the Indenture or the Senior Lien Obligations, which materially affects the rights of the Owners of the Senior Lien Obligations and the failure, refusal or default continues for a period of 45 days after written notice of it by the Trustee or the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Senior Lien Obligations; provided, however, that in the case of any such default which can be cured by due diligence but which cannot be cured within the 45-day period, the time to cure is extended for such period as may be necessary to remedy the default with all due diligence, provided that such extension shall not exceed 45 days without the prior written consent of _____ (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld).

(d) To the extent that this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture confers upon or gives or grants to _____ any right, remedy or claim under this Forty-Eighth Supplemental Indenture, _____ is hereby explicitly recognized as being a third-party beneficiary hereunder and may enforce any such right, remedy or claim conferred, given or granted hereunder.

(f) No amendment of the Indenture that materially and adversely alters the security for the Insured Bonds shall become effective without the prior written consent of _____ (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld).

(g) The rights granted to _____ hereunder to request, consent to or direct any action are rights granted to _____ in consideration of its issuance of the _____ Policy. Any exercise by _____ of such rights is merely an exercise of _____'s contractual rights and shall not be construed or deemed to be taken for the benefit or on behalf of the holders of the Insured Bonds nor does such action evidence any position of _____, positive or negative, as to whether Bondholder consent is required in addition to the consent of _____.

(h) Notwithstanding anything in the Indenture to the contrary, in the event that the principal and/or interest due on the Insured Bonds shall be paid by _____ pursuant to the Policy, the Insured Bonds shall remain Outstanding for all purposes, not be defeased or otherwise satisfied and not be considered paid by the City and all covenants, agreements and other obligations of the City to the registered owners shall continue to exist and shall run to the benefit of _____, and _____ shall be subrogated to the rights of such registered owners. [FORM OF REVERSE OF SERIES 2015B BOND]

This Bond is one of an authorized series of bonds limited in aggregate principal amount to $_____ (the "Bonds") issued pursuant to, under authority of and in full compliance with the Constitution and laws of the State of Illinois, particularly Article VII, Section 6(a) of the 1970 Constitution of the State of Illinois and an ordinance of the City Council of the City, and executed under a Master Indenture of Trust Securing Chicago O'Hare International Airport General Airport Revenue Senior Lien Obligations dated as of September 1, 2012, from the City to U.S. Bank National Association (the "Trustee"), as supplemented by a Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture Securing Chicago O'Hare International Airport General Airport Senior Lien Revenue Bonds, Series 2015B, dated as of _____, 2015, from the City to the Trustee (collectively, the "Indenture"), for the purpose of (i) refunding prior to maturity or paying at maturity certain outstanding Prior Airport Obligations (as defined in the Indenture), and (ii) paying costs and expenses incidental thereto and to the issuance of the Bonds.

The Bonds and the interest thereon are payable from Revenues (as defined in the Indenture) pledged to the payment thereof under the Indenture and certain other moneys held by or on behalf of the Trustee, including all moneys drawn by the Trustee under the irrevocable Letter of Credit (together with any Alternate Letter of Credit or Fixed Rate Letter of Credit, the "Letter of Credit") of [Name of Bank], a banking corporation organized under the laws of _____ (together with any bank issuing an Alternate Letter of Credit or Fixed Rate Letter of Credit, the "Bank"), in favor of the Trustee, issued at the request and for the account of the City, and from any other moneys held by the Trustee under the Indenture for such purpose. The City and [Name of Bank], as issuer of the initial Letter of Credit, have entered into a Reimbursement Agreement dated as of _____, 2015, pursuant to which the City has agreed, among other things, to reimburse [Name of Bank], for amounts drawn under the initial Letter of Credit.

The initial Letter of Credit expires on _____, ____, and terminates upon the earlier occurrence of certain events described therein. The City may, but is not required, to extend the initial Letter of Credit or provide an Alternate Letter of Credit or Fixed Rate Letter of Credit after the expiration or termination of the initial Letter of Credit. Upon the expiration or termination of the initial Letter of Credit, any Alternate Letter of Credit or a Fixed Rate Letter of Credit, the Bonds shall be subject to mandatory tender for purchase five Business Days preceding the proposed expiration or termination date (the "Credit Substitution Date").

Copies of the Indenture are on file at the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee, and reference to the Indenture and any and all supplements thereto and modifications and amendments thereof is made for a description of the pledge and covenants securing the Bonds, the nature, extent and manner of enforcement of such pledge, the rights and remedies of the registered owners of the Bonds, and the limitations on such rights and remedies.

The Bonds are issuable only as fully registered Bonds in the authorized denominations described in the Indenture.

Interest Rate on Bonds

Prior to the Fixed Rate Conversion (as defined in the Indenture), the Bonds shall bear interest at a Variable Rate which may be a Weekly Rate or Flexible Rate. Interest on the Bonds shall be payable in arrears on each Interest Payment Date. "Interest Payment Date" means as to any Weekly Mode, the first Business Day of each calendar month, commencing _____, 2015; as to any Flexible Period, the Flexible Date on which the next succeeding Flexible Period begins and the Mode Adjustment Date at the end of a Flexible Mode; and as to the Fixed Mode, January 1 and July 1. The interest on the Bonds in a Weekly Mode or Flexible Mode shall be payable on the applicable Interest Payment Date as herein described, computed on the basis of a 365 or 366-day year, as applicable, for the number of days actually elapsed. The interest on the Bonds in the Fixed Mode shall be payable semiannually on January 1 and July 1 of each year, computed on the basis of a 360-day year, consisting of twelve 30-day months. The Bonds shall bear interest for each Rate Period at the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (hereinafter defined) for such Rate Period.

During each Rate Period within an Interest Mode prior to Fixed Rate Conversion, the Bonds shall bear interest at the applicable Variable Rate determined as set forth below.

(A) During each Rate Period, the Variable Rate shall be that interest rate that, in the sole judgment of [Name of Remarketing Agent], or its successors or assigns as the Remarketing Agent (the "Remarketing Agent"), is necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof and accrued interest, if any, thereon. The Remarketing Agent shall determine the Variable Rate on each Rate Determination Date. The Variable Rate so determined shall become effective on the next succeeding Rate Adjustment Date unless the Rate Determination Date is also the Rate Adjustment Date, in which case, it shall become effective on such date.

(B) In determining the Variable Rate pursuant to the Indenture, the Remarketing Agent shall take into account to the extent applicable (1) market interest rates for comparable securities held by tax-exempt open-end municipal bond funds or other institutional or private investors with substantial portfolios (a) with interest rate adjustment periods and demand purchase options substantially identical to the Bonds, (b) bearing interest at a variable rate intended to maintain a value equal to 100 percent of the principal amount thereof, and (c) rated by a national credit rating agency in the same category as the Bonds; (2) other financial market rates and indices which may have a bearing on the Variable Rate (including, but not limited to, rates borne by commercial paper, tax-exempt commercial paper, HUD project notes, Treasury Bills, commercial bank prime rates, certificate of deposit rates, federal funds rates, the London Interbank Offered Rate, indices maintained by The Bond Buyer and other publicly available tax-exempt interest rate indices); (3) general financial market conditions (including current forward supply); and (4) industry, economic or financial conditions which may affect or be relevant to the Bonds.

(C) The determination by the Remarketing Agent in accordance with the Indenture of the Variable Rate to be borne by the Bonds shall be conclusive and binding on the owners of the Bonds. Failure by the Trustee to give any notice required under the Indenture, or any defect therein, shall not affect the interest rate borne by the Bonds or the rights of the owners of the Bonds to tender such Bonds for purchase pursuant to the Indenture.

(D) If for any reason the position of Remarketing Agent is vacant or the Remarketing Agent fails to act on the Rate Determination Date, the Variable Rate shall be determined by the Trustee in the manner set forth in the Indenture.

(E) Anything in the Indenture or in the Bonds to the contrary notwithstanding, the maximum interest rate on the Bonds shall be the lesser of (i) 18 percent per annum, or (ii) if the Bonds are secured by a Letter of Credit, the maximum interest rate on the Bonds used for purposes of calculating the stated amount of the Letter of Credit.

Conversion to Fixed Rate on Bonds

(A) At the option of the City, the rate of interest payable on the Bonds shall be permanently converted from a Variable Rate to a Fixed Rate. The Fixed Rate Conversion Date shall be any Interest Payment Date for which the applicable notices described in the Indenture have been given. In order to exercise the Fixed Rate Conversion option, the City shall deliver a Mode Adjustment Notice to the Notice Parties directing such Fixed Rate Conversion, which notice must be accompanied by a Fixed Rate Letter of Credit or a binding commitment therefor or a statement by the City to the effect that no Fixed Rate Letter of Credit will be effective after the Fixed Rate Conversion Date. The City shall also deliver to the Trustee the opinion of Bond Counsel described below. The notice shall specify the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, which shall be not less than 35 days following the receipt by the Trustee of the Fixed Rate Conversion notice.

(B) No Fixed Rate shall be established unless, on or before 35 days prior to the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, an opinion of Bond Counsel has been delivered to the Trustee to the effect that the Fixed Rate Conversion in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture (1) is lawful under the Constitution and laws of the State of Illinois and complies with the provisions of the Indenture, and (2) will not adversely affect the exemption of interest on the Bonds from Federal income taxation (other than with respect to an alternative minimum tax imposed on interest on the Bonds). Such opinion shall be confirmed by such Bond Counsel on the Fixed Rate Conversion Date. Unless and until the conditions for Fixed Rate Conversion set forth in the Indenture are satisfied, the Bonds shall continue to bear interest at a Variable Rate as provided in the Indenture.

(C) Upon the Fixed Rate Conversion, the Bonds shall be subject to mandatory purchase as provided below, and the owners shall be notified of the Fixed Rate Conversion as provided herein and in the Indenture.

Interest Modes

(A) Prior to the Fixed Rate Conversion, each Interest Mode shall be either a Weekly Mode or Flexible Mode as described in the Indenture. The Interest Mode from the Date of Issuance until further designated by the Remarketing Agent will be a Weekly Mode. Thereafter, unless Fixed Rate Conversion has occurred, from time to time, the Remarketing Agent may designate an alternate Interest Mode (other than a Fixed Mode). The Remarketing Agent shall evidence each such designation by giving a Mode Adjustment Notice to the Notice Parties in accordance with the Indenture. If, at the end of any Interest Mode, the Remarketing Agent does not designate an alternate Interest Mode as described herein, the next succeeding Interest Mode shall be of the same length as the Interest Mode then ending; provided, however, no Interest Mode shall extend beyond the final maturity date of the Bonds.

(B) Not later than five days following receipt by the Trustee of such Mode Adjustment Notice, the Trustee shall notify each owner in accordance with the Indenture of the new interest Mode. Failure by the Trustee to give such notice by mail, or any defect therein, shall not affect the validity of any mandatory purchase or extend the time when such mandatory purchase shall be made.

(C) For each Interest Mode, the frequency of each Interest Payment Date, the Record Date, the Rate Determination Date, the Rate Adjustment Date, the Mode Adjustment Notice, the Tender Notice, the Purchase Date, the Mandatory Purchase Date and the Notice of Mode Adjustment Date, shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture.

Purchase of Bonds Upon Demand of Owners

(A) During any Weekly Mode, any Bond (other than a Pledged Bond or a Bank-owned Bond) shall be purchased by the Trustee in accordance with the Indenture on any Purchase Date at the Purchase Price thereof upon the demand of the owner. As a condition precedent to the purchase of Bonds on any Purchase Date, the owner must deliver to the Trustee at the Delivery Office of the Trustee (i) a Tender Notice not later than the time specified in the Indenture and (ii) unless other delivery has been made satisfactory to the Trustee at any time the Bonds are held in book-entry form by a Securities Depository (as defined in the Indenture), the Bonds, together with an appropriate instrument of transfer or a bond power endorsed in blank, not later than 12:00 noon (New York City time) on the Purchase Date. Owners delivering Bonds to the Trustee after the applicable time on the applicable date as set forth above during a Weekly Mode shall not be entitled to receive payment from the Trustee until the Business Day following the date of delivery of the Bonds.

(B) Provided the Tender Notice and the Bonds are delivered by the times and in the manner specified herein, tendered Bonds shall be purchased by the Trustee on the Purchase Date which shall be on the Business Day specified in the Tender Notice which is at least seven days (which day must be a Business Day) immediately following receipt of the Tender Notice by the Trustee and not later than the then next succeeding Mode Adjustment Date.

(C) Any Tender Notice received by the Trustee pursuant to the provisions hereof and the Indenture shall be effective upon receipt and shall be irrevocable. Owners of Bonds not providing the Trustee with the Bonds for which a Tender Notice has been delivered to the Trustee ("Undelivered Bonds") shall be deemed to have tendered such Bonds in accordance with the Indenture, provided there shall have been irrevocably deposited in trust with the Trustee amounts sufficient to pay the Purchase Price of the Undelivered Bonds on the Purchase Date. In the event of a failure by an owner to deliver his or her Bond on or prior to the Purchase Date, such owner shall not be entitled to any payment (including any interest accrued from or subsequent to such Purchase Date) other than the Purchase Price for such Undelivered Bonds, and any Undelivered Bonds shall no longer be entitled to the benefits of the Indenture except for the purpose of payment of the Purchase Price therefor and interest thereon to such Purchase Date.

Mandatory Purchase

(A) The Bonds shall be subject to mandatory purchase prior to maturity at the Purchase Price:

(1) on the Mode Adjustment Date beginning any Flexible Mode,

(2) on the Fixed Rate Conversion Date,

(3) on any Credit Substitution Date,

(4) on the Interest Payment Date for any Flexible Period, and

(5) on the day ten days after the Bank delivers notice to the Trustee of the occurrence of an event of default under the Reimbursement Agreement and that the Letter of Credit is being terminated pursuant to its terms by the Bank

(each such date to be a "Mandatory Purchase Date").

(B) The Trustee shall give notice to each owner that his or her Bond is subject to mandatory purchase on the Mandatory Purchase Date as provided in the Indenture.

Exchange and Transfer of Bonds

Bonds (other than Undelivered Bonds) may be transferred on the books of registration kept by the Bond Registrar by the owner in person or by his or her duly authorized attorney, upon surrender thereof, together with a written instrument of transfer executed by the owner or his or her duly authorized attorney. Upon surrender for registration of transfer of any Bond with all partial redemptions endorsed thereon at the principal office of the Bond Registrar, the City shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver in the name of the transferee or transferees a new Bond or Bonds of the same maturity and interest rate, aggregate principal amount and tenor and of any authorized denomination or denominations and bearing numbers not contemporaneously outstanding under the Indenture.

Bonds (other than Undelivered Bonds) may be exchanged at the principal office of the Bond Registrar for an equal aggregate principal amount of Bonds in the appropriate form and in the same maturity and interest rate, aggregate principal amount and tenor and of any authorized denomination or denominations. The City shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver Bonds which the Bondholder making the exchange is entitled to receive.

Such registration of transfer or exchange of Bonds shall be without charge to the owners of such Bonds, but any taxes or other governmental charges required to be paid with respect to the same shall be paid by the owners of the Bond requesting such transfer or exchange as a condition precedent to the exercise of such privilege.

The Bond Registrar shall not be required to register for transfer or exchange any Undelivered Bond or any Bond (i) with respect to which the Trustee or the Remarketing Agent, as the case may be, shall have received a Tender Notice, (ii) after the giving of notice calling such Bond for redemption or partial redemption has been made, (iii) after the giving of notice of the Credit Substitution Date or Mandatory Purchase Date (following receipt by the Trustee of notice from the Bank of the occurrence of an event of default under the Reimbursement Agreement), or (iv) after the Remarketing Agent has given a Mode Adjustment Notice pursuant to the Indenture or the City has given a notice of Fixed Rate Conversion pursuant to the Indenture; provided that after such Mode Adjustment Date, Credit Substitution Date, Mandatory Purchase Date or Fixed Rate Conversion, the Bond Registrar shall be required to register the transfer or exchange of Bonds.

The person in whose name any Bond is registered shall be deemed and regarded as the absolute owner thereof for all purposes, and payment of or on account of principal, premium, if any, or interest shall be made only to or upon the order of the registered owner thereof or his or her duly authorized attorney, but such registration may be changed as hereinabove provided. All such payments shall be valid and effectual to satisfy and discharge the liability upon such Bond to the extent of the sum or sums so paid.

Redemption Prior to Maturity

So long as the Bonds do not bear interest at a Fixed Rate, the Bonds are subject to redemption at the option of the City on any Interest Payment Date in whole or in part at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount thereof, without premium, plus accrued interest to the redemption date.

When the Bonds bear interest at a Fixed Rate, the Bonds shall be subject to redemption at the option of the City in whole on any date or in part on any Interest Payment Date occurring on or after the date determined in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture at the redemption prices determined in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture.

The Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption, in part by lot as provided in the Indenture from mandatory Sinking Fund Payments, on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts set forth below, at a redemption price equal to the principal amount thereof to be redeemed plus accrued interest to the date of redemption:

Year	Principal Amount
	(maturity)

If the City redeems Bonds pursuant to optional redemption or purchases such Bonds and cancels the same, then an amount equal to the principal amount of Bonds of such maturity so redeemed or purchased shall be deducted from the mandatory redemption requirements as provided for such Bonds of such maturity in such order as the City Comptroller shall determine.

Upon the conversion of the Bonds to a Fixed Rate in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture, the City may direct the Trustee to select in advance of the date on which the Trustee would otherwise do so the Bonds to be redeemed pursuant to the foregoing schedule.

Notice of any such redemption must be given by the Trustee by first class mail not less than 30 nor more than 60 days prior thereto to the registered owners of the Bonds. Failure to mail any such notice to the registered owner of any Bond or any defect therein shall not affect the validity of the proceedings for such redemption of Bonds.

This Bond and all other Bonds of the series of which it forms a part are issued pursuant to an ordinance adopted by the City Council of the City, which ordinance authorizes the execution and delivery of the Indenture. This Bond and the series of which it forms a part are limited obligations of the City payable solely from the amounts pledged therefor under the Indenture.

No recourse shall be had for the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, or interest on any of the Bonds or for any claim based thereon or upon any obligation, covenant or agreement in the Indenture contained, against any past, present or future officer, employee or agent, or member of the City Council, of the City, or any successor to the City, as such, either directly or through the City, or any successor to the City, under any rule of law or equity, statute or constitution or by the enforcement of any assessment or penalty or otherwise, and all such liability of any such officer, employee or agent, or member of the City Council, as such, is hereby expressly waived and released as a condition of and in consideration for the execution of the Indenture and the issuance of any of the Bonds.

The owner of this Bond shall have no right to enforce the provisions of the Indenture or to institute action to enforce the covenants therein, or to take any action with respect to any event of default under the Indenture, or to institute, appear in or defend any suit or other proceedings with respect thereto, except as provided in the Indenture.

The Indenture prescribes the manner in which it may be discharged and after which the Bonds shall no longer be secured by or entitled to the benefits of the Indenture, except as provided in the Indenture and for the purposes of registration and exchange of Bonds and of such payment, including a provision that the Bonds shall be deemed to be paid if Federal Obligations, as defined therein, maturing as to principal and interest in such amounts and at such times as to insure the availability of sufficient moneys to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds and all necessary and proper fees, compensation and expenses of the Trustee shall have been deposited with the Trustee.

Modifications or alterations of the Indenture, or of any supplements thereto, may be made only to the extent and in the circumstances permitted by the Indenture.

"Variable Rate" means the rate of interest payable on the Bonds prior to the Fixed Rate Conversion, determined for each Interest Mode as provided in Section 2.03 hereof.

"Weekly Mode" means an Interest Mode during which the rate of interest borne by the Bonds is determined as set forth in Section 2.03(b) hereof.

"Weekly Rate" means, for each Rate Period during any Weekly Mode, the rate of interest established pursuant to Section 2.03(d) hereof.

ARTICLE II

The Bonds

Section 2.01. Authorized Amount of Bonds. No Bonds may be issued under the provisions of this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture except in accordance with this Article. The Bonds are being issued to provide funds to pay and retire the Prior Airport Obligations and to pay Costs of Issuance of the Bonds. Except as provided in Section 2.13 hereof, the total principal amount of Bonds that may be issued hereunder is expressly limited to $$$_____.

Section 2.02. Issuance of Bonds; Denominations; Numbers. The Bonds shall be designated "City of Chicago, Chicago O'Hare International Airport General Airport Senior Lien Revenue Bonds, Series 2015B" and shall, except as otherwise provided in this Section 2.02, be dated the date of delivery of the Bonds and shall bear interest from the date thereof, and thereafter shall be dated on and shall bear interest from the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of authentication, unless the date of authentication is an Interest Payment Date to which interest has been paid or duly provided for, in which case from the date thereof or unless no interest has been paid or duly provided for on the Bonds, in which case from the date of delivery of the Bonds until paid, in each case at the rates set forth in Sections 2.03 and 2.04 hereof, and shall mature, unless sooner paid, on January 1, ____, on which date all unpaid principal and interest on the Bonds shall be due and payable.

The Bonds shall be issued as registered bonds without coupons. During any Weekly Mode or Flexible Mode, the Bonds shall be issued in denominations of $100,000 each or any integral multiple thereof, and during the Fixed Mode the Bonds shall be issued in denominations of $5,000 each or any integral multiple thereof. The Bonds shall be numbered consecutively from R-1 upwards bearing numbers not then contemporaneously outstanding (in order of issuance) according to the records of the Bond Registrar.

The principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America. The principal of and premium, if any, on all Bonds shall be payable at the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee upon the presentation and surrender of the Bonds as the same become due and payable. The interest on the Bonds shall be paid by check drawn upon the Trustee and mailed to the persons in whose names the Bonds are registered at his or her address as it appears on the registration books maintained by the Bond Registrar at the close of business on the Record Date next preceding each Interest Payment Date or at such other address as is furnished in writing by such owner to the Bond Registrar. Interest on the Bonds shall be paid by wire transfer to any registered owner who at the close of business on such Record Date has given written notice of his or her wire transfer address in the continental United States to the Bond Registrar prior to such Record Date (which notice may provide that it will remain in effect until revoked), provided that each such wire transfer shall only be made with respect to an owner of $1,000,000 or more in aggregate principal amount of the Bonds as of the close of business on such Record Date.

Promptly on each Record Date, the Trustee shall calculate the amount of interest to be paid on the next succeeding Interest Payment Date and shall, not later than 12:00 noon, New York City time, on the Record Date next preceding such Interest Payment Date, notify the City of the amount of interest to be paid.

Section 2.03. Interest Rates on Bonds.

(a) General. The interest on the Bonds in a Weekly Mode or Flexible Mode shall be payable on the applicable Interest Payment Date as herein described, computed on the basis of a 365 or 366-day year, as applicable, for the number of days actually elapsed. The initial Interest Payment Date shall be _____, 2015. The interest on the Bonds in the Fixed Mode shall be payable semiannually on January 1 and July 1 of each year, computed on the basis of a 360-day year, consisting of twelve 30-day months. The Bonds shall bear interest for each Rate Period at the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent for such Rate Period. For the period from and including the date of initial authentication and delivery of the Bonds to and including _____, 2015, the interest rate on the Bonds shall be _____% per annum.

(b) Weekly Mode. For a Weekly Mode the interest rate for the Bonds shall be determined in the following manner. At or before 2:00 p.m., New York City time, on each Rate Determination Date for each Weekly Mode the Remarketing Agent shall determine, in accordance with subparagraph (d) hereof, the Weekly Rate to be borne by the Bonds during the relevant Rate Period. The Weekly Rate so determined shall be effective as of the relevant Rate Adjustment Date. The Remarketing Agent shall promptly notify the Trustee of the Weekly Rate, promptly confirmed in writing.

(c) Flexible Mode. (1) For a Flexible Mode the interest rate on the Bonds shall be determined in the following manner. At or before 12:30 p.m., New York City time, on the Rate Determination Date for each Flexible Period the Remarketing Agent shall determine, in accordance with subparagraph (d) hereof, the Flexible Rate to be borne by the related Bond or Bonds during the relevant Rate Period. The Flexible Rate so determined shall be effective as of the relevant Rate Adjustment Date.

(2) Each Flexible Period shall be determined by the Remarketing Agent (which may be from one to 270 days) based upon the Remarketing Agent's judgment after consultation with the City that the length of the Flexible Period will be beneficial to the City. Interest on the Bonds bearing interest at a Flexible Rate will accrue from the Flexible Date commencing such Flexible Period to, and including, the last day of such Period.

Each Flexible Period shall be established by the Remarketing Agent such that:

(i) the Interest Payment Date for such Flexible Period is not less than ten days prior to the stated expiration date or termination date of the Letter of Credit then in effect;

(ii) the Interest Payment Date for such Flexible Period shall be a Business Day;

(iii) in the event any Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption or the City has given a directive to the Trustee to redeem Bonds pursuant to Section 3.01 hereof, no Flexible Period for such Bonds shall extend beyond the mandatory redemption date or redemption date provided in such directive; provided that in either case if the Bonds shall be redeemed in part, the Flexible Period for the Bonds not to be so redeemed may, but shall not be required to, extend beyond the redemption date provided in such directive; and

(iv) no Flexible Period determined by the Remarketing Agent shall extend beyond a Mode Adjustment Date, Fixed Rate Conversion Date or Credit Substitution Date.

There can be different Flexible Periods and thus different Flexible Rates for the Bonds at any one time.

The Flexible Period for each Bond that is not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent shall have a duration of one day; provided, however, that if the day succeeding any Flexible Period of one day's duration would not be a Business Day, such Flexible Period shall have a duration equal to the number of days required so that the day immediately succeeding the last day of such Flexible Period shall be a Business Day. Such Bond shall bear interest at the Flexible Rate corresponding to the duration of such Flexible Period, as determined by the Remarketing Agent, from the applicable Rate Adjustment Date through the expiration of such Flexible Period.

(3) The Remarketing Agent shall promptly notify the City, the Trustee and the Bank of the Flexible Rate and Flexible Period so determined, promptly confirmed in writing.

(d) The Remarketing Agent shall determine each Variable Rate on each Rate Determination Date as that rate which, in the sole judgment of the Remarketing Agent, shall be the interest rate borne by a Bond necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell such Bond on such Rate Determination Date at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount and accrued interest, if any, thereon. In determining each Variable Rate pursuant to this Section 2.03, the Remarketing Agent shall take into account to the extent applicable (1) market interest rates for comparable securities held by tax exempt, open-end municipal bond funds or other institutional or private investors with substantial portfolios (i) with interest rate adjustment periods and demand purchase options substantially identical to the Bonds, (ii) bearing interest at a variable rate intended to maintain a value equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, and (iii) rated by a national credit rating agency in the same category as the Bonds; (2) other financial market rates and indices which may have a bearing on the Variable Rate (including, but not limited to, rates borne by commercial paper, tax-exempt commercial paper, HUD project notes, Treasury Bills, commercial bank prime rates, certificate of deposit rates, federal funds rates, the London Interbank Offered Rate, indices maintained by The Bond Buyer, and other publicly available tax-exempt interest rate indices); (3) general financial market conditions (including current forward supply); and (4) industry, economic or financial conditions which may affect or be relevant to the Bonds.

(e) The determination by the Remarketing Agent in accordance with this Section 2.03 of the Weekly Rate, the Flexible Period and the Flexible Rate shall be conclusive and binding on the owners of the Bonds and the Notice Parties. Failure by the Trustee or any Paying Agent to give any notice required hereunder, or any defect therein, shall not affect the interest rate borne by the Bonds or the rights of the owners thereof pursuant to Section 2.06 hereof.

(f) If for any reason the position of Remarketing Agent is vacant or the Remarketing Agent fails to act on the Rate Determination Date, (i) if the Bonds are in a Weekly Mode, the Weekly Rate for the immediately preceding Rate Period shall remain in effect until a new Remarketing Agent is appointed or the Remarketing Agent determines a new Weekly Rate, and (ii) if the Bonds are in the Flexible Mode, each successive Flexible Period shall be equal to 30 days and the Flexible Rate shall be equal to The Bond Buyer Tax-Exempt Prime Commercial Paper Rate (30 days) for the most recent period or any comparable composite rate for short-term, tax-exempt securities, as determined by the Trustee.

(g) Anything herein or in the Bonds to the contrary notwithstanding, no payment constituting interest on the Bonds shall be required to the extent that it exceeds the lesser of (i) _____% per annum, or (ii) if the Bonds are secured by a Letter of Credit, the maximum interest rate on the Bonds used for purposes of calculating the stated amount of the Letter of Credit.

Section 2.04. Conversion to Fixed Rate on Bonds.

(a) At the option of the City, the rate of interest payable on the Bonds shall be permanently converted from a Variable Rate to the Fixed Rate. The Fixed Rate Conversion Date shall be any Interest Payment Date for which the applicable notices described in subparagraph (d) of this Section 2.04 have been given. In order to exercise the Fixed Rate Conversion option, the City shall deliver a Mode Adjustment Notice to the Notice Parties directing such Fixed Rate Conversion. The Mode Adjustment Notice shall specify the period during which the Fixed Rate shall be determined and the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, which shall be not less than 35 days following the receipt by the Trustee of such Fixed Rate Conversion notice. Such notice shall be accompanied by a Fixed Rate Letter of Credit or a binding commitment therefor or if no Fixed Rate Letter of Credit will be effective after the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, a statement by the City to that effect.

(b) No Fixed Rate shall be established unless, on or before 35 days prior to the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, an opinion of Bond Counsel has been delivered to the Trustee to the effect that the Fixed Rate Conversion in accordance with the provisions of this Forty-Ninth

Supplemental Indenture (1) is lawful under the Constitution and laws of the State and complies with the provisions of this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture, and (2) will not adversely affect the exclusion of interest on the Bonds from gross income for Federal income tax purposes (other than with respect to an alternative minimum tax imposed on interest on the Bonds). Such opinion of Bond Counsel shall be confirmed in writing by such Bond Counsel on the Fixed Rate Conversion Date.

(c) Unless and until the conditions for Fixed Rate Conversion set forth in this Section 2.04 are satisfied, the Bonds shall continue in the then current Interest Mode and continue to bear interest at a Variable Rate determined as provided in Section 2.03 hereof.

(d) Unless the City exercises its option not to convert as described in subparagraph (e) below, the Trustee shall give telephonic notice, confirmed in writing, to the Bank of the date of the Fixed Rate Conversion and shall mail by first class mail a notice to each owner of the Bonds not less than 30 days prior to the Fixed Rate Conversion Date stated in the notice from the City stating:

(1) that the interest rate on the Bonds may be converted to a Fixed Rate;

(2) the Fixed Rate Conversion Date;

(3) that after the Fixed Rate Conversion the owners of the Bonds will no longer have the right to tender Bonds to the Trustee for purchase, specifying the last times and dates prior to the Fixed Rate Conversion Date on which such Bonds must be delivered for purchase, and upon which notice must be given; and

(4) that all Bonds will be purchased pursuant to Section 2.08 hereof on the Fixed Rate Conversion Date.

(e) The City shall have the option, to be exercised prior to the date the Trustee mails a notice to each owner of the Bonds pursuant to subparagraph (d) above, to elect not to convert the Bonds to the Fixed Mode. The City shall give any such notice to the Notice Parties in writing. If the City elects not to convert the Bonds to the Fixed Mode, the Bonds shall continue in the then current Interest Mode and continue to bear interest at a Variable Rate determined as provided in Section 2.03 hereof.

(f) Not later than the last Business Day preceding the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, the Remarketing Agent shall determine the Fixed Rate as that rate of interest which, in the sole judgment of the Remarketing Agent, would result as nearly as practicable in the market value of the Bonds on the Fixed Rate Conversion Date being equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. Notice of the Fixed Rate shall be promptly given by the Remarketing Agent to the Trustee and the other Notice Parties. In determining the Fixed Rate pursuant to this Section, the Remarketing Agent shall take into account to the extent applicable (1) market interest rates for comparable securities which are held by institutional and private investors with substantial portfolios (i) with a term equal to the period to maturity remaining on the Bonds, (ii) the interest on which is exempt from Federal income taxation, (iii) rated, if the Bonds are rated by a national credit rating agency, in the same rating category as the Bonds, and (iv) with redemption provisions similar to those of the Bonds; (2) other financial market rates and indices which have a bearing on the Fixed Rate (including, but not limited to, rates borne by industrial development bonds, pollution control revenue bonds, public power bonds, housing bonds, other revenue bonds, general obligation bonds, United States Treasury obligations, commercial bank prime rates, certificate of deposit rates, federal funds rates, indices maintained by The Bond Buyer and other publicly available tax-exempt interest rate indices); (3) general financial market conditions (including current forward supply); and (4) industry, economic or financial conditions which may affect or be relevant to the Bonds. Upon the date stated in the Mode Adjustment Notice as the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, the Fixed Rate shall be effective and shall be equal to the Fixed Rate so determined by the Remarketing Agent.

(g) The determination of the Fixed Rate by the Remarketing Agent in accordance with this Section shall be conclusive and binding on the owners of the Bonds and the other Notice Parties.

(h) If for any reason the position of Remarketing Agent is vacant or the Remarketing Agent fails to act by the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, the Bonds shall continue to bear interest in the then current Interest Mode and continue to bear interest at the Variable Rate determined as provided in Section 2.03 hereof.

(i) Upon any Fixed Rate Conversion as provided in this Section, the Bonds shall be subject to mandatory purchase in accordance with Section 2.08 hereof, and the owners shall be notified of the Fixed Rate Conversion as provided herein and therein. No Bonds (other than Bonds remarketed as Fixed Rate Bonds) shall be remarketed by the Remarketing Agent subsequent to the date of notice of Fixed Rate Conversion unless the Remarketing Agent procures an acknowledgment from the purchaser of such remarketed Bonds of receipt of notice of (1) the Fixed Rate Conversion and (2) the fact that there may not be a Fixed Rate Letter of Credit in effect after the Fixed Rate Conversion. The Bonds shall be deemed purchased and shall be delivered to the Remarketing Agent for remarketing in accordance with Section 2.07 hereof.

(j) Not later than 31 days prior to a proposed Fixed Rate Conversion Date, the City may direct the Trustee in writing to select in advance of the date on which the Trustee would otherwise do so the Bonds to be redeemed prior to maturity pursuant to Section 3.01(b) hereof on each subsequent mandatory redemption date specified in such direction. Thereafter, but not later than ten days prior to the effective date of such conversion, the Trustee shall:

(1) assign a distinctive number (a "Tentative Serial Bond Number") to each $5,000 in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding;

(2) treating each Tentative Serial Bond Number as a separate Bond, select by lot in such manner as the Trustee deems appropriate and fair the particular Bonds to be redeemed on each subsequent mandatory redemption date specified in the City's direction, in such manner that the aggregate principal amount of Bonds required by Section 3.01(b) hereof to be redeemed on each such date shall be so redeemed;

(3) assign to each Bond selected to be redeemed prior to maturity a distinctive number (a "Permanent Serial Bond Number") corresponding to its Tentative Serial Bond

Number, whereupon the Tentative Serial Bond Numbers previously assigned to all such Bonds and to any Bonds not so selected shall lapse and shall no longer be effective; and

(4) provide the City, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank with copies of a list of all Permanent Serial Bond Numbers assigned to the Bonds and the date on which each Bond bearing a Permanent Serial Bond Number is scheduled to be redeemed prior to its stated maturity.

The Trustee shall cause to be noted on each Bond thereafter authenticated the Permanent Serial Bond Number or Numbers, if any, assigned to such Bond and the date on which the Bond or a portion thereof in the principal amount of $5,000 bearing such permanent Serial Bond Number is scheduled to be redeemed. In addition the Remarketing Agent shall apply for and, if available, cause to be printed on each Bond scheduled to be redeemed on a particular date pursuant to the preceding provisions of this Section a separate CUSIP number that, either on its face or by reference to an index or directory or otherwise, identifies the date on which such Bond is scheduled to be redeemed prior to its stated maturity date.

Solely for the purpose of selecting Bonds for redemption prior to maturity, whether at the option of the City pursuant to Section 3.01(b) hereof or otherwise, all of the Bonds scheduled to be redeemed on a particular date pursuant to the preceding provisions of this Section shall be deemed to mature on that date.

If any condition to the Fixed Rate Conversion to a Fixed Rate shall not have been satisfied on the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, the mandatory redemption dates determined pursuant to this Section 2.04(j) shall be of no force or effect.

Section 2.05. Interest Modes.

(a) The Interest Mode from the Date of Issuance until further designated by the Remarketing Agent shall be a Weekly Mode. Thereafter, in order to designate a new Interest Mode which shall apply to all Bonds (other than as provided in Section 2.04 hereof which allows the City to convert to the Fixed Mode), the Remarketing Agent, in consultation with the City, shall provide a Mode Adjustment Notice to the Notice Parties stating (1) the Mode Adjustment Date, which date shall be an Interest Payment Date at least 20 days, in the case of a change to a Weekly Mode or Flexible Mode, after the date on which the Mode Adjustment Notice is received by the Trustee, and (2) the Interest Mode that will be effective on such Mode Adjustment Date; furthermore, in the case of a change from a Flexible Mode to any other Interest Mode, such Mode Adjustment Date must be an Interest Payment Date with respect to all Bonds. The Remarketing Agent may designate a new Interest Mode upon a determination by the Remarketing Agent that a change to the Interest Mode would result in the lowest overall cost to the City.

(b) Not later than five days following receipt by the Trustee of a Mode Adjustment Notice, the Trustee shall mail to each Bond owner by registered or certified mail a notice containing the same information as that contained in the Mode Adjustment Notice.

(c) The owners of the Bonds, by their acceptance of the Bonds, agree to tender their Bonds to the Trustee, as more specifically provided for in Section 2.08 hereof.

(d) If for any reason following the delivery of any Mode Adjustment Notice, a new Interest Mode, a new Rate Period or the Fixed Rate is not effective, the Bonds shall continue to bear interest in the then current Interest Mode, and all rights, privileges and obligations of the Bondholders and the Notice Parties shall continue as they were as though such Mode Adjustment Notice had not been given, except the provisions of Section 2.08 hereof shall be applicable. The failure of a new Interest Mode, a new Rate Period or the Fixed Rate to become effective shall not be deemed to be a default under this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture.

(e) From the date on which (1) the City gives notice to the Trustee of its election to redeem any Bonds pursuant to Section 3.01 hereof, (2) the Trustee gives the notice of a mandatory purchase pursuant to Section 2.08 hereof, or (3) the Remarketing Agent gives a Mode Adjustment Notice, to the day on which such redemption, purchase or Interest Mode adjustment is scheduled to occur, no new Interest Mode may become effective with respect to Bonds affected by such events. The Remarketing Agent shall upon designation of a Mode Adjustment Date or Fixed Rate Conversion Date only remarket Bonds for delivery not later than such Mode Adjustment Date or Fixed Rate Conversion Date, as the case may be.

(f) For each Interest Mode, the Interest Payment Date and method of calculating interest due, the Record Date, the dates of the Mode Adjustment Notice, the Optional Tender Notice, the Optional Tender Date, the date of delivery of Bonds upon Optional Tender, the Rate Determination Date, the Rate Adjustment Date and the date of the Notice of Variable/Fixed Rate shall be determined in accordance with the schedule set forth upon the following pages, provided that in the event of any conflict between the provisions of this Section 2.05(f) and any other provisions of this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture, such other provisions shall govern:

(a) During any Weekly Mode, any Bond (other than Pledged Bonds or Bank-owned Bonds) shall be purchased by the Trustee in accordance with Section 9.06 hereof on any Purchase Date at the Purchase Price thereof upon the demand of the owner. As a condition precedent to the purchase of Bonds on any Purchase Date, the owner must deliver to the Trustee at its Delivery Office (i) a Tender Notice not later than 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on any Business Day, and (ii) unless other delivery has been made satisfactory to the Trustee at any time the Bonds are held in book-entry form by a Securities Depository, the Bonds, together with an Owners delivering Bonds to the Trustee after the applicable time on the applicable date as set forth above shall not be entitled to receive payment of the Purchase Price from the Trustee until the Business Day following the date of delivery of the Bonds.

Provided the Tender Notice and Bonds are delivered by the time and in the manner specified herein, tendered Bonds shall be purchased by the Trustee on the Purchase Date which shall be on the Business Day specified in the Tender Notice which is at least seven days (which day must be a Business Day) immediately following receipt of the Tender Notice by the Trustee and not later than the then next succeeding Mode Adjustment Date.

(b) Any Tender Notice received by the Trustee pursuant to this Section shall be effective upon receipt and shall be irrevocable. Any Bond for which such Tender Notice has been received shall be deemed to have been tendered on the Purchase Date, and such owner shall not be entitled to any payment (including any interest accrued from or subsequent to the Purchase Date) other than the Purchase Price for such Undelivered Bonds, and any Undelivered Bonds shall no longer be entitled to the benefits of the Indenture, except for the payment of the Purchase Price therefor and interest thereon to such Purchase Date.

(c) It is the express intention of the parties hereto that any purchase, sale or transfer of Bonds, as provided in this Section, shall not constitute or be construed to be the extinguishment of any Bonds or the reissuance of any Bonds.

(d) The Tender Notice shall state (i) the CUSIP number of the Bond, (ii) the principal amount thereof, and if less than all of the Bond is being tendered for purchase, the amount being tendered, (iii) the name of the registered owner of the Bond and (iv) the date such Bond is to be purchased, and the written Tender Notice shall be signed by the owner thereof, with such signature guaranteed by a commercial bank or trust company having an office or correspondent in New York City or a member organization of a registered national stock exchange.

Section 2.07. Remarketing of Bonds.

(a) Upon the tender of any Bonds in accordance with Section 2.06 or 2.08 hereof, the Remarketing Agent shall offer for sale and use its best efforts to sell such Bonds (or portion thereof) on any Purchase Date or Mandatory Purchase Date for such Bonds at the Purchase Price. If the Bonds are not remarketed, the Remarketing Agent shall continue to use its best efforts to remarket the Bonds unless otherwise directed by the City.

(b) The Remarketing Agent shall not remarket any Bonds pursuant to this Section 2.07 (i) if an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing hereunder with respect to the Bonds or (ii) except in compliance with this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture.

Section 2.08. Mandatory Purchase.

(a) The Bonds shall be subject to mandatory purchase prior to maturity at the Purchase Price (1) on the Mode Adjustment Date beginning any Flexible Mode, (2) on the Fixed Rate Conversion Date or on any Credit Substitution Date, (3) on the Interest Payment Date for any Flexible Period, and (4) on the day ten days after the Bank delivers notice to the Trustee of the occurrence of an event of default under the Reimbursement Agreement and that the Letter of Credit is being terminated pursuant to its terms by the Bank.

(b) The Trustee shall, prior to the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, give notice to each owner pursuant to Section 2.04(d) hereof.

(c) In connection with any mandatory purchase of Bonds upon a Mode Adjustment Date, the Trustee shall not later than five days following receipt of the Mode Adjustment Notice from the Remarketing Agent pursuant to Section 2.05(a) hereof send by first class mail a notice of mandatory purchase to each owner which in substance shall state the following:

(1) the Mode Adjustment Date as set forth in Section 2.05 hereof;

(2) that all owners of Bonds shall be deemed to have tendered their Bonds for purchase on the applicable Mode Adjustment Date; and

(3) delivery instructions for the Bonds to be surrendered for mandatory purchase and the time by which such Bonds must be delivered.

Failure by the Trustee to give such notice by mail or any defect therein shall not affect the validity of any mandatory purchase or extend the time when such mandatory purchase shall be made.

(d) In connection with any mandatory purchase of Bonds upon a day described in paragraph (a)(4) of this Section, the Trustee shall not later than five days following receipt of the notice from the Bank send by registered or certified mail a notice of mandatory purchase to each owner which in substance shall state the following:

(1) the Mandatory Purchase Date;

(2) that all owners of Bonds subject to such mandatory purchase shall be deemed to have tendered their Bonds for purchase; and

(3) delivery instructions for the Bonds to be surrendered for mandatory purchase and the time by which the Bonds must be delivered.

Failure to give any such notice to any owner of the Bonds or any defect therein shall not affect the validity of any such mandatory purchase or extend the time when such mandatory purchase shall be made.

(e) In connection with any Credit Substitution Date (other than as described in (d) above), the Trustee shall promptly give immediate notice by registered or certified mail, not less than 20 days and not more than 25 days prior to each Credit Substitution Date, to the Bank and to each owner of Bonds that all Bonds shall be subject to mandatory purchase on such Credit Substitution Date. Such notice shall state in substance the following:

(1) on and after such Credit Substitution Date the Bonds will not be entitled to the benefit of the then existing Letter of Credit, and whether any Alternate Letter of Credit or Fixed Rate Letter of Credit will thereafter be in effect;

(2) whether any rating on the Bonds issued by Moody's, S&P or any other rating agency then in effect will be reduced, suspended or withdrawn; provided if the Trustee shall not have been given notice and evidence that any such rating will or will not be reduced, suspended or withdrawn, the notice shall state that such rating on the Bonds may be reduced, suspended or withdrawn; and

(3) that all owners of Bonds shall be deemed to have tendered such Bonds for purchase on such Credit Substitution Date.

Failure to give any such notice to any owner of the Bonds or any defect therein shall not affect the validity of any such mandatory purchase or extend the time when such mandatory purchase shall be made.

(f) In connection with Bonds in a Flexible Mode, the Remarketing Agent shall send by first class mail a confirmation notice to owners upon the purchase of Bonds by such owner which in substance shall state the following:

(1) the Flexible Rate;

(2) the Flexible Period;

(4) the Mandatory Purchase Date.

(g) In the event the Bonds become subject to mandatory purchase pursuant to this Section 2.08, the Trustee shall hold any investments (or the proceeds thereof) in the Letter of Credit Account without reinvestment until the applicable Mandatory Purchase Date.

Section 2.09. Execution; Limited Obligations. The Bonds shall be executed on behalf of the City with the official manual or facsimile signature of the Mayor of the City and attested with the official manual or facsimile signature of its City Clerk, and shall have affixed, impressed, imprinted or otherwise reproduced thereon the corporate seal of the City or a facsimile thereof. The Bonds are issued pursuant to and in full compliance with the Constitution and laws of the State, and pursuant to an ordinance duly adopted by the City Council of the City, which ordinance authorizes the execution and delivery of this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture. The Bonds and the Series 2015B Bank Obligations are not general obligations of the City but limited obligations payable solely from the Revenues (except to the extent paid out of moneys attributable to the proceeds derived from the sale of the Bonds or to income from the temporary investment thereof) and from moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit and shall be a valid claim of the respective Registered Owners thereof only against the 2015B Dedicated Sub-Fund and other moneys held by the Trustee or otherwise pledged therefor, which amounts are hereby pledged, assigned and otherwise held as security for the equal and ratable payment of the Bonds and the Series 2015B Bank Obligations and shall be used for no other purpose than to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds and the Series 2015B Bank Obligations, except as may be otherwise expressly authorized in the Indenture or in this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture. The Bonds shall not constitute an indebtedness of the City or a loan of credit thereof within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation, and neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the City, the State or any political subdivision thereof is pledged to the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, or the interest on the Bonds or other costs incident thereto. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on the Bonds shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such Bonds, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, as if he or she had remained in office until delivery.

Section 2.10. Authentication. No Bond shall be valid or obligatory for any purpose or be entitled to any security or benefit under this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture unless and until such certificate of authentication in substantially the form hereinabove set forth shall have been duly executed by the Trustee, and such executed certificate of the Trustee, upon any such Bond shall be conclusive evidence that such Bond has been authenticated and delivered under this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture. The Trustee's certificate of authentication on any Bond shall be deemed to have been executed by it if (a) signed by an authorized signatory of the Trustee, but it shall not be necessary that the same signatory sign the certificate of authentication on all of the Bonds issued hereunder, and (b) the date of authentication on the Bond is inserted in the place provided therefor on the certificate of authentication.

Section 2.11. Form of Bonds; Temporary Bonds. The Bonds issued under this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture shall be substantially in the form hereinbefore set forth, with such appropriate variations, omissions and insertions as are permitted or required by this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture.

Pending preparation of definitive Bonds, or by agreement with the purchasers of the Bonds, the City may issue and, upon its request, the Trustee shall authenticate, in lieu of definitive Bonds, one or more temporary printed or typewritten Bonds in Authorized Denominations of substantially the tenor recited above. Upon request of the City, the Trustee shall authenticate definitive Bonds in exchange for and upon surrender of an equal principal amount of temporary Bonds. Until so exchanged, temporary Bonds shall have the same rights, remedies and security hereunder as definitive Bonds.

Section 2.12. Delivery of Bonds. Upon the execution and delivery of this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture, the City shall execute and deliver to the Trustee, and the Trustee shall authenticate, the Bonds and deliver them to the purchasers as may be directed by the City as hereinafter in this Section 2.12 provided.

Prior to the delivery by the Trustee of any of the Bonds there shall be filed with the Trustee:

(1) A copy, duly certified by the City Clerk of the City, of the Ordinance;

(2) Original executed counterparts of the Indenture, this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture, the Reimbursement Agreement and the Remarketing Agreement and the executed Letter of Credit;

(3) A Counsel's Opinion or Opinions to the effect that (i) the City had the right and power to adopt the Ordinance; (ii) the Ordinance has been duly and lawfully adopted by the City Council, is in full force and effect and is valid and binding upon the City and enforceable in accordance with its terms; (iii) the Indenture and this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture have been duly and lawfully authorized by all necessary action on the part of the City, have been duly and lawfully executed by authorized officers of the City, are in full force and effect and are valid and binding upon the City and enforceable in accordance with their terms (except as limited by any applicable bankruptcy, liquidation, reorganization, insolvency or other similar laws or by general principles of equity if equitable remedies are sought); (iv) the Indenture and this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture create the valid pledge of Revenues and moneys and securities which they purport to create; and (v) upon the execution, authentication and delivery thereof, the Bonds will have been duly and validly authorized and issued in accordance with the Constitution and laws of the State, the Indenture, this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture and the Ordinance;

(4) A written order as to the delivery of the Bonds, signed by an Authorized Officer and stating (i) the identity of the purchasers, the aggregate purchase price and date and place of delivery and (ii) that no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing under the Indenture or this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture;

(5) The certificate of the City required by Section 206(e) of the Indenture; and

(6) Either (a) a Certificate of an Independent Airport Consultant or a Certificate of the City complying with Section 206(f) of the Indenture or (b) a Certificate of the City complying with Section 207(b) of the Indenture.

Section 2.13. Mutilated, Lost, Stolen or Destroyed Bonds. In the event any Bond is mutilated, lost, stolen or destroyed, the City may execute and the Trustee may authenticate a new Bond of like date, maturity, interest rate and denomination as the Bond mutilated, lost, stolen or destroyed; provided that, in the case of any mutilated Bond, such mutilated Bond shall first be surrendered to the Trustee, and in the case of any lost, stolen or destroyed Bond, there shall be first furnished to the City and the Trustee evidence of such loss, theft or destruction satisfactory to the City and the Trustee, together with indemnity satisfactory to them. In the event any such Bond shall have matured, instead of issuing a substitute Bond the City may pay the same without surrender thereof. The City and the Trustee may charge the Registered Owner of such Bond with their reasonable fees and expenses in this connection. All Bonds so surrendered to the Trustee shall be cancelled and destroyed, and evidence of such destruction shall be given to the City. Upon the date of final maturity or redemption of all of the Bonds, the Trustee shall destroy any inventory of unissued certificates.

Section 2.14. Registration and Exchange of Bonds; Persons Treated as Owners. The City shall cause books for the registration and for the transfer of the Bonds as provided in this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture to be kept by the Trustee as the Bond Registrar of the City. Upon surrender for transfer of any Bond at the principal office of the Bond Registrar, duly endorsed for transfer or accompanied by an assignment duly executed by the Registered Owner or his or her attorney duly authorized in writing, the City shall execute and the Bond Registrar shall authenticate and deliver in the name of the transferee or transferees a new fully registered Bond for a like aggregate principal amount.

Bonds may be exchanged at the principal office of the Bond Registrar for a like aggregate principal amount of fully registered Bonds of the same maturity of other authorized denominations. The City shall execute and the Bond Registrar shall authenticate and deliver Bonds which the Bondowners making the exchange are entitled to receive, bearing numbers not contemporaneously then outstanding. The execution by the City of any Bond of any denomination shall constitute full and due authorization of such denomination and the Bond Registrar shall thereby be authorized to authenticate and deliver such Bond.

The Bond Registrar shall not be required to register for transfer or exchange any Undelivered Bond or any Bond (a) with respect to which any Paying Agent, the Trustee or the Remarketing Agent shall have received a Tender Notice, (b) after the giving of notice calling such Bond for redemption or partial redemption, (c) after the giving of notice of a Credit Substitution Date or Mandatory Purchase Date (following receipt of notice of default from the Bank), or (d) after the City has given a Mode Adjustment Notice or a notice of the Fixed Rate Conversion; provided that on the applicable Purchase Date for such Bonds or after such Mode Adjustment Date, Credit Substitution Date, Mandatory Purchase Date or Fixed Rate Conversion, the Bond Registrar shall be required to register the transfer or exchange of Bonds.

The person in whose name any fully registered Bond is registered at the close of business on any Record Date with respect to any Interest Payment Date shall be entitled to receive the interest payable on such Interest Payment Date notwithstanding the cancellation of such registered Bond upon any transfer or exchange thereof subsequent to the Record Date and prior to such Interest Payment Date, except if and to the extent there shall be a default in the payment of the interest due on such Interest Payment Date, in which case such defaulted interest shall be paid to the person in whose name such Bond is registered either at the close of business on the day preceding the date of payment of such defaulted interest or on a subsequent Record Date for such payment if one shall have been established as hereinafter provided. A subsequent Record Date may be established by or on behalf of the City by notice mailed to the Registered Owners of Bonds not less than ten days preceding such Record Date, which Record Date shall be not more than 30 days prior to the subsequent Interest Payment Date.

Except as provided in the Indenture, as to any Bond the person in whose name the same shall be registered shall be deemed and regarded as the absolute owner thereof for all purposes, and payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest on any Bond shall be made only to or upon the written order of the Registered Owner thereof or his or her legal representative. All such payments shall be valid and effectual to satisfy and discharge the liability upon such Bond to the extent of the sum or sums so paid.

The Bond Registrar shall require the payment by any Registered Owner requesting any exchange or transfer of any tax or other governmental charge required to be paid with respect to such exchange or transfer, but otherwise no charge shall be made to the Registered Owner for such exchange or transfer.

Section 2.15. Book-Entry Provisions. The provisions of this Section shall apply so long as the Bonds are maintained in book-entry form with DTC or another Securities Depository, any provisions of this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding.

(a) Payments. The Bonds shall be payable to the Securities Depository, or its nominee, as the Registered Owner of the Bonds, in same day funds on each date on which the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds is due as set forth in this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture and in the Bonds. Such payments shall be made to the offices of the Securities Depository specified by the Securities Depository to the City and the Trustee in writing. Without notice to or the consent of the beneficial owners of the Bonds, the City and the Securities Depository may agree in writing to make payments of principal and interest in a manner different from that set forth herein. If such different manner of payment is agreed upon, the City shall give the Trustee notice thereof, and the Trustee shall make payments with respect to the Bonds in the manner specified in such notice as set forth herein. Neither the City nor the Trustee shall have any obligation with respect to the transfer or crediting of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds to Participants or the beneficial owners of the Bonds or their nominees.

(b) Replacement of the Securities Depository. If (i) the City determines or (ii) the City receives notice that the Securities Depository has received notice from its Participants having interests in at least 50% in principal amount of the Bonds that the Securities Depository or its successor is incapable of discharging its responsibilities as a securities depository or that it is in the best interests of the beneficial owners that they obtain certificated Bonds, the City may (or in the case of clause (ii) above, the City shall) cause the Trustee to authenticate and deliver Bond certificates. The City shall have no obligation to make any investigation to determine the occurrence of any events that would permit the City to make any determination described in this paragraph.

(c) Discontinuance of Book-Entry or Change of Securities Depository. If, following a determination or event specified in paragraph (b) above, the City discontinues the maintenance of the Bonds in book-entry form with the then current Securities Depository, the City will issue replacement Bonds to the replacement Securities Depository, if any, or, if no replacement Securities Depository is selected for the Bonds, directly to the Participants as shown on the records of the former Securities Depository or, to the extent requested by any Participant, to the beneficial owners of the Bonds shown on the records of such Participant. Replacement Bonds shall be in fully registered form and in Authorized Denominations, be payable as to interest on the Interest Payment Dates of the Bonds by check or draft mailed to each Registered Owner at the address of such Registered Owner as it appears on the bond registration books maintained by the City for such purpose at the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee or at the option of any Registered Owner of not less than $1,000,000 principal amount of Bonds, by wire transfer to any address in the continental United States of America on such Interest Payment Date to such Registered Owner as of such Record Date, if such Registered Owner provides the Trustee with written notice of such wire transfer address not later than the Record Date (which notice may provide that it will remain in effect with respect to subsequent Interest Payment Dates unless and until changed or revoked by subsequent notice). Principal and premium, if any, on the replacement Bonds are payable only upon presentation and surrender of such replacement Bond or Bonds at the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee.

(d) Effect of Book-Entry System. The Securities Depository and its Participants and the beneficial owners of the Bonds, by their acceptance of the Bonds, agree that the City and the Trustee shall not have liability for the failure of such Securities Depository to perform its obligations to the Participants and the beneficial owners of the Bonds, nor shall the City or the Trustee be liable for the failure of any Participant or other nominee of the beneficial owners to perform any obligation of the Participant to a beneficial owner of the Bonds.

(e) So long as Cede & Co. is the Registered Owner of the Bonds, as nominee of DTC, references herein to the Registered Owners or owners of the Bonds shall mean Cede & Co. and shall not mean the Beneficial Owners of the Bonds.

(f) So long as Cede & Co. is the Registered Owner of the Bonds:

(i) selection of Bonds to be redeemed upon partial redemption, presentation of Bonds to the Trustee upon partial redemption, delivery of Bonds to the Trustee in connection with an optional or mandatory tender, or redelivery of such Bonds by the Trustee to owners following a remarketing or failed conversion to the Fixed Rate shall be deemed made when the right to exercise ownership rights in such Bonds through DTC or DTC's Participants is transferred by DTC on its books;

(ii) notice of a demand for purchase of Bonds pursuant to Section 2.06 hereof shall be given by the beneficial owner of such Bonds exercising ownership rights to the Remarketing Agent (pursuant to DTC's Deliver Order procedures) by telephonic notice (confirmed in writing) or written notice;

(iii) any notices of the interest rate on the Bonds to be provided by the Trustee shall be provided to anyone identifying itself to the Trustee as a person entitled to exercise ownership rights with respect to such Bonds through DTC or its Participants;

(iv) DTC may present notices, approvals, waivers or other communications required or permitted to be made by owners under this Indenture on a fractionalized basis on behalf of some or all of those persons entitled to exercise ownership rights in the Bonds through DTC or its Participants; and

(v) Beneficial interests in Bonds deemed to be held in the Custody Account shall be held for the account of the Trustee (or its Participant) on the records of DTC.

ARTICLE III

Redemption of Bonds Before Maturity

Section 3.01. Redemption Dates and Prices. The Bonds shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity in the amounts, at the times and in the manner provided in this Article III. When Bonds bear interest at a Variable Rate, all payments of the redemption price of the Bonds shall be made on the dates hereinafter required in Federal or other immediately available funds.

(1) Optional Redemption Without Premium During Variable Interest Rate Periods. So long as the Bonds do not bear interest at a Fixed Rate, the Bonds are subject to redemption at the option of the City on any Interest Payment Date in whole or in part, at a redemption price of 100 percent of the principal amount thereof, without premium, plus accrued interest to the redemption date upon receipt by the Trustee not less than 45 days prior to such redemption date of a written direction from the City stating that it intends to exercise its option to effect redemption of such Bonds.

(2) Optional Redemption With Premium During Fixed Rate Period. When the Bonds bear interest at a Fixed Rate, the Bonds shall be non-callable for redemption for the first ten years after the Fixed Rate Conversion Date. On and after the Interest Payment Date which is or which next follows the tenth anniversary of the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, the Bonds shall be subject to redemption at a redemption price of 102 percent, which redemption price shall decline by one percent per annum.

(b) Mandatory Sinking Fund Redemption. The Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption, in part by lot as provided in the Indenture from mandatory Sinking Fund Payments, on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts set forth below, at a redemption price equal to the principal amount thereof to be redeemed:

	(maturity)

If the City redeems Bonds pursuant to optional redemption or purchases such Bonds and cancels the same, then an amount equal to the principal amount of Bonds of such maturity so redeemed or purchased shall be deducted from the mandatory redemption requirements as provided for such Bonds of such maturity in such order as the City Comptroller shall determine.

Section 3.02. Notice of Redemption.

(a) Notice of the redemption of Bonds or any portion thereof pursuant to Section 3.01 hereof identifying the Bonds or portions thereof to be redeemed, specifying the redemption date, the Redemption Price, the places and dates of payment and that from the redemption date interest will cease to accrue, shall be given by the Trustee by mailing a copy of such redemption notice by first class mail not less than 30 nor more than 60 days prior to the date fixed for redemption, to the Registered Owner of each Bond to be redeemed in whole or in part at the address shown on the registration books. Failure to mail any such notice to the Registered Owner of any Bond or any defect therein shall not affect the validity of the proceedings for such redemption of Bonds.

(b) In addition to the requirements of subsection (a), notice of the redemption of Bonds or any portion thereof pursuant to Section 3.01 hereof identifying the Bonds or portions thereof to be redeemed shall specify (i) the series name and designation and certificate numbers of Bonds being redeemed, (ii) the CUSIP numbers of the Bonds being redeemed, (iii) the principal amount of Bonds being redeemed and the redeemed amount for each certificate (for partial calls), (iv) the redemption date, (v) the Redemption Price, (vi) the Date of Issuance, (vii) the interest rate and maturity date of the Bonds being redeemed, (viii) the date of mailing of notices to Registered Owners and information services, and (ix) the name of the employee of the Trustee which may be contacted with regard to such notice.

(c) Redemption notices shall be sent by first class mail, postage prepaid.

(d) Redemption notices shall also be sent by registered mail, at least 30 days but not more than 60 days prior to the redemption date, to two national information services that disseminate redemption information as determined by the Trustee so long as such services exist.

(e) A second redemption notice shall be sent by first class mail, not more than 60 days after the redemption date to any Registered Owner of a Bond called for redemption who has not presented Bonds within 30 days following the redemption date.

(f) In the event of an advance refunding of the Bonds, a notice of such event shall be given as required above for redemptions at least 30 days but not more than 60 days prior to the actual redemption date.

Notwithstanding the forgoing, failure to comply with the provisions of paragraph (b) through (g), inclusive, of this Section 3.02 shall not affect the validity of proceedings for the redemption of Bonds.

Section 3.03. Deposit of Funds. For the redemption of any of the Bonds, the City shall cause to be deposited in the Principal and Interest Account moneys sufficient to pay when due the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the redemption date to be applied in accordance with the provisions of Section 4.05 hereof.

Section 3.04. Partial Redemption of Bonds; Selection of Bonds for Redemption.

(a) In case a Bond is of a denomination larger than the minimum Authorized Denomination, all or a portion of such Bond (equal to the minimum Authorized Denomination or any integral multiple thereof) may be redeemed but such Bond shall be redeemed only in a principal amount equal to the minimum Authorized Denomination or any integral multiple thereof.

(b) Upon surrender of any Bond for redemption in part only, the City shall execute and the Bond Registrar shall authenticate and deliver to the Registered Owner thereof, at the expense of the City, a new Bond or Bonds of Authorized Denominations in aggregate principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion of the Bond surrendered.

(c) If less than all of the Bonds of a maturity are called for redemption, the Bonds (or portions thereof) to be redeemed shall be selected by lot by the Trustee; provided, however, that in the event of the redemption of any Bonds pursuant to the provisions of Section 3.01(b) hereof, or, at the option of the City, in the event of the redemption of any other Bonds, any Bonds on deposit in the Custody Account shall be redeemed prior to the redemption of any other Bonds. The Trustee shall promptly notify the other Notice Parties in writing of the Bonds (or portions thereof) selected for redemption.

If the owner of any such Bond of a denomination greater than the minimum Authorized Denomination shall fail to present such Bond to the Bond Registrar for payment and exchange as aforesaid, such Bond shall, nevertheless, become due and payable on the date fixed for redemption to the extent of the unit or units of principal amount called for redemption (and to that extent only).

Section 4.09. Non-presentment of Bonds. In the event any Bond shall not be presented for payment when the principal thereof becomes due, either at maturity, or at the date fixed for redemption thereof, or otherwise, if moneys sufficient to pay any such Bond shall have been made available to the Trustee for the benefit of the Registered Owner or Owners thereof, subject to the provisions of the immediately following paragraph, all liability of the City to the Registered Owner thereof for the payment of such Bond shall forthwith cease, determine and be completely discharged, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Trustee to hold such moneys, without liability for interest thereon, for the benefit of the Registered Owner of such Bond who shall thereafter be restricted exclusively to such moneys, for any claim of whatever nature on his or her part under the Indenture or this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture or on, or with respect to, such Bond.

Any moneys so deposited with and held by the Trustee not so applied to the payment of Bonds within two years after the date on which the same shall have become due shall be repaid by the Trustee to the City upon direction of an Authorized Officer, and thereafter the Registered Owners of such Bonds shall be entitled to look only to the City for payment, and then only to the extent of the amount so repaid, and all liability of the Trustee with respect to such moneys shall thereupon cease, and the City shall not be liable for any interest thereon and shall not be regarded as a trustee of such moneys. The obligation of the Trustee under this Section 4.09 to pay any such funds to the City shall be subject, however, to any provisions of law applicable to the Trustee or to such funds providing other requirements for disposition of unclaimed property.

Section 4.10. Moneys to be Held in Trust. All moneys required to be deposited with or paid to the Trustee for the account of any Fund or Account referred to in any provision of this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture shall be held by the Trustee in trust as provided in Section 1003 of the Indenture, and shall, while held by the Trustee, constitute part of the Trust Estate and be subject to the lien or security interest created hereby.

Section 4.11. Debt Service Reserve Account. The City shall maintain the Debt Service Reserve Account in an amount equal to the Reserve Requirement. Any Qualified Investments held to the credit of the Debt Service Reserve Account shall be valued in accordance with Section 305 of the Indenture.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture, as of the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, the Reserve Requirement shall consist of an amount equal to the maximum Annual Senior Lien Debt Service on the Bonds during any current or future Bond Year while the Bonds bear interest at the Fixed Rate. Prior to the Fixed Rate Conversion Date, the Trustee shall determine the amount on deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Account, including the valuation of investments thereof pursuant to Section 305 of the Indenture. If the amount then on deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Account exceeds the Reserve Requirement determined pursuant to this Section 4.12, the Trustee shall, if so instructed by the City in a Certificate filed with the Trustee, transfer the excess to the Project Account for the purpose of paying the cost of Capital Projects, and in the absence of receipt by the Trustee of such Certificate apply such excess to the redemption of Bonds in Authorized Denominations pursuant to the provisions of Section 3.01(a) hereof on the Fixed Rate Conversion Date. If at the time of such redemption the Letter of Credit shall be in effect, the Trustee shall draw on the Letter of Credit to effect such redemption and shall reimburse the Bank in an amount equal to such draw from such excess moneys in the Debt Service Reserve Account. If the amount then on deposit in the Debt Service Reserve Account is less than the Reserve Requirement determined pursuant to this Section 4.13, the Trustee shall notify the City in writing of the amount of such deficiency.

Section 5.01. Letter of Credit.

(a) Initial Letter of Credit - Requirements. The Letter of Credit shall provide for direct payments to or upon the order of the Trustee as hereinafter set forth and shall be the irrevocable obligation of the Bank to pay to or upon the order of the Trustee, upon certification and in accordance with the terms thereof, up to (a) an amount sufficient (i) to pay the principal of the Bonds when due whether at stated maturity or upon redemption, or (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price equal to the principal amount of Bonds delivered for purchase pursuant to Section 2.06 hereof and not remarketed, or (iii) to pay the portion of the purchase price of Bonds purchased by the City pursuant to Section 2.08 hereof equal to the principal amount of such Bonds, plus (b) an amount equal to [54] days' interest accrued on the outstanding Bonds (and for the purpose of calculating the amount thereof the Letter of Credit shall state on its face the maximum rate of interest on the Bonds covered by the Letter of Credit) (i) to pay interest on the Bonds when due or (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds delivered for purchase pursuant to Section 2.06 hereof equal to the interest accrued, if any, on such Bonds, or (iii) to pay the portion of the purchase price equal to interest on Bonds purchased by the City pursuant to Section 2.08 hereof.

The Letter of Credit shall terminate on the earliest of (i) the expiration date set forth therein (which shall be a date at least ten days after the last Interest Payment Date of the coverage period thereof), unless renewed or extended by the Bank, (ii) the close of business of the Bank on the tenth day after the day on which an Alternate Letter of Credit becomes effective (but not earlier than the tenth day following the last Interest Payment Date covered by the Letter of Credit to be terminated or such earlier date within such ten-day period as the Trustee shall designate at the request of the City pursuant to paragraph (d) of this Section 5.01), (iii) the close of business of the Bank on the tenth day after the Fixed Rate Conversion Date (but not earlier than the tenth day following the last Interest Payment Date covered by the Letter of Credit to be terminated or such earlier date within such ten-day period as the Trustee shall designate at the request of the City pursuant to paragraph (d) of this Section 5.01), (iv) subject to the provisions of Section 8.02 hereof, the date on which there has been a drawing under the Letter of Credit upon the maturity of the Bonds or redemption of all the Bonds, (v) the date on which there is no Bond Outstanding, (vi) the close of business of the Bank on the 15th day after the date on which the Trustee receives notice from the Bank that an event of default under the Reimbursement Agreement has occurred and that the Letter of Credit will expire and (vii) the surrender by the Trustee to the Bank of the Letter of Credit for cancellation.

(b) Alternate Letter of Credit. At any time the City may, at its option, provide for the delivery to the Trustee of an Alternate Letter of Credit. An Alternate Letter of Credit shall be an irrevocable direct pay letter of credit, issued by a commercial bank or banks, the terms of which shall in all material respects be the same as the then current Letter of Credit, if any. Such Alternate Letter of Credit shall set forth a maximum interest rate on the Bonds with respect to which draws may be made. On or prior to the date of delivery of an Alternate Letter of Credit to the Trustee, the City shall furnish to the Trustee (i) an opinion of Counsel stating that the delivery of such an Alternate Letter of Credit to the Trustee is authorized under this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture and complies with the terms hereof, and (ii) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the delivery of such an Alternate Letter of Credit will not adversely affect the exclusion of interest on the Bonds from gross income for Federal income tax purposes (other than with respect to an alternative minimum tax imposed on interest on the Bonds). The Trustee shall then accept such Alternate Letter of Credit and surrender the previously held Letter of Credit, if any, to the previous Bank for cancellation as provided in subsection (d) of this Section 5.01. Each Alternate Letter of Credit shall become effective and commence coverage as of the applicable Credit Substitution Date determined in reference to the previously held Letter of Credit and shall not expire earlier than one year following its date of issuance. No Alternate Letter of Credit may terminate earlier than ten days after the last Interest Payment Date of the coverage period thereof.

(c) Fixed Rate Letter of Credit. No later than thirty days prior to the Fixed Rate Conversion, the City may, at its option, provide for the delivery to the Trustee of a Fixed Rate Letter of Credit issued by a commercial bank, which shall be effective on the Fixed Rate Conversion Date and may terminate not earlier than one year thereafter. The Fixed Rate Letter of Credit shall be an irrevocable direct pay obligation of the Bank to pay the Trustee, upon request and in accordance with the terms thereof, up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay the principal of the Bonds when due whether at stated maturity or upon redemption thereof, plus (b) an amount equal to seven months' interest accrued on the Outstanding Bonds to pay interest on the Bonds on or prior to the expiration date of such Fixed Rate Letter of Credit. The Fixed Rate Letter of Credit shall be delivered to the Trustee. On or prior to the date of the delivery of the Fixed Rate Letter of Credit to the Trustee, the City shall furnish to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel stating that the delivery of such Fixed Rate Letter of Credit to the Trustee is authorized under this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture and complies with the terms hereof. The Trustee shall then accept such Fixed Rate Letter of Credit and surrender the previously held Letter of Credit to the Bank issuing the same for cancellation as provided in subsection (d) of this Section 5.01.

(d) Delivery to Trustee of Alternate Letter of Credit or Fixed Rate Letter of Credit; Surrender of Letter of Credit for Cancellation. If at any time there shall have been delivered to the Trustee (i) an Alternate Letter of Credit or a Fixed Rate Letter of Credit pursuant to the preceding subsections of this Section 5.01, and (ii) when required under the preceding subsections of this Section 5.01, an opinion of Counsel stating that the delivery of such Alternate Letter of Credit or Fixed Rate Letter of Credit to the Trustee is authorized under this Section 5.01 and complies with the terms hereof, then the Trustee shall accept such Alternate Letter of Credit or Fixed Rate Letter of Credit, as the case may be, and surrender the previously held Letter of Credit to the Bank issuing the same for cancellation; provided, however, that (a) in no event shall such Letter of Credit be surrendered prior to the effective date of the Alternate Letter of Credit or Fixed Rate Letter of Credit, as the case may be, and (b) on the applicable Credit Substitution Date, the Trustee shall draw upon the existing Letter of Credit rather than the new Alternate Letter of Credit or Fixed Rate Letter of Credit, as the case may be, in order to provide funds to pay the Purchase Price of Bonds subject to mandatory purchase on such Credit Substitution Date pursuant to Section 2.08 hereof. If at any time there shall cease to be any Bonds Outstanding hereunder, the Trustee shall promptly surrender the Letter of Credit to the Bank for cancellation.

The Trustee shall comply with the procedures set forth in the Letter of Credit relating to the termination thereof.

(e) Notice of Expiration of Letter of Credit. The Trustee shall give notice by first class mail of the expiration of the term of the Letter of Credit, which notice shall (i) specify the date of the expiration of the term of the Letter of Credit, (ii) state that such expiration may result in reduction or withdrawal of Moody's or S&P's ratings of the Bonds from those which then prevail, (iii) if the Bonds bear interest at a Variable Rate, specify the last times and dates prior to such expiration on which Bonds must be delivered, or on which notice must be given, for the purchase of Bonds pursuant to Section 2.08 hereof and the place where such Bonds must be delivered for such purchase and (iv) state that on the Interest Payment Date immediately preceding the date of the expiration of the term of the Letter of Credit, the Bonds shall be subject to mandatory purchase on such date. Such notice shall be given by first class mail at least 30 days prior to such Interest Payment Date to the owners of Bonds appearing on the Bond Registrar's registration books.

Section 5.02. Draws on the Letter of Credit.

(a) Trustee's Duty to Draw on Letter of Credit to Pay Principal of and Interest on Bonds. The City hereby authorizes and directs the Trustee, and the Trustee hereby agrees, to draw moneys under the Letter of Credit for the benefit of the owners of the Bonds in accordance with the terms thereof in amounts sufficient to make timely payments of the principal of and interest on the Bonds (other than Pledged Bonds or Bank-owned Bonds) in accordance with the provisions of Section 4.06 hereof after taking into account any amounts held in the Letter of Credit Account as a result of draws on the Letter of Credit pursuant to subsection (c) of this Section 5.02.

(b) Trustee's Duty to Draw on Letter of Credit to Pay Purchase or Redemption Price of Bonds. The Trustee shall also (i) draw moneys under the Letter of Credit in accordance with the terms thereof to the extent necessary to make timely payments required to be made pursuant to, and in accordance with, Sections 2.06 and 2.08 hereof, and (ii) draw moneys under the Letter of Credit to pay the redemption price of Bonds (other than Pledged Bonds or Bank-owned Bonds) pursuant to Section 3.01 hereof in accordance with the terms thereof in the amounts required by said Section 3.01. It is understood and agreed that the Trustee when drawing amounts under the Letter of Credit as provided in clauses (i) and (ii) of this subsection (b) is not acting as an agent of the City. The Trustee shall make draws under the Letter of Credit in accordance with the terms thereof to pay the purchase price of Bonds pursuant to Sections 2.06 and 2.08 hereof, or to pay the redemption price or purchase price of Bonds pursuant to Article III hereof, so as to provide immediately available funds in New York, New York, by the close of business on the date such purchase or redemption is to be made.

(c) Drawings Under Letter of Credit When Bonds Bear Interest at Flexible Rate. On the first Business Day of each month while the Bonds bear interest at a Flexible Rate and on any Mode Adjustment Date commencing a Flexible Mode that is not the first Business Day of a month, the Trustee shall make draws under the Letter of Credit in accordance with the terms thereof in an amount that would be sufficient to cause the amount on deposit in the Letter of Credit Account on such day to equal the accrued and unpaid interest on the Bonds (other than Pledged Bonds and Bank-owned Bonds) plus the interest that would accrue on the Bonds from such date to and including the first Business Day of the following calendar month if the Bonds were outstanding at all times during such period calculated on the basis of the interest rate used in the Letter of Credit for purposes of calculating the stated amount thereof for any day interest is to accrue at a rate unknown on the date such draw is made. In either case, the Trustee shall apply amounts held to the credit of the Principal and Interest Account to reimburse the Bank the amount of such draw pursuant to Section 4.06 hereof. The Trustee shall provide any Paying Agent with the amounts calculated by the Trustee to be drawn under the Letter of Credit by such Paying Agent pursuant to this Section 5.02. Notwithstanding the deposit of such moneys in the Letter of Credit Account and the reimbursement of the Bank, the City shall have no right, title or interest in such moneys, and such moneys shall be held exclusively for the Registered Owners and paid over in accordance with the provisions of this Forty-Ninth Supplemental Indenture.

Section 5.03. Maintenance of Letter of Credit. The City covenants and agrees that during such period as the Bonds bear interest at a Variable Rate it will cause a Letter of Credit or Alternate Letter of Credit to be delivered to the Trustee. The Letter of Credit shall not be transferred to a successor Trustee except in full compliance with the terms of the Letter of Credit.

ARTICLE VI

Investment of Moneys

Section 6.01. Investment of Moneys. Moneys held in the funds, accounts and sub-accounts established hereunder shall be invested and reinvested in accordance with the provisions governing investments contained in the Indenture; provided, however, that moneys held in the Letter of Credit Account which are proceeds of a draw or draws on the Letter of Credit shall only be invested in Federal Obligations maturing on the earlier of (a) nine days from the date of the investment, or (b) the date upon which such moneys will be required to be used in accordance herewith. All such investments shall be held by or under the control of the Trustee and shall be deemed at all times a part of the fund, account or sub-account for which they were made.

Section 6.02. Investment Income. The interest earned on any investment of moneys held hereunder, any profit realized from such investment and any loss resulting from such investment shall be credited or charged to the fund, account or sub-account for which such investment was made.

Responses contained in the corresponding EDS and this Attachment B are true, accurate and complete based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information and belief, upon due inquiry by relying on information provided by other employees of the Disclosing Party or its affiliates or subsidiaries. Some sections of the EDS are in the process of being updated. The Disclosing Party will provide the City of Chicago with an update to this Disclosure Statement if there are any material changes to the matters disclosed herein.

SECTION III: BUSINESS RELATIONSHIPS WITH CITY ELECTED OFFICIALS

The Authorized Representative certifies on behalf of the Disclosing Party knowledge of an existing "business relationship" during the 12 months prior to the date of execution of the foregoing Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit between JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association (the "Bank"), a subsidiary of JPMorgan Chase & Co., and the law firm of Klafter and Burke. Klafter and Burke has provided real estate tax protest legal services on behalf of the Bank. Alderman Edward M. Burke is a partner of the firm of Klafter and Burke.

SECTION IV: DISCLOSURE OF SUBCONTRACTORS AND OTHER RETAINED PARTIES

With respect to Section IV, the Authorized Representative certifies based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, that the Disclosing Party has not retained a subcontractor, attorney, lobbyist, accountant, or consultant in connection with the Matter.

SECTION V: CERTIFICATIONS

B. FURTHER CERTIFICATIONS

B.1 With respect to Section V, paragraph B.1. the Authorized Representative certifies based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, that neither the Disclosing Party nor any Controlling Person is currently indicted or charged with, or has admitted guilt of, or has ever been convicted of, or placed under supervision for, any criminal offense involving actual, attempted, or conspiracy to commit bribery, theft, fraud, forgery, perjury, dishonesty or deceit against an officer or employee of the City or any sister agency. Furthermore, the Disclosing Party understands and acknowledges the continuing duty to disclose any of the above enumerated offenses as a requirement for doing business with the City.

B.2 (a-e) With respect to Section V, paragraph B.2 (a-e), the Authorized Representative certifies based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, that such statements are accurate with respect to the executive officers and directors of the Disclosing Party. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, JPMorgan Chase & Co. and/or its subsidiaries and affiliates are named from time to time as a defendant in various legal actions and administrative proceedings arising in connection with their respective businesses, and have also been involved in investigations and other proceedings by governmental agencies. In view of the inherent difficulty of predicting the outcome of such matters, the Disclosing Party cannot state the eventual outcome of pending or future matters. After consultation with counsel, the Disclosing Party believes that the defendant has asserted meritorious defenses in each such matter and that the aggregate liability or loss, if any, resulting therefrom will not have a material adverse effect on such defendant's financial condition, but may be material to such defendant's operating results for any particular period, depending on the level of income for such period. The Disclosing Party does not believe that any pending action would have any material effect on this transaction. Descriptions of material legal proceedings involving JPMorgan Chase & Co. or its subsidiaries within the last five years are referenced in JPMorgan Chase & Co.'s Form 10-K, Form 10-Q, and any Form 8-K filing, all as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and all available through J.P. Morgan's internet site http://investor.shareholder.com/jpmorganchase/sec.cfm or through the SEC's internet site (www.sec.gov) (the "SEC filings") and the public record of each matter identified in the SEC filings.

B.3 (a&d) The Authorized Representative certifies on behalf of the Disclosing Party the accuracy of the statements contained in Section V, paragraph B.3 (a & d) only as to the Disclosing Party and its executive officers and directors. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, JPMorgan Chase & Co. and/or its subsidiaries and affiliates are named from time to time as a defendant in various legal actions and administrative proceedings arising in connection with their respective businesses, and have also been involved in investigations and other proceedings by governmental agencies. In view of the inherent difficulty of predicting the outcome of such matters, the Disclosing Party cannot state the eventual outcome of pending or future matters. After consultation with counsel and based on current knowledge, the Disclosing Party believes that the defendant has asserted meritorious defenses in each such matter and that the aggregate liability or loss, if any, resulting therefrom will not have a material adverse effect on such defendant's financial condition, but may be material to such defendant's operating results for any particular period, depending on the level of income for such period. The Disclosing Party does not believe that any pending action would have any material effect on this transaction. Descriptions of material legal proceedings involving JPMorgan Chase & Co. or its subsidiaries in the last five years are referenced in JPMorgan Chase & Co.'s Form 10-K, Form 10-Q, and any Form 8-K filing, all as filed with the SEC and all available through J.P. Morgan's internet site http://investor.shareholder.com/jpmorganchase/sec.cfm or through the SEC's internet site (www.sec.gov) (the "SEC filings") and the public record of each matter identified in the SEC filings. Furthermore, with respect to the Living Wage ordinance, the Disclosing Party has not, during the five years before the execution date of this EDS, been determined to have violated the provisions of Municipal Code Section 2-92-610 (Living Wage Ordinance) as it relates to base wages.

B.3 (b&c) & B.4 The Disclosing Party has not agreed or colluded with other bidders or prospective bidders as to this transaction, or been a party to any such agreement. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, the Disclosing Party has not been convicted or adjudged guilty of agreement or collusion among bidders or prospective bidders, in restraint of freedom of competition by agreement to bid a fixed price or otherwise. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, the Disclosing Party has not made an admission of such conduct described in B.3 a. or b. above that is a matter of record, and has not been prosecuted for such conduct, except to the extent set forth in the summaries of material legal proceedings involving JPMorgan Chase & Co. or its subsidiaries within the last five years are referenced in JPMorgan Chase & Co.'s Form 10-K, Form 10-Q, and any Form 8-K filing, all as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and all available through J.P. Morgan's internet site http://investor.shareholder.com/jpmorganchase/sec.cfm or through the SEC's internet site (www.sec.gov) (the "SEC filings") and the public record of each matter identified in the SEC filings. The Authorized Representative certifies based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, none of the foregoing matters would have a material adverse effect on this transaction.

B.7 Except as otherwise set forth in Attachment B, the Authorized Representative on behalf of the Disclosing Party does not make any certification whatsoever with respect to any Applicable Party other than the Disclosing Party. The Authorized Representative on behalf of the Disclosing Party also certifies that it has not engaged any sub-contractor with respect to this transaction.

SECTION V: CERTIFICATIONS

B. FURTHER CERTIFICATIONS

B.1 With respect to Section V, paragraph B.1. the Authorized Representative certifies based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, that neither the Disclosing Party nor any Controlling Person is currently indicted or charged with, or has admitted guilt of, or has ever been convicted of, or placed under supervision for, any criminal offense involving actual, attempted, or conspiracy to commit bribery, theft, fraud, forgery, perjury, dishonesty or deceit against an officer or employee of the City or any sister agency. Furthermore, the Disclosing Party understands and acknowledges the continuing duty to disclose any of the above enumerated offenses as a requirement for doing business with the City.

B.2 (a-e) With respect to Section V, paragraph B.2 (a-e), the Authorized Representative certifies based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, that such statements are accurate with respect to the executive officers and directors of the Disclosing Party. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, JPMorgan Chase & Co. and/or its subsidiaries and affiliates are named from time to time as a defendant in various legal actions and administrative proceedings arising in connection with their respective businesses, and have also been involved in investigations and other proceedings by governmental agencies. In view of the inherent difficulty of predicting the outcome of such matters, the Disclosing Party cannot state the eventual outcome of pending or future matters. After consultation with counsel, the Disclosing Party believes that the defendant has asserted meritorious defenses in each such matter and that the aggregate liability or loss, if any, resulting therefrom will not have a material adverse effect on such defendant's financial condition, but may be material to such defendant's operating results for any particular period, depending on the level of income for such period. The Disclosing Party does not believe that any pending action would have any material effect on this transaction. Descriptions of material legal proceedings involving JPMorgan Chase & Co. or its subsidiaries within the last five years are referenced in JPMorgan Chase & Co.'s Form 10-K, Form 10-Q, and any Form 8-K filing, all as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and all available through J.P. Morgan's internet site http://investor.shareholder.com/jpmorganchase/sec.cfm or through the SEC's internet site (www.sec.gov) (the "SEC filings") and the public record of each matter identified in the SEC filings.

B.3 (a&d) The Authorized Representative certifies on behalf of the Disclosing Party the accuracy of the statements contained in Section V, paragraph B.3 (a & d) only as to the Disclosing Party and its executive officers and directors. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, JPMorgan Chase & Co. and/or its subsidiaries and affiliates are named from time to time as a defendant in various legal actions and administrative proceedings arising in connection with their respective businesses, and have also been involved in investigations and other proceedings by governmental agencies. In view of the inherent difficulty of predicting the outcome of such matters, the Disclosing Party cannot state the eventual outcome of pending or future matters. After consultation with counsel and based on current knowledge, the Disclosing Party believes that the defendant has asserted meritorious defenses in each such matter and that the aggregate liability or loss, if any, resulting therefrom will not have a material adverse effect on such defendant's financial condition, but may be material to such defendant's operating results for any particular period, depending on the level of income for such period. The Disclosing Party does not believe that any pending action would have any material effect on this transaction. Descriptions of material legal proceedings involving JPMorgan Chase & Co. or its subsidiaries in the last five years are referenced in JPMorgan Chase & Co.'s Form 10-K, Form 10-Q, and any Form 8-K filing, all as filed with the SEC and all available through J.P. Morgan's internet site http://investor.shareholder.com/jpmorganchase/sec.cfm or through the SEC's internet site (www.sec.gov) (the "SEC filings") and the public record of each matter identified in the SEC filings. Furthermore, with respect to the Living Wage ordinance, the Disclosing Party has not, during the five years before the execution date of this EDS, been determined to have violated the provisions of Municipal Code Section 2-92-610 (Living Wage Ordinance) as it relates to base wages.

B.3 (b&c) & B.4 The Disclosing Party has not agreed or colluded with other bidders or prospective bidders as to this transaction, or been a party to any such agreement. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, the Disclosing Party has not been convicted or adjudged guilty of agreement or collusion among bidders or prospective bidders, in restraint of freedom of competition by agreement to bid a fixed price or otherwise. Based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, the Disclosing Party has not made an admission of such conduct described in B.3 a. or b. above that is a matter of record, and has not been prosecuted for such conduct, except to the extent set forth in the summaries of material legal proceedings involving JPMorgan Chase & Co. or its subsidiaries within the last five years are referenced in JPMorgan Chase & Co.'s Form 10-K, Form 10-Q, and any Form 8-K filing, all as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and all available through J.P. Morgan's internet site http://investor.shareholder.com/jpmorganchase/sec.cfm or through the SEC's internet site (www.sec.gov) (the "SEC filings") and the public record of each matter identified in the SEC filings. The Authorized Representative certifies based on the Authorized Representative's knowledge, information, and belief, upon due inquiry, none of the foregoing matters would have a material adverse effect on this transaction.

B.7 Except as otherwise set forth in Attachment B, the Authorized Representative on behalf of the Disclosing Party does not make any certification whatsoever with respect to any Applicable Party other than the Disclosing Party. Bank of America Corporation	100 N. Tryon St. Charlotte, NC 28255	100% (Indirect)

Attachment for Section III:
Please note that the Disclosing Party is a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 220,000 full-time equivalent employees as of March 31, 2015. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

Attachment for Section V.B: {Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated}

Disclosing Party certifies, as set forth below, to the best of its knowledge and belief that with respect to V.B.2.a.:

Neither Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated ("MLPF&S") nor its Executive Officers and Directors identified in Section II.B.1 of this EDS has had its authorization to act as a federal contractor revoked or suspended. No such information with respect to state or local entities is reported or to the best of our knowledge maintained separately.

V.B.2.b, c and e:

In the ordinary course of business, MLPF&S is subject to regulatory examinations, information gathering requests, inquiries, and investigations ("Regulatory Matters") by various federal or state securities regulatory agencies and attorneys general, other local, state, and federal agencies, and self-regulatory organizations (collectively, "Regulators"); and is routinely a defendant in or party to many pending and threatened legal actions and proceedings, including actions brought on behalf of various classes of claimants ("Legal Matters"), which may be based on alleged violations of securities, environmental, employment, and other laws. In connection with formal and informal Regulatory Matters, MLPF&S receives numerous requests, subpoenas and orders for documents, testimony and information in connection with various aspects of its regulated activities, and in some cases regulatory action has been taken against MLPF&S. MLPF&S believes that it has cooperated fully with the Regulators in all such inquiries to date and intends to continue to cooperate fully with the Regulators in all such inquiries involving MLPF&S in the future.

MLPF&S's ultimate parent is Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC makes all required disclosures in its Annual Report on Form 10-K and Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, which are updated in its Reports on Form 8-K, all of which are filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Regulatory Filings"). Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. (the "Corporation"), the former parent of MLPF&S, also made such disclosures until it was merged into BAC on October 1, 2013. MLPF&S makes all required disclosures in its Form BD and ADV Filings ("Form BD and ADV Filings") with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). Those Regulatory Filings and Form BD and ADV Filings include disclosures of Regulatory Matters and Legal Matters as required by federal law and applicable regulations, and are publicly available. BAC cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other, non-public Regulatory Matters conducted by any Regulator or Legal Matters unless required to do so by law. The Regulatory Filings are publicly available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. The Form BD Filings are publicly available on the FINRA BrokerCheck system at http://www.finra.org/Investors/ToolsCalculators/BrokerCheck/index.htm. The Form ADV filings are publicly available on the SEC's Investment Adviser Search website at: http://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/(S(cerr0u55hmrw5a45022y3vnz))/IAPD/Content/Search/iapd_Search.aspx.

MLPF&S's registered officers and employees make required disclosures in their Form U-4, which are filed with FINRA pursuant to a directive from the SEC. These Form U-4 filings are publicly available on the FINRA BrokerCheck system at http://www.finra.org/Investors/ToolsCalculators/BrokerCheck/index.htm.

Regulatory Filings that include information relating to Regulatory Matters or Legal Matters involving the municipal markets business of MLPF&S since January 1, 2008 can be accessed as follows and are incorporated herein by reference: the Corporation's 2012 Annual Report filed on March 1, 2013 (page 116); Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q filed on May 10, 2013 (page 76); 2011 Annual Report filed on February 24, 2012 (pages 132 and 133); 2010 Annual Report filed on March 1, 2011 (pages 137, 138 and 145); 2009 Annual Report filed on March 11, 2010 (pages 121, 122, 127 and 128); 2008 Annual Report filed on February 24, 2009 (pages 126 and 127); and these can be found at http://ir.ml.com/phoenix.zhtml?c=93516&p=irol-sec [Word Document Version] and BAC's 2012 Annual Report filed on February 28, 2013 (page 230); Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q filed on May 7, 2013 (page 201); 2011 Annual Report filed on February 23, 2012 (pages 223 and 224); 2010 Annual Report filed on February 25, 2011 (pages 197 and 204); 2009 Annual Report filed on February 26, 2010 (pages 161 and 169); 2008 Annual Report filed on February 27, 2009 (pages 150 and 154); and these can be found at http://investor.bankofamerica.com/phoenix.zhtml?c=71595&p=irol-sec [Word Document Version]. The Form BD and ADV Filings also include information relating to Regulatory Matters involving the municipal markets business of MLPF&S.

The Corporation cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other, non-public Regulatory Inquiry conducted by any Regulator unless required to do so by law.

Please let us know if you need any additional information.

V.B.2.d

The Disclosing Party performed due diligence within the Public Finance Group of MLPF&S to determine whether any Public Finance Group employees were aware of any public finance transactions (federal, state or local) having been terminated for cause or default within the last five years, and none of such employees were aware of any such terminations.

V.B.3.a, b and c - Please see response to V.B.2. b c and e above.

In addition, in 2010, Douglass Campbell, a former Bank of America, N.A. ("BANA") employee, pled guilty to violating, among other statutes, 15 U.S.C. § 15. 15 U.S.C. § 15's elements are similar to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3. Although Mr. Campbell was not an employee of BANA or BAC at the time of his guilty plea, some of the conduct to which he pled guilty occurred while he was employed by BANA. Despite Mr. Campbell's conviction, MLPF&S believes that it should not be barred from contracting with the City.

MLPF&S believes that it is not ineligible under Section 1-23-020 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither MLPF&S (or any controlling person of MLPF&S) nor any entity that MLPF&S has been merged into (including BANA and Banc of America Securities LLC ("BAS")) have within the past 5 years been convicted of, admitted guilt to in any civil or criminal proceeding, or charged with or indicted for any felony or criminal offense for conduct outlined in Section 1-23-020(a). Finally, MLPF&S believes that it is not ineligible under Section 2-92-320 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither MLPF&S nor its current employees have within the past 5 years been convicted of or made an admission of guilt regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4). Moreover, MLPF&S is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted of or made an admission of guilt within the past 5 years regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4) based on conduct that took place while they were employed by MLPF&S. In addition, MLPF&S believes that, under Section 2-92-320, it should not be chargeable with any conduct of BANA or BAS (or their former employees, including Douglass Campbell) that occurred prior to January 1, 2009, because MLPF&S was not affiliated with BANA and BAS before that date.

V.B.4 - Please see response to V.B.2. b, c and e above.

In addition, MLPF&S believes that it is not barred from contracting with any unit of State or local government pursuant to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 because neither MLPF&S nor its current employees have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 LCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses. Moreover, MLPF&S is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses based on conduct that took place while they were employed by MLPF&S. Finally, at the time of the conduct at issue in Mr. Campbell's guilty plea, MLPF&S was not affiliated with BANA or BAS.

Attachment for Section V.D:
Please note that the Disclosing Party is a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 220,000 full-time equivalent employees as of March 31, 2015. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

FILLING OUT THIS APPENDIX B CONSTITUTES ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND AGREEMENT THAT THIS APPENDIX B IS INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE INTO, AND MADE A PART OF, THE ASSOCIATED EDS, AND THAT THE REPRESENTATIONS MADE IN THIS APPENDIX B ARE SUBJECT TO THE CERTIFICATION MADE UNDER PENALTY OF PERJURY ON PAGE 12 OF THE ASSOCIATED EDS.

BAC North America Holding Company
As of 7/21/2015

DIRECTORS AND KEY ELECTED OFFICERS:

Greener, Geoffrey	Director/Chief Risk Officer
Laughlin, Terrence P.	Director/President, Strategic Initiatives
Thompson, Bruce R.	Director/CFO
Moynihan, Brian T.	Director/Chairman, President & CEO

Attachment for Section III:
Please note that the Disclosing Party is a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 220,000 full-time equivalent employees as of March 31, 2015. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

Attachment for Section V.B: {BAC North America Holding Company}

Disclosing Party certifies, as set forth below, to the best of its knowledge and belief that with respect to V.B.2.a.:

Neither BAC North America Holding Company ("BACNAH") nor its Directors and Executive Officers identified in Section II.B.1 of this EDS is subject to any order, judgment or decree by any court or government authority in which it is barred, suspended or otherwise limited from engaging in any type of business practice.

V.B.2.b, c and e:

BACNAH is an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). Bank of America Corporation makes all required disclosures regarding itself and its subsidiaries in its Form 10-K as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and its Annual Report as posted on its website at http://investor.bankofamerica.com/phoenix.zhtml?c=71595&p=irol-reportsannual. In addition, BAC's registered broker-dealer and investment adviser subsidiaries make all required disclosures on their Form BDs as filed with FINRA and their Form ADVs as filed with the SEC. These filings include disclosures of investigations and litigation as required by the SRO's and federal law, and are publicly available. BAC cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other non-public investigation conducted by any governmental agency unless required to do so by law.

V.B.2.d

The Disclosing Party performed due diligence within the Public Finance Group of MLPF&S to determine whether any Public Finance Group employees were aware of any public finance transactions (federal, state or local) having been terminated for cause or default within the last five years, and none of such employees were aware of any such terminations.

V.B.3.a, b and c -

In addition, in 2010, Douglass Campbell, a former Bank of America, N.A. ("BANA") employee, pled guilty to violating, among other statutes, 15 U.S.C. § 15. 15 U.S.C. § 15's elements are similar to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3. Although Mr. Campbell was not an employee of BANA or BAC at the time of his guilty plea, some of the conduct to which he pled guilty occurred while he was employed by BANA. Despite Mr. Campbell's conviction, MLPF&S believes that it should not be barred from contracting with the City.

MLPF&S believes that it is not ineligible under Section 1-23-020 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither MLPF&S (or any controlling person of MLPF&S) nor any entity that MLPF&S has been merged into (including BANA and Banc of America Securities LLC ("BAS")) have within the past 5 years been convicted of, admitted guilt to in any civil or criminal proceeding, or charged with or indicted for any felony or criminal offense for conduct outlined in Section 1-23-020(a). Finally, MLPF&S believes that it is not ineligible under Section 2-92-320 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither MLPF&S nor its current employees have within the past 5 years been convicted of or made an admission of guilt regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4). Moreover, MLPF&S is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted of or made an admission of guilt within the past 5 years regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4) based on conduct that took place while they were employed by MLPF&S. In addition, MLPF&S believes that, under Section 2-92-320, it should not be chargeable with any conduct of BANA or BAS (or their former employees, including Douglass Campbell) that occurred prior to January 1, 2009, because MLPF&S was not affiliated with BANA and BAS before that date.

V.B.4

In addition, MLPF&S believes that it is not barred from contracting with any unit of State or local government pursuant to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 because neither MLPF&S nor its current employees have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 LCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses. Moreover, MLPF&S is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses based on conduct that took place while they were employed by MLPF&S. Finally, at the time of the conduct at issue in Mr. Campbell's guilty plea, MLPF&S was not affiliated with BANA or BAS.

Section V.B.2b-e:

BAC North America Holdings Company ("BACNAH") is an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). Bank of America Corporation makes all required disclosures regarding itself and its subsidiaries in its Form 10-K as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and its Annual Report as posted on its website at http://investor.bankofamerica.com/phoenix.zhtml?c=71595&p=irol-reportsannual. In addition, BAC's registered broker-dealer and investment adviser subsidiaries make all required disclosures on their Form BDs as filed with FINRA and their Form ADVs as filed with the SEC. These filings include disclosures of investigations and litigation as required by the SRO's and federal law, and are publicly available. BAC cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other non-public investigation conducted by any governmental agency unless required to do so by law.

Attachment for Section V.D:
Please note that the Disclosing Party is a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 220,000 full-time equivalent employees as of March 31, 2015. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

NB Holdings Corporation
As of 7/21/2015

DIRECTORS AND KEY ELECTED OFFICERS:

Greener, Geoffrey	Director/Chief Risk Officer
Laughlin, Terrence P.	Director/President, Strategic Initiatives
Thompson, Bruce R.	Director/CFO
Moynihan, Brian T.	Director/Chairman, President & CEO

Attachment for Section III:
Please note that the Disclosing Party is a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 220,000 full-time equivalent employees as of March 31, 2015. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

Attachment for Section V.B: {NB Holdings Corporation}

Disclosing Party certifies, as set forth below, to the best of its knowledge and belief that with respect to V.B.2.a.:

Neither NB Holdings Corporation ("NB Holdings") nor its Directors and Executive Officers identified in Section II.B.1 of this EDS is subject to any order, judgment or decree by any court or government authority in which it is barred, suspended or otherwise limited from engaging in any type of business practice.

V.B.2.b, c and e:

NB Holdings is a direct wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). Bank of America Corporation makes all required disclosures regarding itself and its subsidiaries in its Form 10-K as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and its Annual Report as posted on its website at http://investor.bankofamerica.com/phoenix.zhtml?c=71595&p=irol-reportsannual. In addition, BAC's registered broker-dealer and investment adviser subsidiaries make all required disclosures on their Form BDs as filed with FINRA and their Form ADVs as filed with the SEC. These filings include disclosures of investigations and litigation as required by the SRO's and federal law, and are publicly available. BAC cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other non-public investigation conducted by any governmental agency unless required to do so by law.

The Disclosing Party performed due diligence within the Public Finance Group of MLPF&S to determine whether any Public Finance Group employees were aware of any public finance transactions (federal, state or local) having been terminated for cause or default within the last five years, and none of such employees were aware of any such terminations.

V.B.3.a, b and c -
In addition, in 2010, Douglass Campbell, a former Bank of America, N.A. ("BANA") employee, pled guilty to violating, among other statutes, 15 U.S.C. § 15. 15 U.S.C. § 15's elements are similar to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3. Although Mr. Campbell was not an employee of BANA or BAC at the time of his guilty plea, some of the conduct to which he pled guilty occurred while he was employed by BANA. Despite Mr. Campbell's conviction, MLPF&S believes that it should not be barred from contracting with the City.

MLPF&S believes that it is not ineligible under Section 1-23-020 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither MLPF&S (or any controlling person of MLPF&S) nor any entity that MLPF&S has been merged into (including BANA and Banc of America Securities LLC ("BAS")) have within the past 5 years been convicted of, admitted guilt to in any civil or criminal proceeding, or charged with or indicted for any felony or criminal offense for conduct outlined in Section 1-23-020(a). Finally, MLPF&S believes that it is not ineligible under Section 2-92-320 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither MLPF&S nor its current employees have within the past 5 years been convicted of or made an admission of guilt regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4). Moreover, MLPF&S is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted of or made an admission of guilt within the past 5 years regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4) based on conduct that took place while they were employed by MLPF&S. In addition, MLPF&S believes that, under Section 2-92-320, it should not be chargeable with any conduct of BANA or BAS (or their former employees, including Douglass Campbell) that occurred prior to January 1, 2009, because MLPF&S was not affiliated with BANA and BAS before that date.

V.B.4 -

In addition, MLPF&S believes that it is not barred from contracting with any unit of State or local government pursuant to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 because neither MLPF&S nor its current employees have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 LCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses. Moreover, MLPF&S is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses based on conduct that took place while they were employed by MLPF&S. Finally, at the time of the conduct at issue in Mr. Campbell's guilty plea, MLPF&S was not affiliated with BANA or BAS.

Section V.B.2.b-e:

NB Holdings Corporation ("NB Holdings") is a direct wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). Bank of America Corporation makes all required disclosures regarding itself and its subsidiaries in its Form 10-K as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and its Annual Report as posted on its website at http://investor.bankofamerica.com/phoenix.zhtml?c=71595&p=irol-reportsannual. In addition, BAC's registered broker-dealer and investment adviser subsidiaries make all required disclosures on their Form BDs as filed with FINRA and their Form ADVs as filed with the SEC. These filings include disclosures of investigations and litigation as required by the SRO's and federal law, and are publicly available. BAC cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other non-public investigation conducted by any governmental agency unless required to do so by law.

Attachment for Section V.D:
Please note that the Disclosing Party is a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 220,000 full-time equivalent employees as of March 31, 2015. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

Attachment for Section III:
Please note that the Disclosing Party is Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 220,000 full-time equivalent employees as of March 31, 2015. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

Attachment for Section V.B: {Bank of America Corporation}

Disclosing Party certifies, as set forth below, to the best of its knowledge and belief that with respect to V.B.2.a.:

Neither Bank of America Corporation ("BAC") nor its Executive Officers and Directors identified in Section II.B.1 of this EDS is subject to any order, judgment or decree by any court or government authority in which it is barred, suspended or otherwise limited from engaging in any type of business practice.

V.B.2.b, c and e:

BAC makes all required disclosures in its Form 10-K as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and its Annual Report as posted on its website at http://investor.bankofamerica.com/phoenix.zhtml?c=71595&p=irol-reportsannual. In addition, BAC's registered broker-dealer and investment adviser subsidiaries make all required disclosures on their Form BDs as filed with FINRA and their Form ADVs as filed with the SEC. These filings include disclosures of investigations and litigation as required by the SRO's and federal law, and are publicly available.

BAC cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other non-public investigation conducted by any governmental agency unless required to do so by law.

Please let us know if you need any additional information.

V.B.2.d

The Disclosing Party performed due diligence within the Public Finance Group of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated ("MLPF&S") to determine whether any Public Finance Group employees were aware of any public finance transactions (federal, state or local) having been terminated for cause or default within the last five years, and none of such employees were aware of any such terminations.

V.B.3.a, b and c - Please see response to V.B.2. b, c and e above.

In addition, in 2010, Douglass Campbell, a former Bank of America, N.A. ("BANA") employee, pled guilty to violating, among other statutes, 15 U.S.C. § 15. 15 U.S.C. § 15's elements are similar to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3. Although Mr. Campbell was not an employee of BANA or BAC at the time of his guilty plea, some of the conduct to which he pled guilty occurred while he was employed by BANA. Despite Mr. Campbell's conviction, MLPF&S believes that it should not be barred from contracting with the City.

MLPF&S believes that it is not ineligible under Section 1-23-020 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither MLPF&S (or any controlling person of MLPF&S) nor any entity that MLPF&S has been merged into (including BANA and Banc of America Securities LLC ("BAS")) have within the past 5 years been convicted of, admitted guilt to in any civil or criminal proceeding, or charged with or indicted for any felony or criminal offense for conduct outlined in Section 1-23-020(a). Finally, MLPF&S believes that it is not ineligible under Section 2-92-320 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither MLPF&S nor its current employees have within the past 5 years been convicted of or made an admission of guilt regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4). Moreover, MLPF&S is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted of or made an admission of guilt within the past 5 years regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4) based on conduct that took place while they were employed by MLPF&S. In addition, MLPF&S believes that, under Section 2-92-320, it should not be chargeable with any conduct of BANA or BAS (or their former employees, including Douglass Campbell) that occurred prior to January 1, 2009, because MLPF&S was not affiliated with BANA and BAS before that date.

V.B.4- Please see response to V.B.2. b, c and e above.

In addition, MLPF&S believes that it is not barred from contracting with any unit of State or local government pursuant to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 because neither MLPF&S nor its current employees have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 LCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses. Moreover, MLPF&S is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses based on conduct that took place while they were employed by MLPF&S. Finally, at the time of the conduct at issue in Mr. Campbell's guilty plea, MLPF&S was not affiliated with BANA or BAS.

Attachment for Section V.D:
Please note that the Disclosing Party is Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 220,000 full-time equivalent employees as of March 31, 2015. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

RE: City of Chicago, Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit
Response to Section V, B, 7 explaining exception for Section V, B, 2, e
Raymond James & Associates, Inc.

In the normal course of business, Raymond James & Associates, Inc. ("Raymond James") is subject to routine regulatory investigations. Raymond James co-operates fully with all regulatory requests. To the best of our knowledge there are no regulatory or litigation matters pending which would impair Raymond James' ability to perform the requested services. This response is limited to matters within the last five years relating to Raymond James and its associates.

Although unrelated to Raymond James' public finance activities, in September, 2012, Raymond James executed a Letter of Acceptance, Waiver and Consent with FINRA and was fined $250,000 as a result of two instances of accidental data security breaches.

Although unrelated to Raymond James' public finance professional activities, in September 2011, Raymond James agreed to pay restitution of $1.69 million to primarily retail clients for equity securities commissions outside of FINRA's guidelines. In most instances, the trades involved transactions in low-priced securities generated by Raymond James' automated commission schedule. Additionally, FINRA fined Raymond James $225,000.

In June 2011, Raymond James reached an agreement to settle administrative proceedings with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and with state securities regulators led by Florida and Texas to repurchase at par auction rate securities sold to clients. Raymond James also agreed to pay a fine of $1.75 million to the state regulators, but was not fined by the SEC.

Raymond James engages in a full range of securities-related business. As a result of its size and in line with other full-service firms in its industry, Raymond James and certain associates have been involved in a modest number of lawsuits, regulatory actions, and investigation during the last five years, in addition to the aforementioned matters. Except for certain retail arbitrations and routine regulatory inquiries, to the best of its knowledge, these additional matters did not directly relate to Raymond James' public finance professional activities. However, some of these matters may have touched upon Raymond James' activities as they relate to municipal securities.

Legacy Morgan Keegan matters

On April 2, 2012, Raymond James Financial, Inc. ("RJF"), the parent company of Raymond James, acquired all of the stock of Morgan Keegan & Company, Inc. ("Morgan Keegan") from Regions Financial Corporation ("RF"). The operating activities of both Raymond James and Morgan Keegan have been combined and now do business solely as Raymond James. To the best of our knowledge there are no regulatory or litigation matters pending with respect to Morgan Keegan which would impair Raymond James' ability to perform the requested services. The matters discussed below relate, directly or indirectly, to Morgan Keegan's prior public finance business.

In February 2009, MK voluntarily commenced a repurchase program of auction rate securities (ARS). In March 2009, Morgan Keegan received a Wells notice from the SEC related to ARS. In July 2009, the SEC filed a complaint in US District Court for the Northern District of Georgia against Morgan Keegan for allegedly violating the federal securities laws in connection with ARS that Morgan Keegan underwrote, marketed and sold. The SEC sought an injunction against Morgan Keegan as well as disgorgement, financial penalties and other equitable relief, including repurchase by Morgan Keegan of all ARS that it sold prior to March 20, 2008. In February 2013, the District Court found for the SEC, but Morgan Keegan was only ordered to repurchase ARS from two holders, and pay a penalty of $110,000 based upon a finding of a few discrete instances of negligence. The District Court found no securities fraud had been committed by the firm, and denied the SEC's claims for injunctive relief, disgorgement or other equitable relief.

Beginning in March 2011, the SEC, the Missouri State Securities Division, the Missouri State Attorney General's Office, and the Texas State Securities Board have inquired into Morgan Keegan's role in the Industrial Development Authority of the City of Moberly, Missouri's bond issuance whereby appropriation credit bonds were issued to fund a manufacturing facility. The company constructing the facility has filed for bankruptcy and Moberly failed to make appropriation credit payments. Morgan Keegan is fully complying with any regulatory requests. Several investors have filed lawsuits or arbitrations which Morgan Keegan is defending vigorously. In April 2013, the Missouri Secretary of State brought a "Show Cause" Order against Morgan Keegan and three individually named employees relating to the Moberly bond issue. The Order requires Morgan Keegan to show cause why it should not be subject to disgorgement, restitution, and payment of costs and penalties. On December 2, 2013, the Secretary of State voluntarily vacated its "Show Cause" Order, and filed a lawsuit in state court making similar accusations, but naming additional individual defendants. To date, the SEC, the Missouri State Attorney General's Office, nor the Texas State Securities Board has taken any legal or administrative action against Morgan Keegan. It is not possible to predict the ultimate resolution or financial liability with respect to the matter, but management is currently of the opinion that the outcome of this matter may not have a material effect on Morgan Keegan's business, consolidated financial position or results of operations.

Please refer from time to time to Raymond James' and Morgan Keegan's various regulatory filings available on the SEC's and FINRA's websites for additional information.

RE: City of Chicago, Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit
Response to Section V, B, 7 explaining exception for Section V, B, 2, e
Raymond James Financial, Inc.

In the normal course of business, Raymond James & Associates, Inc. ("Raymond James") is subject to routine regulatory investigations. Raymond James co-operates fully with all regulatory requests. To the best of our knowledge there are no regulatory or litigation matters pending which would impair Raymond James' ability to perform the requested services. This response is limited to matters within the last five years relating to Raymond James and its associates.

Although unrelated to Raymond James' public finance activities, in September, 2012, Raymond James executed a Letter of Acceptance, Waiver and Consent with FINRA and was fined $250,000 as a result of two instances of accidental data security breaches.

Although unrelated to Raymond James' public finance professional activities, in September 2011, Raymond James agreed to pay restitution of $1.69 million to primarily retail clients for equity securities commissions outside of FINRA's guidelines. In most instances, the trades involved transactions in low-priced securities generated by Raymond James' automated commission schedule. Additionally, FINRA fined Raymond James $225,000.

In June 2011, Raymond James reached an agreement to settle administrative proceedings with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and with state securities regulators led by Florida and Texas to repurchase at par auction rate securities sold to clients. Raymond James also agreed to pay a fine of $1.75 million to the state regulators, but was not fined by the SEC.

Raymond James engages in a full range of securities-related business. As a result of its size and in line with other full-service firms in its industry, Raymond James and certain associates have been involved in a modest number of lawsuits, regulatory actions, and investigation during the last five years, in addition to the aforementioned matters. Except for certain retail arbitrations and routine regulatory inquiries, to the best of its knowledge, these additional matters did not directly relate to Raymond James' public finance professional activities. However, some of these matters may have touched upon Raymond James' activities as they relate to municipal securities.

Legacy Morgan Keegan matters

On April 2, 2012, Raymond James Financial, Inc. ("RJF"), the parent company of Raymond James, acquired all of the stock of Morgan Keegan & Company, Inc. ("Morgan Keegan") from Regions Financial Corporation ("RF"). The operating activities of both Raymond James and Morgan Keegan have been combined and now do business solely as Raymond James. To the best of our knowledge there are no regulatory or litigation matters pending with respect to Morgan Keegan which would impair Raymond James' ability to perform the requested services. The matters discussed below relate, directly or indirectly, to Morgan Keegan's prior public finance business.

In February 2009, MK voluntarily commenced a repurchase program of auction rate securities (ARS). In March 2009, Morgan Keegan received a Wells notice from the SEC related to ARS. In July 2009, the SEC filed a complaint in US District Court for the Northern District of Georgia against Morgan Keegan for allegedly violating the federal securities laws in connection with ARS that Morgan Keegan underwrote, marketed and sold. The SEC sought an injunction against Morgan Keegan as well as disgorgement, financial penalties and other equitable relief, including repurchase by Morgan Keegan of all ARS that it sold prior to March 20, 2008. In February 2013, the District Court found for the SEC, but Morgan Keegan was only ordered to repurchase ARS from two holders, and pay a penalty of $110,000 based upon a finding of a few discrete instances of negligence. The District Court found no securities fraud had been committed by the firm, and denied the SEC's claims for injunctive relief, disgorgement or other equitable relief.

Beginning in March 2011, the SEC, the Missouri State Securities Division, the Missouri State Attorney General's Office, and the Texas State Securities Board have inquired into Morgan Keegan's role in the Industrial Development Authority of the City of Moberly, Missouri's bond issuance whereby appropriation credit bonds were issued to fund a manufacturing facility. The company constructing the facility has filed for bankruptcy and Moberly failed to make appropriation credit payments. Morgan Keegan is fully complying with any regulatory requests. Several investors have filed lawsuits or arbitrations which Morgan Keegan is defending vigorously. In April 2013, the Missouri Secretary of State brought a "Show Cause" Order against Morgan Keegan and three individually named employees relating to the Moberly bond issue. The Order requires Morgan Keegan to show cause why it should not be subject to disgorgement, restitution, and payment of costs and penalties. On December 2, 2013, the Secretary of State voluntarily vacated its "Show Cause" Order, and filed a lawsuit in state court making similar accusations, but naming additional individual defendants. To date, the SEC, the Missouri State Attorney General's Office, nor the Texas State Securities Board has taken any legal or administrative action against Morgan Keegan. It is not possible to predict the ultimate resolution or financial liability with respect to the matter, but management is currently of the opinion that the outcome of this matter may not have a material effect on Morgan Keegan's business, consolidated financial position or results of operations.

Please refer from time to time to Raymond James' and Morgan Keegan's various regulatory filings available on the SEC's and FINRA's websites for additional information.

(1) Amounts include acquisition adjustments and reclassification of certain AUM acquired from BGI in December 2009. Amounts also include AUM acquired from Swiss Re Private Equity Partners ("SRPEP") in September 2012, Claymore Investments, Inc. ("Claymore") in March 2012, Credit Suisse's ETF franchise ("Credit Suisse ETF Transaction") in July 2013 and MGPA in October 2013, and other reclassifications to conform to current period combined AUM policy and presentation. Amounts also include BGI merger-related outflows due to manager concentration considerations prior to the third quarter of 2011 and outflows from scientific active equity performance prior to the second quarter of 2011. As a result of client investment manager concentration limits and the scientific active equity performance, outflows were expected to occur for a period of time subsequent to the close of the transaction.

AUM represents the broad ranges of financial assets we manage for clients on a discretionary basis pursuant to investment management agreements that are expected to continue for at least 12 months. In general, reported AUM reflects the valuation methodology that corresponds to the basis used for billing (for example, net asset value). Reported AUM does not include assets for which we provide risk management or other forms of nondiscretionary advice, or assets that we are retained to manage on a short-term, temporary basis.

Investment management fees are typically expressed as a percentage of AUM. We also earn performance fees on certain portfolios relative to an agreed-upon benchmark or return hurdle. On some products, we also may earn securities lending fees. In addition, BlackRock offers its proprietary Aladdin investment system as well as risk management, outsourcing and advisory services, to institutional investors under the BRS name. Revenue for these services may be based on several criteria including value of positions, number of users, accomplishment of specific deliverables or other objectives.

At December 31, 2014, total AUM was $4.652 trillion, representing a CAGR of 7% over the last five years. AUM growth during the period was achieved through the combination of net market valuation gains, net new business and acquisitions, including Claymore and SRPEP, which added $13.7 billion of AUM in 2012, and Credit Suisse and MGPA, which collectively added $26.9 billion of AUM in 2013. Our AUM mix encompasses a broadly diversified product range, as described below.

The Company considers the categorization of its AUM by client type, product type, investment style and client region useful to understanding its business. The following discussion of the Company's AUM will be organized as follows:

Client Type	Product Type	Client Region
☐ Retail	☐ Equity	☐ Americas
☐ iShares	☐ Fixed Income	☐ Europe, the Middle East and Africa ("EMEA")
☐ Institutional	☐ Multi-asset	☐ Asia-Pacific
	☐ Alternatives

- U S retail long-term net inflows of $31.6 billion, or 10% organic growth, were led by fixed income inflows of $23.3 billion. Fixed income net inflows were diversified across exposures and products, with strong flows into our unconstrained, high yield and core bond offerings. Multi-asset class net inflows of $6.7 billion were driven by demand for our Multi-Asset Income fund, which had $5.0 billion of net inflows. Our suite of retail alternatives mutual funds continued to gain traction, raising $2 7 billion of net inflows, and we remain committed to broadening the distribution of alternatives funds to bring institutional-quality alternatives products to retail investors Net inflows across fixed income, multi-asset class and alternatives were partially offset by equity net outflows of $1.0 billion, driven by historical performance-related redemptions from U.S. large cap equities, but we continue to make progress on the reinvigoration and globalization of our fundamental active equity business
- International retail long-term net inflows of $23 4 billion, representing 15% organic growth, were positive across major regions and diversified across asset classes. Fixed income products generated net inflows of $13 7 billion, led by short duration and unconstrained strategies as investors looked to manage duration and generate yield in their portfolios. Multi-asset class net inflows of $6 7 billion were driven by flows into the cross-border versions of our Global Allocation and Multi-Asset Income funds. Equity net inflows of $2.6 billion reflected strong flows into index mutual funds, partially offset by outflows from our European Equities suite, due to macro headwinds as European market sentiment declined.

Institutional active AUM ended 2014 at $959.2 billion, up $26.8 billion, or 3%, since year-end 2013. Institutional active represented 22% of long-term AUM and 20% of long-term base fees. Growth in AUM reflected continued strength in multi-asset class products with net inflows of $15.8 billion largely from defined contribution plans into target date offerings. Multi-asset class net inflows were offset by equity net outflows of $18.6 billion, with 63% of outflows coming from fundamental strategies. Fixed income net outflows of $6.9 billion were primarily due to several large client-specific asset allocation decisions and corporate actions such as client acquisitions. These events offset positive momentum in credit mandates. Alternatives net outflows of $0.7 billion included $3.1 billion of return of capital, excluding return of capital, alternatives net inflows of $2.4 billion were led by inflows into hedge fund and private equity solutions.

Institutional index AUM totaled $1.816 trillion at December 31, 2014, reflecting net inflows of $36.1 billion. Flows were led by fixed income with net inflows of $26.3 billion, primarily into local currency, U.S. targeted duration and global bond mandates, reflecting solutions-based LDI activity and portfolio rebalancing. Equities saw net inflows of $9.9 billion, primarily into global mandates, as clients increasingly looked to use passive vehicles for broad macro exposure. Institutional index represented 42% of long-term AUM at December 31, 2014 and accounted for 10% of long-term base fees for 2014.

The Company's institutional clients consist of the following:

The market landscape is shifting from defined benefit to defined contribution, driving strong flows in our defined contribution channel, which had $29.3 billion of long-term net inflows for the year, or 6% organic growth, driven by continued demand for our LifePath® target-date suite. We ended 2014 with $599.2 billion in defined contribution AUM, and remain well positioned to capitalize on the on-going evolution of the defined contribution market and demand for outcome-oriented investments. An additional $55.6 billion, or 2% of long-term institutional AUM, was managed for other tax-exempt investors, including charities, foundations and endowments.
- Official Institutions. Long-term product offerings include active and index strategies. Our active strategies seek to earn attractive returns in excess of a market benchmark or performance hurdle while maintaining an appropriate risk profile. We offer two types of active strategies: those that rely primarily on fundamental research and those that utilize primarily quantitative models to drive portfolio construction. In contrast, index strategies seek to closely track the returns of a corresponding index, generally by investing in substantially the same underlying securities within the index or in a subset of those securities selected to approximate a similar risk and return profile of the index. Index strategies include both our non-ETF index products and iShares ETFs.

Although many clients use both active and index strategies, the application of these strategies may differ. For example, clients may use index products to gain exposure to a market or asset class. In addition, institutional non-ETF index assignments tend to be very large (multi-billion dollars) and typically reflect low fee rates. This has the potential to exaggerate the significance of net flows in institutional index products on BlackRock's revenues and earnings.

Equity

Year-end 2014 equity AUM of $2.451 trillion increased by $133.4 billion, or 6%, from the end of 2013 due to net new business of $52.4 billion and net market appreciation and foreign exchange movements of $81.0 billion. Net inflows were driven by $59.6 billion and $17.7 billion into iShares and non-ETF index accounts, respectively. Index inflows were offset by active net outflows of $24.9 billion, with outflows of $18.0 billion and $6.9 billion from fundamental and scientific active equity products, respectively.

BlackRock's effective fee rates fluctuate due to changes in AUM mix. Approximately half of BlackRock's equity AUM is tied to international markets, including emerging markets, which tend to have higher fee rates than similar U.S. equity strategies. Accordingly, fluctuations in international equity markets, which do not consistently move in tandem with U.S. markets, may have a greater impact on BlackRock's effective equity fee rates and revenues.

Fixed Income

Fixed income AUM ended 2014 at $1.394 trillion, increasing $151.5 billion, or 12%, from December 31, 2013. The increase in AUM reflected $96.4 billion in net new business and $55.1 billion in net market appreciation and foreign exchange movements. In 2014, net new business was diversified across fixed income offerings, with strong flows into our unconstrained, total return and high yield products. Flagship funds in these product areas include our unconstrained Strategic Income Opportunities and Fixed Income Global Opportunities funds, with net inflows of $13.3 billion and $4.2 billion, respectively, our Total Return fund with net inflows of $2.1 billion, and our High Yield Bond fund with net inflows of $2.1 billion. Fixed income net inflows were positive across investment styles, with iShares, non-ETF index, and active net inflows of $40.0 billion, $28.7 billion and $27.7 billion, respectively.

Multi-Asset Class

BlackRock's multi-asset class team manages a variety of balanced funds and bespoke mandates for a diversified client base that leverages our broad investment expertise in global equities, currencies, bonds and commodities, and our extensive risk management capabilities. Investment solutions might include a combination of long-only portfolios and alternative investments as well as tactical asset allocation overlays.

Component changes in multi-asset class AUM for 2014 are presented below.

Flows reflected ongoing institutional demand for our solutions-based advice with $15.1 billion, or 52%, of net inflows coming from institutional clients. Defined contribution plans of institutional clients remained a significant driver of flows, and contributed $12.8 billion to institutional multi-asset class net new business in 2014, primarily into target date and target risk product offerings. Retail net inflows of $13.4 billion were driven by particular demand for our Multi-Asset Income fund, which raised $6.3 billion in 2014.

The Company's multi-asset strategies include the following:

- Asset allocation and balanced products represented 48% of multi-asset class AUM at year-end, with growth in AUM driven by net new business of $18.4 billion. These strategies combine equity, fixed income and alternative components for investors seeking a tailored solution relative to a specific benchmark and within a risk budget. In certain cases, these strategies seek to minimize downside risk through diversification, derivatives strategies and tactical asset allocation decisions. Flagship products in this category include our Global Allocation and Multi-Asset Income suites.
- Target date and target risk products grew 10% organically in 2014. Institutional investors represented 90% of target date and target risk AUM, with defined contribution plans accounting for over 80% of AUM. The remaining 10% of target date and target risk AUM consisted of retail client investments. Flows were driven by defined contribution investments in our LifePath and LifePath Retirement Income® offerings. LifePath products utilize a proprietary asset allocation model that seeks to balance risk and return over an investment horizon based on the investor's expected retirement timing.
- Fiduciary management services are complex mandates in which pension plan sponsors or endowments and foundations retain BlackRock to assume responsibility for some or all aspects of plan management. These customized services require strong partnership with the clients' investment staff and trustees in order to tailor investment strategies to meet client-specific risk budgets and return objectives.

Alternatives

BlackRock Alternative Investors ("BAI") focuses on sourcing and managing high-alpha investments with lower correlation to public markets and developing a holistic approach to address client needs in alternatives investing. Our alternatives products fall into two main categories — core and currency and commodities. Core includes hedge funds, hedge fund and private equity solutions (funds of funds), opportunistic private equity and credit, real estate and infrastructure offerings. We continued to see momentum across our alternatives business, particularly within our retail platform, which now stands at $18.7 billion in AUM, and in illiquid alternatives where we raised $5.8 billion of new commitments in 2014 across a variety of strategies, including private equity and hedge fund solutions, opportunistic credit, renewable power, and infrastructure debt. At year-end, we had $8.9 billion of unfunded commitments, which are expected to be deployed in future years; these commitments are not included in AUM until they are invested.

We believe that as alternatives become more conventional and investors adapt their asset allocation strategies to best meet their investment objectives, they will further increase their use of alternative investments to complement core holdings, and as a top 10 alternative provider[3] our highly diversified $111.2 billion alternatives franchise is well positioned to meet growing demand from both institutional and retail investors.

- Illiquid and Opportunistic AUM included $12.3 billion in private equity solutions and $0.8 billion in opportunistic private equity and credit offerings. Net inflows of $1.0 billion were predominantly into private equity solutions.

Currency and commodities products include a range of active and passive products. Our iShares commodities products represented $14.7 billion of AUM, and are not eligible for performance fees.

SECURITIES LENDING

Securities lending is managed by a dedicated team, supported by quantitative analysis, proprietary technology and disciplined risk management. The cash management team invests the cash we receive as collateral for securities on loan in other portfolios Fees for securities lending can be structured as a share of earnings and/or as a management fee based on a percentage of the value of the cash collateral. The value of the securities on loan and the revenue earned is captured in the corresponding asset class being managed. The value of the collateral is not included in AUM

Outstanding loan balances ended the year at approximately $187 billion, up from $156 billion at year-end 2013 Liability spreads declined from 2013 levels, as the proportion of "special collateral," securities commanding premium lending fees, declined due to low idiosyncratic risk, low single stock volatility and lack of M&A activity

BlackRock employs a conservative investment style for cash and securities lending collateral that emphasizes quality, liquidity and interest rate risk management Disciplined risk management, including a rigorous credit surveillance process, is an integral part of the investment process. BlackRock's Cash Management Credit Committee has established risk limits, such as aggregate issuer exposure limits and maturity limits, across many of the products BlackRock manages, including over all of its cash management products In the ordinary course of our business, there may be instances when a portfolio may exceed an internal risk limit or when an internal risk limit may be changed No such instances, individually or in the aggregate, have been material to the Company To the extent that daily evaluation/reporting of the profile of the portfolios identifies that a limit has been exceeded, the relevant portfolio will be adjusted To the extent a portfolio manager would like to obtain a temporary waiver of a risk limit, the portfolio manager must obtain approval from the credit research team, which is independent from the cash management portfolio managers While a risk limit may be waived, such temporary waivers are infrequent

RISK & QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS

Across all asset classes, in addition to the efforts of the portfolio management teams, the Risk & Quantitative Analysis ("RQA") group at BlackRock draws on extensive analytical systems and proprietary and third-party data to identify, measure and manage a wide range of risks. RQA provides risk management advice and independent risk oversight of the investment management processes, identifies and helps manage counterparty and operational risks, coordinates standards for firm wide investment performance measurement and determines risk management-related analytical and information requirements Where appropriate, RQA will work with portfolio managers and developers to facilitate the development or improvement of risk models and analytics

COMPETITION

BlackRock competes with investment management firms, mutual fund complexes, insurance companies, banks, brokerage firms and other financial institutions that offer products that are similar to, or alternatives to, those offered by BlackRock In order to grow its business, BlackRock must be able to compete effectively for AUM Key competitive factors include investment performance track records, the efficient delivery of beta for index products, investment style and discipline, client service and brand name recognition Historically, the Company has competed principally on the basis of its long-term investment performance track record, its investment process, its risk management and analytic capabilities and the quality of its client service.

Consistent with our commitment to continually expand and enhance our talent base to support our clients, we added approximately 800 employees during the year, including in strategic focus areas.

REGULATION

Virtually all aspects of BlackRock's business are subject to various laws and regulations around the world, some of which are summarized below. These laws and regulations are primarily intended to protect investment advisory clients, investors in registered and unregistered investment companies, trust customers of BlackRock Institutional Trust Company, N A. ("BTC"), PNC and its bank subsidiaries and their customers and the financial system Under these laws and regulations, agencies that regulate investment advisers, investment funds and bank holding companies and other individuals and entities have broad administrative powers, including the power to limit, restrict or prohibit the regulated entity or person from carrying on business if it fails to comply with such laws and regulations Possible sanctions for significant compliance failures include the suspension of individual employees, limitations on engaging in certain lines of business for specified periods of time, revocation of investment adviser and other registrations, censures and fines both for individuals and the Company

The rules governing the regulation of financial institutions and their holding companies and subsidiaries are very detailed and technical Accordingly, the discussion below is general in nature, does not purport to be complete and is current only as of the date of this report.

GLOBAL REGULATORY REFORM

BlackRock is subject to numerous regulatory reform initiatives around the world Any such initiative, or any new laws or regulations or changes in enforcement of existing laws or regulations, could materially and adversely impact the scope or profitability of BlackRock's business activities, lead to business disruptions, require BlackRock to change certain business practices and expose BlackRock to additional costs (including compliance and legal costs), as well as reputational harm. BlackRock's profitability also could be materially and adversely affected by modification of the rules and regulations that impact the business and financial communities in general, including changes to the laws governing taxation, antitrust regulation and electronic commerce

Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act

In July 2010, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "DFA") was signed into law in the United States. The DFA is expansive in scope and requires the adoption of extensive regulations and numerous regulatory decisions, many of which have been adopted As the impact of these rules will become evident over time, it is not yet possible to predict the ultimate effects that the DFA, or subsequent implementing regulations and decisions, will have upon BlackRock's business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Systemically Important Financial Institution Review

Under the DFA, BlackRock could be designated a systemically important financial institution ("SIFI") and become subject to direct supervision by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the "Federal Reserve"). On July 31, 2014, the Financial Stability Oversight Council ("FSOC") principals directed the staff to undertake a more focused analysis of industry-wide products and activities to assess potential risks associated with the asset management industry, and on December 18, 2014 the FSOC issued a Request for Information related to this analysis.

In addition, on January 8, 2014, the Financial Stability Board ("FSB") and the International Organisation of Securities Commissions ("IOSCO") issued a consultative document on proposed methodologies to identify nonbank/noninsurance global systemically important financial institutions ("G-SIFI"). A second FSB-IOSCO consultation is expected to be released in the near future.

If BlackRock were designated a SIFI or G-SIFI, it could become subject to enhanced prudential, capital, supervisory and other requirements, such as risk-based capital requirements, leverage limits, liquidity requirements, resolution plan and credit exposure report requirements, concentration limits, a contingent capital requirement, enhanced public disclosures, short-term debt limits and overall risk management requirements. Requirements such as these, which were designed to regulate banking institutions, would likely need to be modified to be applicable to an asset manager such as BlackRock. No proposals have been made indicating how such measures would be adapted for asset managers.

Securities and Exchange Commission Review of Asset Managers

BlackRock's business may also be impacted by Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") regulatory initiatives. For example, on December 11, 2014 the Chair of the SEC announced that she is recommending that the SEC enhance its oversight of asset managers by (i) expanding and updating data requirements with which asset managers must comply, (ii) improving fund level controls, including those related to liquidity levels and the nature of specific instruments and (iii) ensuring that asset management firms have appropriate transition plans in place to deal with market stress events or situations where an investment adviser is no longer able to serve its clients. Although these recommendations have not yet resulted in any proposed rules, any additional SEC oversight or the introduction of any new reporting, disclosure or control requirements could expose BlackRock to additional compliance costs and may require the Company to change how it operates its business.

Money Market Fund Reform

In July 2014, the SEC adopted rule amendments designed to reform the regulatory structure governing money market funds and to address the perceived systemic risks that such funds present. The new rules require institutional prime and institutional municipal money market funds to employ a floating net asset value method of pricing, which allows the daily share prices of these funds to fluctuate along with changes in the market-based value of fund assets. The rules also provide for new tools for the funds' boards designed to address liquidity shocks, including liquidity fees and redemption gates. The rules do not apply to government (non-municipal) and retail money market funds, except that retail money market funds must comply with liquidity fees and redemption gate requirements. The potential impact of the rules that affect the structure of the funds, which have a two-year compliance period, on BlackRock's business remains untested, they may, however, reduce the attractiveness of certain money market funds to investors.

Regulation of Derivatives

The SEC, the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") each continue to review the use of futures, swaps and other derivatives by mutual funds. Such reviews could result in regulations that further limit the use of such products by mutual funds. If adopted, these limitations could require BlackRock to change certain mutual fund business practices or to register additional entities with the CFTC, which could result in additional costs and/or restrictions. BlackRock also reports certain information about a number of its private funds to the SEC and certain information about a number of its commodity pools to the CFTC, under systemic risk reporting requirements adopted by both agencies. These reporting obligations have required, and will continue to require, investments in people and systems to assure timely and accurate reporting.

Further, the full implementation of regulations under the DFA relating to regulation of swaps and derivatives will impact the manner in which BlackRock-advised funds and accounts use and trade swaps and other derivatives, increasing the costs of derivatives trading for BlackRock's clients. For example, CFTC, and eventually SEC rules and regulations applicable to offshore funds, accounts and counterparties will require BlackRock to build and implement new compliance monitoring procedures to address the enhanced level of oversight to which it will be subject. These rule changes also introduce new requirements for centrally clearing certain swap, and eventually security-based swap, transactions and for executing certain swap, and eventually security-based swap, transactions on or through CFTC or SEC-registered trading venues. Jurisdictions outside the United States in which BlackRock operates also have adopted and implemented, or are in the process of considering, adopting or implementing more pervasive regulation of many elements of the financial services industry, which could further impact BlackRock and the broader markets. This includes the implementation of mandated central clearing of swaps in the European Union ("EU") and the implementation of trade reporting, documentation, central clearing and other requirements in various jurisdictions globally.

Regulation of ETFs

Globally, regulators are examining the potential risks in ETFs and may impose additional regulations on ETFs. Depending on the outcome of this analysis, these products may be restricted in some ways and may require BlackRock to incur additional compliance expenses, which may adversely affect the Company's business.

Benchmark Reform

The IOSCO published principles for regulatory oversight of financial benchmarks in 2013, with standards applying to methodologies for benchmark calculation, and transparency and governance issues in the benchmarking process, some national and regional regulators are currently reviewing how to apply these principles, with a draft European Regulation published in September 2013 Similarly, in July 2014, the FSB published a report aimed at reforming major interest rate benchmarks These regulations may result in business disruptions, which could adversely impact the value of assets in which asset managers, including BlackRock, have invested directly or on behalf of their clients To the extent the regulations strictly control the activities of financial services firms, could make it more difficult for BlackRock to conduct certain businesses

Taxation

BlackRock's global business may be impacted by the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act ("FATCA"), which was enacted in 2010 and introduced expansive new investor onboarding, withholding and reporting rules aimed at ensuring U S persons with financial assets outside of the United States pay appropriate taxes In many instances, however, the precise nature of what needs to be implemented will be governed by bilateral Intergovernmental Agreements ("IGAs") between the United States and the countries in which BlackRock does business. While many of these IGAs have been put into place, others have yet to be concluded. The FATCA rules will impact both U S. and non-U S funds and subject BlackRock to extensive additional administrative burdens The Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development has also recently launched a base erosion and profit shifting ("BEPS") proposal that aims to rationalize tax treatment across jurisdictions If the BEPS proposal becomes the subject of legislative action in the format proposed, it could have unintended taxation consequences for collective investment vehicles and the Company's tax position, which could adversely affect BlackRock's financial condition

In addition, certain individual EU Member States, such as France and Italy, have enacted national financial transaction taxes ("FTTs"). There has also been renewed momentum by several other Member States to introduce FTTs, which would impose taxation on a broad range of financial instrument and derivatives transactions. In general, any tax on securities and derivatives transactions would impact investors and would likely have a negative impact on the liquidity of the securities and derivatives markets, could diminish the attractiveness of certain types of products that we manage in those countries and could cause clients to shift assets away from such products An FTT could significantly increase the operational costs of our entering into, on behalf of our clients, securities and derivatives transactions that would be subjected to an FTT, which could adversely impact our financial results and clients' performance results.

BlackRock's business could also be impacted to the extent there are other changes to tax laws. For example, the administration recently announced its proposed U S federal budget, which called for new industry fees for financial firms To the extent such fees are adopted and found to apply to BlackRock, they could adversely affect the Company's financial results

Regulation of Securities Lending

In its 2014 Annual Report, the FSOC identified securities lending indemnification by asset managers as a potential systemic risk that required further review and monitoring In addition, in January 2015, the European Parliament published its draft report on the European Commission's proposal for a European regulation on the reporting and transparency of securities financing transactions ("SFT").

The SFT regulation aims to improve the transparency surrounding SFTs and limit the perceived risks of SFTs by, among other things, requiring central reporting of SFTs, requiring disclosure of SFTs to investors and imposing minimum requirements relating to the difference in prices at which a market maker can buy and sell a security in SFTs If the recent scrutiny of securities lending practices results in new regulatory requirements or reporting obligations, BlackRock may be required to modify its securities lending activities or introduce additional compliance measures, which will subject the Company to additional expenses.

Volcker Rule

Provisions of the DFA referred to as the "Volcker Rule" place limitations on the ability of banks and their subsidiaries to engage in proprietary trading and to invest in and transact with certain private investment funds, including hedge funds, private equity funds and funds of funds (collectively "covered funds"). Because the Federal Reserve currently treats BlackRock as a nonbank subsidiary of PNC, BlackRock may be required to conform its activities to the requirements of the Volcker Rule The Volcker Rule's restrictions would, among other things, limit BlackRock's ability to invest in covered funds and require BlackRock to remove its name from the names of its covered funds, which could subject the Company to additional expense. The Volcker Rule may also require BlackRock to sell certain seed and co-investments that it holds in covered funds, potentially at a discount to existing carrying value, depending on market conditions. The Volcker Rule may also reduce the level of market making and liquidity activities of several of BlackRock's trading counterparties, which may adversely impact the liquidity and, in some cases, the pricing of various financial instruments in which BlackRock client accounts invest. For a further discussion of the Volcker Rule, see "Item 1A — Risk Factors — Legal and Regulatory Risks."

Markets in Financial Instrument Directives

BlackRock is also subject to numerous regulatory reform initiatives in Europe. For example, after the United Kingdom and other European jurisdictions in which BlackRock has a presence implemented the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive ("MiFID") rules (described more particularly under "— European Regulation" below) into national legislation, these jurisdictions recently began the additional process of implementing MiFID 2 and a new Markets in Financial Instruments Regulation. MiFID 2 builds upon many of the initiatives introduced through MiFID, which focused primarily on equities, to encourage trading across all asset classes to migrate on to open and transparent markets. MiFID 2, which will come into full effect in January 2017, will be implemented through a number of more detailed directives, regulations and technical standards to be made by the European Commission and by the European Securities and Markets Authority ("ESMA"). It is expected that MiFID 2 will have significant and wide-ranging impacts on EU securities and derivatives markets In particular, there will be (i) enhanced governance and investor protection standards, (ii) prescriptive rules on portfolio management firms' ability to receive and pay for investment research relating to all asset classes, (iii) enhanced regulation of algorithmic trading, (iv) the movement of trading in certain shares and derivatives on to regulated execution venues, (v) the extension of pre- and post-trade transparency requirements to wider categories of financial instruments, (vi) restrictions on the use of so-called dark pool trading, (vii) the creation of a new type of trading venue called the Organized Trading Facility for non-equity financial instruments, (viii) commodity derivative position limits and reporting requirements, (ix) a move away from vertical silos in execution, clearing and settlement, (x) an enhanced role for ESMA in supervising EU securities and derivatives markets and (xi) new requirements regarding non-EU investment firms' access to EU financial markets. Implementation of these measures will have direct and indirect impacts on the Company and its subsidiaries and may require significant changes to client servicing models.

Alternative Investment Fund Managers Directive

BlackRock's European business is impacted by the EU Alternative Investment Fund Managers Directive ("AIFMD"), which became effective on July 21, 2011. The AIFMD regulates managers of, and service providers to, a broad range of alternative investment funds ("AIFs") domiciled within and (depending on the precise circumstances) outside the EU. The AIFMD also regulates the marketing of all AIFs inside the European Economic Area ("EEA"). The AIFMD is being implemented in stages, which run through 2018. Compliance with the AIFMD's requirements restrict alternative investment fund marketing and impose additional compliance and disclosure obligations regarding remuneration, capital requirements, leverage, valuation, stakes in EU companies, depositaries, the domicile of custodians and liquidity management on BlackRock. These new compliance and disclosure obligations and the associated risk management and reporting requirements will subject BlackRock to additional expenses.

Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities

The EU has also adopted directives on the coordination of laws, regulations and administrative provisions relating to undertakings for collective investment in transferable securities ("UCITS") as regards depositary functions, remuneration policies and sanctions. The latest initiative in this area, UCITS V, which became effective in September 2014, seeks to align the depositary regime, remuneration rules and sanctioning powers of regulators under the UCITS Directive with the requirements of the AIFMD. UCITS V is required to be adopted in the national law of each EU member state during the second quarter of 2016. Similarly, in August 2014 ESMA revised the guidelines it initially published in 2012 on ETFs and other UCITS funds. The guidelines introduced new collateral management requirements for UCITS funds concerning collateral received in the context of derivatives using Efficient Portfolio Management ("EPM") techniques (including securities lending) and over-the-counter derivative transactions. These rules, which are now in effect, required BlackRock to make a series of changes to its collateral management arrangements applicable to the EPM of its UCITS fund ranges. Compliance with the UCITS directives will cause BlackRock to incur additional expenses associated with new risk management and reporting requirements.

Extension of Retail Distribution Review

BlackRock must also comply with newly implemented retail distribution rules aimed at enhancing consumer protections, overhauling mutual fund fee structures and increasing professionalism in the retail investment sector. The rules were originally introduced in the United Kingdom and have since been introduced in other jurisdictions where BlackRock operates. Similarly, MiFID 2 will contain a ban on certain advisers recovering commissions and other nonmonetary benefits from fund managers. These rules, if implemented, may lead to changes to the fees and commissions BlackRock is able to charge to its clients, as well as to its client servicing and distribution models.

EXISTING U.S. REGULATION - OVERVIEW

BlackRock and certain of its U.S. subsidiaries are currently subject to extensive regulation, primarily at the federal level, by the SEC, the Department of Labor (the "DOL"), the Federal Reserve, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency ("OCC"), the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"), the National Futures Association ("NFA"), the CFTC and other government agencies and regulatory bodies. Certain of BlackRock's U.S. subsidiaries are also subject to various anti-terrorist financing, privacy, anti-money laundering regulations and economic sanctions laws and regulations established by various agencies.

The Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (the "Advisers Act") imposes numerous obligations on registered investment advisers such as BlackRock, including record-keeping, operational and marketing requirements, disclosure obligations and prohibitions on fraudulent activities. The Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Investment Company Act") imposes stringent governance, compliance, operational, disclosure and related obligations on registered investment companies and their investment advisers and distributors, such as BlackRock. The SEC is authorized to institute proceedings and impose sanctions for violations of the Advisers Act and the Investment Company Act, ranging from fines and censure to termination of an investment adviser's registration. Investment advisers also are subject to certain state securities laws and regulations. Non-compliance with the Advisers Act, the Investment Company Act or other federal and state securities laws and regulations could result in investigations, sanctions, disgorgement, fines and reputational damage.

BlackRock's trading and investment activities for client accounts are regulated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act"), as well as the rules of various U.S. and non-U.S. securities exchanges and self-regulatory organizations, including laws governing trading on inside information, market manipulation and a broad number of technical requirements (e.g., short sale limits, volume limitations and reporting obligations) and market regulation policies in the United States and globally. Violation of any of these laws and regulations could result in restrictions on the Company's activities and damage its reputation. Furthermore, the SEC has recently promulgated new rules that give effect to a section of the DFA that requires municipal advisors (as that term is defined in the statute) to register with the SEC. The new rules require entities that provide certain types of advice to, or on behalf of, or solicit municipal entities or certain other persons, to register with the SEC and the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board ("MSRB") as municipal advisors, thereby subjecting those entities to new or additional regulation by the SEC and MSRB. BlackRock has registered one of its subsidiaries, BTC, as a municipal advisor under these new rules.

BlackRock manages a variety of private pools of capital, including hedge funds, funds of hedge funds, private equity funds, collateralized debt obligations ("CDOs"), collateralized loan obligations ("CLOs"), real estate funds, collective investment trusts, managed futures funds and hybrid funds. Congress, regulators, tax authorities and others continue to explore, on their own and in response to demands from the investment community and the public, increased regulation related to private pools of capital, including changes with respect to investor eligibility, certain limitations on trading activities, record-keeping and reporting, the scope of anti-fraud protections, safekeeping of client assets and a variety of other matters. BlackRock may be materially and adversely affected by new legislation, rule-making or changes in the interpretation or enforcement of existing rules and regulations imposed by various regulators.

Certain BlackRock subsidiaries are subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA"), and to regulations promulgated thereunder by the DOL, insofar as they act as a "fiduciary" under ERISA with respect to benefit plan clients. ERISA and applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code impose certain duties on persons who are fiduciaries under ERISA, prohibit certain transactions involving ERISA plan clients and impose excise taxes for violations of these prohibitions, mandate certain required periodic reporting and disclosures and require BlackRock to carry bonds ensuring against losses caused by fraud or dishonesty. ERISA also imposes additional compliance, reporting and operational requirements on BlackRock that otherwise are not applicable to non-benefit plan clients.

BlackRock has seven subsidiaries that are registered as commodity pool operators ("CPOs") and/or commodity trading advisors with the CFTC and are members of the NFA. Additional BlackRock entities may need to register as a CPO or commodity trading advisor as a result of recently enacted regulatory changes by the CFTC. The CFTC and NFA each administer a comparable regulatory system covering futures contracts and various other financial instruments, including swaps as a result of the DFA, in which certain BlackRock clients may invest. Two of BlackRock's other subsidiaries, BlackRock Investments, LLC ("BRIL") and BlackRock Execution Services, are registered with the SEC as broker-dealers and are member-firms of FINRA. Each broker-dealer has a membership agreement with FINRA that limits the scope of such broker-dealer's permitted activities. BRIL is also an approved person with the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") and a member of the MSRB, subject to MSRB rules.

U.S. Banking Regulation

PNC is a bank holding company and regulated as a "financial holding company" by the Federal Reserve under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 (the "BHC Act"). As described in "Item 1-Business", PNC owns approximately 22% of BlackRock's capital stock. Based on the Federal Reserve's interpretation of the BHC Act, the Federal Reserve currently takes the position that this ownership interest causes BlackRock to be treated as a nonbank subsidiary of PNC for purposes of the BHC Act, thereby subjecting BlackRock to banking regulation, including the supervision and regulation of the Federal Reserve and to most banking laws, regulations and orders that apply to PNC, including the Volcker Rule. The supervision and regulation of PNC and its subsidiaries under applicable banking laws is intended primarily for the protection of its banking subsidiaries, its depositors, the Deposit Insurance Fund of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the financial system as a whole, rather than for the protection of stockholders, creditors or clients of PNC or BlackRock. BlackRock may also be subject to foreign laws and supervision that could affect its business.

BlackRock generally may conduct only activities that are authorized for a financial holding company under the BHC Act. Investment management is an authorized activity, but must be conducted within applicable regulatory requirements, which in some cases are more restrictive than those BlackRock faces under applicable securities laws. BlackRock may also invest in investment companies and private investment funds to which it provides advisory, administrative or other services, only to the extent consistent with applicable law and regulatory interpretations. Based on the Federal Reserve's position that BlackRock is a nonbank subsidiary of PNC, the Federal Reserve has broad powers to approve, deny or refuse to act upon applications or notices for BlackRock to conduct new activities, acquire or divest businesses or assets, or reconfigure existing operations, and there are limits on the ability of bank subsidiaries of PNC to extend credit to or conduct other transactions with BlackRock or its funds. PNC and its subsidiaries are also subject to examination by various banking regulators, which results in examination reports and ratings that may adversely impact the conduct and growth of BlackRock's businesses. Furthermore, the Federal Reserve has broad enforcement authority over nonbank subsidiaries, including the power to prohibit them from conducting any activity that, in the Federal Reserve's opinion, is unauthorized or constitutes an unsafe or unsound practice. The Federal Reserve may also impose substantial fines and other penalties for violations of applicable banking laws, regulations and orders. The DFA strengthened the Federal Reserve's supervisory and enforcement authority over a bank holding company's nonbank subsidiaries.

Any failure of PNC to maintain its status as a financial holding company could result in substantial limitations on certain BlackRock activities and its growth. Such a change of status could be caused by any failure of PNC or one of PNC's bank subsidiaries to remain "well capitalized" and "well managed," by any examination downgrade of one of PNC's bank subsidiaries, or by any failure of one of PNC's bank subsidiaries to maintain a satisfactory rating under the Community Reinvestment Act.

One of BlackRock's subsidiaries, BTC, is organized as a limited purpose national trust company that does not accept deposits or make commercial loans and which is a member of the Federal Reserve System. Accordingly, BTC is examined and supervised by the OCC and is subject to various banking laws and regulations enforced by the OCC, such as capital adequacy, regulations governing fiduciaries, conflicts of interest, self-dealing, and anti-money laundering laws and regulations. BTC is also subject to various Federal Reserve regulations applicable to member institutions, such as regulations restricting transactions with affiliates. Many of these laws and regulations are meant for the protection of BTC's customers and not BTC, BlackRock and its affiliates, or BlackRock's stockholders.

EXISTING INTERNATIONAL REGULATION — OVERVIEW

BlackRock's international operations are subject to the laws and regulations of a number of international jurisdictions, as well as oversight by numerous regulatory agencies and bodies in those jurisdictions. In some instances, they are also affected by U.S. laws and regulations that have extra-territorial application.

Below is a summary of certain international regulatory standards to which BlackRock is subject. It is not meant to be comprehensive as there are parallel legal and regulatory arrangements in force in many jurisdictions where BlackRock's subsidiaries conduct business.

Of note among the various other international regulations to which BlackRock is subject, are the extensive and increasingly stringent regulatory reporting requirements that necessitate the monitoring and reporting of issuer exposure levels (thresholds) across the holdings of managed funds and accounts and those of the Company

European Regulation

The Financial Conduct Authority ("FCA") currently regulates certain BlackRock subsidiaries in the United Kingdom It also regulates those U K subsidiaries' branches established in other European countries and the U.K branches of certain of BlackRock's U S subsidiaries In addition, the Prudential Regulation Authority (the "PRA") regulates one BlackRock U K subsidiary Authorization by the FCA and the PRA is required to conduct certain financial services related business in the United Kingdom under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 The FCA's rules adopted under that Act govern the majority of a firm's capital resources requirements, senior management arrangements, conduct of business, interaction with clients, and systems and controls, whereas the rules of the PRA focus solely on the prudential requirements that apply to the Company's U K -regulated insurance subsidiary The FCA supervises the Company's U K -regulated subsidiaries through a combination of proactive engagement, event-driven and reactive supervision and thematic based reviews in order to monitor the Company's compliance with regulatory requirements. Breaches of the FCA's rules may result in a wide range of disciplinary actions against the Company's U K -regulated subsidiaries and/or its employees

In addition, the Company's U K.-regulated subsidiaries and other European subsidiaries and branches, must comply with the pan-European regulatory regime established by MiFID, which became effective on November 1, 2007 and regulates the provision of investment services and activities throughout the wider EEA. MiFID, the scope of which is being enhanced through MiFID 2 which is described more particularly under "— Global Regulatory Reform" above, sets out detailed requirements governing the organization and conduct of business of investment firms and regulated markets. It also includes pre- and post-trade transparency requirements for equity markets and extensive transaction reporting requirements Certain BlackRock entities must also comply with the U.K 's Consolidated Life Directive and Insurance Mediation Directive. In addition, relevant entities must comply with revised obligations on capital resources for banks and certain investment firms (the Capital Requirements Directive), which became effective in January 2014. These include requirements not only on capital, but address matters of governance and remuneration as well. The obligations introduced through these directives will have a direct effect on some of BlackRock's European operations.

BlackRock's EU-regulated subsidiaries are additionally subject to an EU regulation on OTC derivatives, central counterparties and trade repositories, which was adopted in August 2012 and which requires (i) the central clearing of standardized OTC derivatives, (ii) the application of risk-mitigation techniques to non-centrally cleared OTC derivatives and (iii) the reporting of all derivative contracts from February 2014

Regulation in the Asia-Pacific Region

In Japan, a BlackRock subsidiary is subject to the Financial Instruments and Exchange Law (the "FIEL") and the Law Concerning Investment Trusts and Investment Corporations These laws are administered and enforced by the Japanese Financial Services Agency (the "JFSA"), which establishes standards for compliance, including capital adequacy and financial soundness requirements, customer protection requirements and conduct of business rules. The JFSA is empowered to conduct administrative proceedings that can result in censure, fine, the issuance of cease and desist orders or the suspension or revocation of registrations and licenses granted under the FIEL This Japanese subsidiary also holds a license for real estate brokerage activity which subjects it to the regulations set forth in the Real Estate Brokerage Business Act.

In Australia, BlackRock's subsidiaries are subject to various Australian federal and state laws and certain subsidiaries are regulated by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission ("ASIC"). ASIC regulates companies and financial services in Australia and is responsible for promoting investor, creditor and consumer protection. Failure to comply with applicable law and regulations could result in the cancellation, suspension or variation of the regulated subsidiaries licenses in Australia

The activities of certain BlackRock subsidiaries in Hong Kong are subject to the Securities and Futures Ordinance (the "SFO") which governs the securities and futures markets and regulates, among others, offers of investments to the public and provides for the licensing of intermediaries. The SFO is administered by the Securities and Futures Commission (the "SFC"). The SFC is also empowered under the SFO to establish standards for compliance as well as codes and guidelines. The relevant BlackRock subsidiaries and the employees conducting any of the regulated activities specified in the SFO are required to be licensed with the SFC, and are subject to the rules, codes and guidelines issued by the SFC. Failure to comply with the applicable laws, regulations, codes and guidelines issued by the SFC could result in the suspension or revocations of the licenses granted by the SFC.

BlackRock's operations in Taiwan are regulated by the Taiwan Financial Supervisory Commission, which is responsible for regulating securities markets (including the Taiwan Stock Exchange and the Taiwan Futures Exchange), the banking industry and the insurance sector Other financial regulators oversee BlackRock subsidiaries, branches, and representative offices across the Asia Pacific region, including in Singapore and South Korea. Regulators in these jurisdictions have authority with respect to financial services including, among other things, the authority to grant or cancel required licenses or registrations In addition, these regulators may subject certain BlackRock subsidiaries to net capital requirements.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

As a leading investment management firm, risk is an inherent part of BlackRock's business. Global markets, by their nature, are prone to uncertainty and subject participants to a variety of risks. While BlackRock devotes significant resources across all of its operations to identify, measure, monitor, manage and analyze market, operating and compliance risks, BlackRock's business, financial condition, operating results and nonoperating results could be materially adversely affected and the Company's stock price could decline as a result of any of these risks and uncertainties, including the ones discussed below.

MARKET AND COMPETITION RISKS

Changes in the value levels of equity, debt, real estate, commodities, currency or other asset markets could cause assets under management ("AUM"), revenue and earnings to decline

BlackRock's investment management revenue is primarily comprised of fees based on a percentage of the value of AUM and, in some cases, performance fees which are normally expressed as a percentage of returns to the client Numerous factors, including price movements in the equity, debt or currency markets, or in the price of real estate, commodities or alternative investments in which BlackRock invests, could cause

- the value of AUM, or the returns BlackRock realizes on AUM, to decrease,
- the withdrawal of funds from BlackRock's products in favor of products offered by competitors,
- the rebalancing of assets into BlackRock products that yield lower fees,
- an impairment to the value of intangible assets and goodwill, or
- a decrease in the value of seed or co-investment capital.

The occurrence of any of these events may cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

BlackRock's investment advisory contracts may be terminated or may not be renewed by clients and the liquidation of certain funds may be accelerated at the option of investors

BlackRock derives a substantial portion of its revenue from its investment advisory business The advisory or management contracts BlackRock has entered into with its clients, including the agreements that govern many of BlackRock's investment funds, provide investors or, in some cases, the independent directors of private investment funds, with significant latitude to terminate such contracts, withdraw funds or liquidate funds by simple majority vote with limited notice or penalty, or to remove BlackRock as the funds' investment advisor (or equivalent) BlackRock also manages its U S mutual funds, closed-end and exchange-traded funds under management contracts that must be renewed and approved annually by the funds' respective boards of directors, a majority of whom are independent from the Company. If a number of BlackRock's clients terminate their contracts, remove BlackRock from advisory roles, liquidate funds or fail to renew management contracts on favorable terms, the fees or carried interest BlackRock earns could be reduced, which may cause its AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

Increased competition may cause BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

The investment management industry is highly competitive and has relatively low barriers to entry. BlackRock competes based on a number of factors including investment performance, the level of fees charged, the quality and diversity of services and products provided, name recognition and reputation, and the ability to develop new investment strategies and products to meet the changing needs of investors Increased competition on the basis of any of these factors, including competition leading to fee reductions on existing or future new business, could cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

The impairment or failure of other financial institutions may cause BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

BlackRock's investment management activities expose the products and accounts it manages to many different industries and counterparties, including brokers and dealers, commercial and investment banks, clearing organizations, mutual and hedge funds, and other institutional clients Transactions with counterparties expose the products and accounts BlackRock manages to credit risk in the event the applicable counterparty defaults. Although BlackRock regularly assesses risks posed by its counterparties, such counterparties may be subject to sudden swings in the financial and credit markets that may impair their ability to perform or they may otherwise fail to meet their obligations to BlackRock Any such impairment or failure could negatively impact the performance of products or accounts managed by BlackRock, which could lead to the loss of clients and may cause BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

The failure or negative performance of products offered by competitors may cause AUM in similar BlackRock products to decline irrespective of BlackRock's performance.

Many competitors offer similar products to those offered by BlackRock and the failure or negative performance of competitors' products could lead to a loss of confidence in similar BlackRock products, irrespective of the performance of such products Any loss of confidence in a product type could lead to withdrawals, redemptions and liquidity issues in such products, which may cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

Changes in the value of seed and co-investments that BlackRock owns could affect our nonoperating income and could increase the volatility of our earnings

At December 31, 2014, BlackRock's net economic investment exposure of approximately $1 3 billion in its investments (see "Item 7 — Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations-Investments") primarily resulted from co-investments and seed investments in its sponsored investment funds. Movements in the equity, debt or currency markets, or in the price of real estate, commodities or alternative investments, could lower the value of these investments, increase the volatility of BlackRock's earnings and may cause earnings to decline.

RISKS RELATED TO INVESTMENT PERFORMANCE

Poor investment performance could lead to the loss of clients and may cause AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

The Company's management believes that investment performance, including the efficient delivery of beta for passively managed products, is one of the most important factors for the growth and retention of AUM Poor investment performance relative to applicable portfolio benchmarks or to competitors could cause AUM, revenue and earnings to decline as a result of - client withdrawals in favor of better performing products,

- the diminishing ability to attract additional funds from existing and new clients,
- the Company earning minimal or no performance fees,
- an impairment to the value of intangible assets and goodwill, or
- a decrease in investment returns on seed and co-investment capital.

Performance fees may increase volatility of both revenue and earnings

A portion of BlackRock's revenue is derived from performance fees on investment and risk management advisory assignments. Performance fees represented $550 million, or 5%, of total revenue for the year ended December 31, 2014. Generally, the Company is entitled to a performance fee only if the agreement pursuant to which it is managing the assets provides for one and if returns on the related portfolio exceed agreed-upon periodic or cumulative return targets If these targets are not exceeded, a performance fee for that period will not be earned and, if targets are based on cumulative returns, the Company may not earn performance fees in future periods, which could cause AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

Failure to identify errors in the quantitative models BlackRock utilizes to manage its business could adversely impact product performance and client relationships.

BlackRock employs various quantitative models to support its investment decisions and allocations, including those related to risk assessment, portfolio management, trading and hedging activities and product valuations. Any errors in the underlying models or model assumptions could have unanticipated and adverse consequences on BlackRock's business and reputation

TECHNOLOGY AND OPERATIONAL RISKS

A failure in BlackRock's operational systems or infrastructure, including business continuity plans, could disrupt operations, damage the Company's reputation and may cause BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

BlackRock's infrastructure, including its technological capacity, data centers, and office space, is vital to the competitiveness of its business Moreover a significant portion of BlackRock's critical business operations are concentrated in a limited number of geographic areas, including San Francisco, New York, London and Gurgaon. The failure to maintain an infrastructure commensurate with the size and scope of BlackRock's business, or the occurrence of a business outage or event outside BlackRock's control, including a major earthquake, hurricane, fire, terrorist act, pandemic or other catastrophic event in any location at which BlackRock maintains a major presence, could materially impact operations, result in disruption to the business or impede its growth Notwithstanding BlackRock's efforts to ensure business continuity, if it fails to keep business continuity plans up-to-date or if such plans, including secure back-up facilities and systems and the availability of back-up employees, are improperly implemented or deployed during a disruption, the Company's ability to operate could be adversely impacted which could cause AUM, revenue and earnings to decline or could impact the Company's ability to comply with regulatory obligations leading to reputational harm, regulatory fines and sanctions.

Failure to implement effective information and cyber security policies, procedures and capabilities could disrupt operations and cause financial losses that may cause BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

BlackRock is dependent on the effectiveness of the information and cyber security policies, procedures and capabilities it maintains to protect its computer and telecommunications systems and the data that reside on or are transmitted through them An externally caused information security incident, such as a hacker attack, virus or worm, or an internally caused issue, such as failure to control access to sensitive systems, could materially interrupt business operations or cause disclosure or modification of sensitive or confidential client or competitive information and could result in material financial loss, loss of competitive position, regulatory actions, breach of client contracts, reputational harm or legal liability, which, in turn, could cause BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

Failure to maintain Aladdin's competitive position in a dynamic market for risk analytics could lead to a loss of clients and could impede BlackRock's productivity and growth.

The sophisticated risk analytics that BlackRock provides via the Aladdin technology platform to support investment advisory and BRS clients are a key element to BlackRock's competitive success. BlackRock relies on its ability, as well as the ability of a number of third parties who provide it with various types of data and software, to maintain a robust and secure technological framework to maximize the benefit of the Aladdin platform The failure of these third parties to provide such data or software could result in operational difficulties and adversely impact BlackRock's ability to provide services to its investment advisory and BRS clients In addition, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to continue to deliver a competitive product in a dynamic market for risk analytics or be able to effectively protect and enforce its intellectual property rights in these systems and processes

Operating risks associated with BlackRock's securities lending program may result in client losses, and in certain circumstances, potential financial liabilities for the Company.

BlackRock lends securities to banks and broker-dealers on behalf of certain of its clients. In these securities lending transactions, the borrower is required to provide and maintain collateral at or above regulatory minimums Securities on loan are marked to market daily to determine if the borrower is required to pledge additional collateral. BlackRock must manage this process and is charged with mitigating the associated operational risks. The failure of the Company's controls to mitigate such operational risks could result in financial losses for the Company's clients that participate in its securities lending programs (separate from the risks of collateral investments). Additionally, in certain circumstances, the Company could potentially be held liable for the failure to manage any such risks

BlackRock indemnifies certain securities lending clients for specified losses as a result of a borrower default

BlackRock indemnifies certain of its securities lending clients for specified losses that might occur upon the default of a borrower. These indemnities are designed to cover a client's potential shortfall where the value of the collateral pledged by a defaulting borrower in connection with a securities lending agreement is less than the amount needed to repurchase the securities loaned to such a defaulting borrower. Where the collateral is in the form of cash, the indemnities BlackRock provides do not guarantee, assume or otherwise insure the investment performance or return of any cash collateral vehicle into which that cash collateral is invested. The amount of securities on loan as of December 31, 2014 and subject to indemnification was $145.7 billion BlackRock held, as agent, cash and securities totaling $155 8 billion as collateral for indemnified securities on loan at December 31, 2014. Significant borrower defaults coupled with collateral shortfalls could result in material liabilities under these indemnities, which may cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

BlackRock's decision to provide support to particular products from time to time, or the inability to provide support, may cause AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

BlackRock may, at its option, from time to time support investment products through capital or other credit support Such support may utilize capital and liquidity that would otherwise be available for other corporate purposes Losses on such support, as well as regulatory restrictions on our ability to provide such support or the failure to have available or devote sufficient capital or liquidity to support products, may cause AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

Failure to maintain adequate corporate and contingent liquidity may cause BlackRock's AUM, liquidity and earnings to decline, as well as harm its prospects for growth.

BlackRock's ability to meet anticipated cash needs depends upon a number of factors, including its ability to maintain and grow AUM, its creditworthiness and operating cash flows. Failure to maintain adequate liquidity could lead to unanticipated costs and force BlackRock to revise existing strategic and business initiatives BlackRock's access to equity and debt markets and its ability to issue public or private debt, or secure lines of credit or commercial paper back-up lines, on reasonable terms may be limited by adverse market conditions, a reduction in its long- or short-term credit ratings as well as changes in government regulations, including tax and interest rates Failure to obtain funds and/or financing, or any adverse change to the cost of obtaining such funds and/or financing, could cause BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline, curtail its operations and limit or impede its prospects for growth.

Fraud, or the circumvention of controls and risk management policies, could have an adverse effect on BlackRock's reputation, which may cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

Although BlackRock has adopted a comprehensive risk management process and continues to enhance various controls, procedures, policies and systems to monitor and manage risks, it cannot assure that such controls, procedures, policies and systems will successfully identify and manage internal and external risks to its businesses. BlackRock is subject to the risk that its employees, contractors or other third parties may deliberately seek to circumvent established controls to commit fraud or act in ways that are inconsistent with the Company's controls, policies and procedures Persistent or repeated attempts involving fraud, conflicts of interests or circumvention of policies and controls could have an adverse effect on BlackRock's reputation, which could cause costly regulatory inquiries and may cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

BlackRock may be unable to develop new products and services and the development of new products and services may expose BlackRock to additional costs or operational risk.

BlackRock's financial performance depends, in part, on its ability to develop, market and manage new investment products and services. The development and introduction of new products and services requires continued innovative efforts on the part of BlackRock and may require significant time and resources as well as ongoing support and investment Substantial risk and uncertainties are associated with the introduction of new products and services, including the implementation of new and appropriate operational controls and procedures, shifting client and market preferences, the introduction of competing products or services and compliance with regulatory requirements A failure to continue to innovate to introduce new products and services or to successfully manage the risks associated with such products and services may cause BlackRock's costs to fluctuate, which may cause its AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

The failure to recruit and retain employees and develop and implement effective executive succession could lead to the loss of clients and may cause AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

BlackRock's success is largely dependent on the talents and efforts of its highly skilled workforce and the Company's ability to plan for the future long-term growth of the business by identifying and developing those employees who can ultimately transition into key roles within BlackRock The market for qualified fund managers, investment analysts, financial advisers and other professionals is competitive, and factors that affect BlackRock s ability to attract and retain such employees include the Company's reputation, the compensation and benefits it provides, and its commitment to effectively managing executive succession, including the development and training of qualified individuals In addition, a percentage of the deferred compensation that BlackRock pays to its employees is tied to the Company's share price As such, if BlackRock's share price were to decrease materially, the retention value of such deferred compensation would decrease There can be no assurance that the Company will continue to be successful in its efforts to recruit and retain employees and effectively manage executive succession If BlackRock is unable to attract and retain talented individuals, or if it fails to effectively manage executive succession, the Company's ability to compete effectively and retain its existing clients may be materially impacted.

Future inorganic transactions may harm the Company's competitive or financial position if they are not successful.

BlackRock employs a variety of organic and inorganic strategies intended to enhance earnings, increase product offerings, access new clients and expand into new geographies. Inorganic strategies have included hiring smaller-sized investment teams, and acquiring investment management businesses and other small and medium-sized companies Inorganic transactions involve a number of financial, accounting, tax, regulatory and operational challenges and uncertainties, including in some cases the assumption of pre-existing liabilities. Any failure to identify and mitigate these risks through due diligence and indemnification provisions could adversely impact BlackRock's reputation, may cause its AUM, revenue and earnings to decline, and may harm the Company's competitive position in the investment management industry Moreover, there can be no assurances that BlackRock will be able to successfully integrate or realize the intended benefits from future inorganic transactions

Operating in international markets increases BlackRock's operational, regulatory and other risks

As a result of BlackRock's extensive international operations, the Company faces associated operational, regulatory, reputational, political and foreign exchange rate risks, many of which are outside of the Company's control The failure of the Company's systems of internal control to mitigate such risks, or of its operating infrastructure to support its global activities, could result in operational failures and regulatory fines or sanctions, which could cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

RISKS RELATED TO BLACKROCK'S KEY VENDOR AND DISTRIBUTION RELATIONSHIPS

The failure of a key vendor to BlackRock to fulfill its obligations could have a material adverse effect on BlackRock's reputation or business, which may cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

BlackRock depends on a number of key vendors for various fund administration, accounting, custody, risk analytics, market data, market indices and transfer agent roles and other distribution and operational needs The failure or inability of BlackRock to diversify its sources for key services or the failure of any key vendor to fulfill its obligations could lead to operational and regulatory issues for the Company, including with respect to certain of its products, which could result in reputational harm and may cause BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

Any disruption to the Company's distribution channels may cause BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

BlackRock relies on a number of third parties to provide distribution, portfolio administration and servicing for certain BlackRock investment management products and services through their various distribution channels In particular, BlackRock entered into a global distribution agreement with Bank of America/Merrill Lynch in 2006, which is subject to renegotiation at the end of 2016. BlackRock's ability to maintain strong relationships with its distributors is material to the Company's future performance. If BlackRock is unable to distribute its products and services successfully, if it experiences an increase in distribution-related costs, or if it is unable to replace or renew existing distribution arrangements, BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings may decline.

LEGAL AND REGULATORY RISKS

BlackRock is subject to extensive and pervasive regulation around the world.

BlackRock's business is subject to extensive regulation around the world. These regulations subject BlackRock's business activities to a pervasive array of increasingly detailed operational requirements, compliance with which is costly, time-consuming and complex BlackRock may be adversely affected by its failure to comply with current laws and regulations or by changes in the interpretation or enforcement of existing laws and regulations. Challenges associated with interpreting regulations issued in numerous countries in a globally consistent manner may add to such risks, if regulators in different jurisdictions have inconsistent views or provide only limited regulatory guidance In particular, violation of applicable laws or regulations could result in fines, temporary or permanent prohibition of certain activities, reputational harm and related client terminations, suspensions of employees or revocation of their licenses, suspension or termination of investment adviser, broker-dealer or other registrations, or suspension or termination of bank charter or other sanctions, which could have a material adverse effect on BlackRock's reputation or business and may cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline. For a more extensive discussion of the laws, regulations and regulators to which BlackRock is subject, see "Item 1 – Business – Regulation "

Regulatory reforms in the United States and internationally expose BlackRock and its clients to increasing regulatory scrutiny.

In recent years a number of proposals for regulatory reform have been introduced and it is expected that the level of regulatory scrutiny to which BlackRock is subject will continue to increase See "Item 1 – Business – Regulation " A number of regulatory reforms that have been proposed may require BlackRock to alter its business or operating activities, which could be time-consuming and costly and which may impede the Company's growth and may cause AUM, revenue and earnings to decline Regulatory reform may also impact BlackRock's banking, insurance company and pension fund clients, which could cause them to change their investment strategies or allocations in manners that may be adverse to BlackRock Key regulatory reforms that may impact the Company include.

- Designation as a systemically important financial institution Under the DFA, the Federal Reserve is charged with establishing enhanced regulatory requirements for nonbank financial institutions which have been designated as "systemically important" by the FSOC In addition, the FSB and IOSCO have issued a consultative document on proposed methodologies to identify nonbank/noninsurance G-SIFIs Although BlackRock has not been designated as a SIFI or G-SIFI, if it is designated as such in the future, it is likely to become subject to enhanced prudential, capital, supervisory and other requirements. Requirements such as these, which were designed to regulate banking institutions, would need to be modified to be applicable to an asset manager such as BlackRock No proposals have been made indicating how such measures would be adapted for asset managers

- The Volcker Rule Provisions of the DFA referred to as the "Volcker Rule" created a new section of the BHC Act that places limitations on the ability of banks and their subsidiaries to engage in proprietary trading and to invest in and transact with certain private investment funds, including hedge funds, private equity funds and funds of funds (collectively "covered funds") Complying with the Volcker Rule may reduce the level of market making and liquidity activities of several of BlackRock's trading counterparties, which may adversely impact the liquidity and, in some cases, the pricing of various financial instruments in which BlackRock client accounts invest Because the Federal Reserve currently treats BlackRock as a nonbank subsidiary of PNC, BlackRock may be required to conform its activities to the requirements of the Volcker Rule On December 18, 2014, the Federal Reserve announced a second extension to the Volcker Rule conformance period, giving banking entities until July 21, 2016, to conform investments in and relationships with covered funds and foreign funds that were in place prior to December 31, 2013 ("legacy covered funds") The Federal Reserve also announced its intention to act in the future to grant banking entities an additional one-year extension of the conformance period until July 21, 2017, to conform ownership interests in and relationships with these legacy covered funds The Volcker Rule's restrictions would, among other things, limit BlackRock's ability to invest in covered funds and require BlackRock to remove its name from the names of its covered funds. The Volcker Rule may also require BlackRock to sell certain seed and co-investments that it holds in covered funds, potentially at a discount to existing carrying value, depending on market conditions.

- Money market mutual fund reform Approximately 3% of BlackRock's AUM as of December 31, 2014, consisted of assets in U S money market funds, of which institutional prime or institutional municipal money market funds (including offshore funds that feed into such money market funds) comprised approximately 2% In July 2014, the SEC adopted rule amendments designed to reform the regulatory structure governing money market funds and to address the perceived systemic risks that such funds present The new rules require institutional prime and institutional municipal money market funds to employ a floating net asset value method of pricing, which allows the daily share prices of these funds to fluctuate along with changes in the market-based value of fund assets The rules also provide for new tools for the funds' boards designed to address liquidity shocks, including liquidity fees and redemption gates The rules do not apply to government (non-municipal) and retail money market funds, except that retail money market funds must comply with liquidity fees and redemption gate requirements The potential impact of the rules that affect the structure of the funds, which have a two-year compliance period, on BlackRock's business remains untested, they may, however, reduce the attractiveness of certain money market funds to investors.

- Regulation of swaps and derivatives The implementation of DFA regulations, similar regulations in the EU and other global jurisdictions relating to swaps and derivatives could impact the manner in which BlackRock-advised funds and accounts use and trade swaps and other derivatives, increasing the costs of derivatives trading for BlackRock's clients. Various global rules and regulations applicable to the use of financial products by funds, accounts and counterparties that have been adopted or proposed will require BlackRock to build and implement new compliance monitoring procedures to address the enhanced level of oversight to which it and its clients will be subject. These rules will also introduce new central clearing requirements for certain swap transactions and will require that certain swaps be executed only on or through electronic trading venues (as opposed to over the phone or other execution methods), with which BlackRock will have to comply The new rules and regulations may produce regulatory inconsistencies in global derivatives trading rules and will increase the operational and legal risks with which BlackRock will have to contend.

- Increased international regulatory scrutiny: In addition to the extensive scrutiny BlackRock faces from U.S.-based regulators, the Company and its subsidiaries are also subject to the authority of numerous governmental and regulatory bodies globally, in particular in Europe and the Asia-Pacific region. These regulators have imposed numerous regulations, guidelines and standards on the activities of BlackRock and its subsidiaries covering a variety of areas, including capital resources requirements, marketing activities, client and investor protections, senior management arrangements and enhanced system and control requirements. In the event that BlackRock or any of its subsidiaries fails to comply with these often complex guidelines, regulations and standards, the regulators have broad powers to suspend or revoke any licenses they may have granted and/or to impose sanctions or fines

- European Union Directives In the aftermath of the financial crisis, the European Commission ("EC") initiated a plan for EU financial reform, including a number of consultations and initiatives intended to improve retail investor protections, which the EC reflected in new or updated Directives and regulations. The resulting review of MiFID, introduction of AIFMD, the introduction of MiFID 2 and the revision of the UCITS Directive have increased the compliance, disclosure and other obligations BlackRock faces in the European Economic Area Once fully implemented, these Directives will have significant and wide-ranging impacts on EU securities and derivatives markets, which will directly and indirectly impact BlackRock's EU-regulated subsidiaries and other group companies

- Extension of Retail Distribution Review rules to new markets BlackRock must also comply with newly implemented retail distribution rules aimed at enhancing consumer protections, overhauling mutual fund fee structures and increasing professionalism in the retail investment sector The rules were originally introduced in the United Kingdom and have since been introduced in other jurisdictions where BlackRock operates Similarly, MiFID 2 will contain a ban on certain advisers recovering commissions and other nonmonetary benefits from fund managers These rules, if implemented, may lead to changes to the fees and commissions BlackRock is able to charge to its clients, as well as to its client servicing and distribution models

Legal proceedings could cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

BlackRock is subject to a number of sources of potential legal liability and the Company, certain of the investment funds it manages and certain of its subsidiaries and employees have been named as defendants in various legal actions, including arbitrations, class actions and other litigation arising in connection with BlackRock's activities Certain of BlackRock's subsidiaries and employees are also subject to periodic examination, special inquiries and potential proceedings by regulatory authorities, including the SEC, OCC, DOL, CFTC and FCA. Similarly, from time to time, BlackRock receives subpoenas or other requests for information from various U S. and non-U S governmental and regulatory authorities in connection with certain industry-wide, company-specific or other investigations or proceedings. These examinations, inquiries and proceedings, have in the past and could in the future, if compliance failures or other violations are found, cause the relevant regulator to institute proceedings and impose sanctions for violations Any such action may also result in litigation by investors in BlackRock's funds, other BlackRock clients or by BlackRock's shareholders, which could harm the Company's reputation and may cause its AUM, revenue and earnings to decline, potentially harm the investment returns of the applicable fund, or result in the Company being liable to the funds for damages

In addition, when clients retain BlackRock to manage their assets or provide them with products or services, they typically specify contractual requirements or guidelines that BlackRock must observe in the provision of its services A failure to comply with these guidelines or requirements could expose BlackRock to lawsuits, harm its reputation or cause clients to withdraw assets or terminate contracts, any of which could cause the Company's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline.

As BlackRock's business continues to grow, the Company must routinely address conflicts of interest, as well as the perception of conflicts of interest, between itself and its clients or employees In addition, the SEC and other regulators have increased their scrutiny of potential conflicts. BlackRock has procedures and controls in place that are designed to detect and address these issues However, appropriately dealing with conflicts of interest is complex and if the Company fails, or appears to fail, to appropriately deal with any conflict of interest, it may face reputational damage, litigation, regulatory proceedings, or penalties or other sanctions, any of which may cause BlackRock's AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

BlackRock is subject to banking regulations that may limit its business activities.

As described in "Item 1-Business-Regulation", PNC owns approximately 22% of BlackRock's capital stock. Based on the Federal Reserve's interpretation of the BHC Act, the Federal Reserve currently takes the position that this ownership interest causes BlackRock to be treated as a nonbank subsidiary of PNC for purposes of the BHC Act, thereby subjecting BlackRock to banking regulation, including the supervision and regulation of the Federal Reserve. Such banking regulation limits the activities and the types of businesses that a nonbank subsidiary may conduct. The Federal Reserve has broad enforcement authority over nonbank subsidiaries, including the power to prohibit them from conducting any activity that, in the Federal Reserve's opinion, is unauthorized or constitutes an unsafe or unsound practice, and to impose substantial fines and other penalties for violations. PNC is regulated as a "financial holding company" under the BHC Act, which allows PNC and BlackRock to engage in a much broader set of activities than would otherwise be permitted under the BHC Act, any failure of PNC to maintain its status as a financial holding company could result in substantial limitations on certain BlackRock activities and its growth. In addition to being subject to capital requirements established by the OCC, BlackRock's trust bank subsidiary, which is organized as a national bank, is separately subject to banking regulation by the OCC. The OCC has broad enforcement authority over BlackRock's trust bank subsidiary Being subject to banking regulation may put BlackRock at a competitive disadvantage because most of its competitors are not subject to these limitations

Failure to comply with ownership reporting requirements could result in harm to BlackRock's reputation and may cause its AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

Of note among the various international regulations to which BlackRock is subject, are the extensive and increasingly stringent regulatory reporting requirements that necessitate the monitoring and reporting of issuer exposure levels (thresholds) across the holdings of managed funds and accounts and those of the Company The specific triggers and the reporting methods that these threshold filings entail vary significantly by regulator and across jurisdictions. BlackRock continues to invest in technology, training and its employees to enhance its monitoring and reporting functions and improve the timeliness and accuracy of its disclosures. Despite these investments, the complexity of the various threshold reporting requirements combined with the breadth of the assets managed by the Company and high volume of securities trading have caused errors and omissions to occur in the past, and pose a risk that errors or omissions will occasionally occur in the future Any such errors may expose BlackRock to monetary penalties, which could, have an adverse effect on BlackRock's reputation and may cause its AUM, revenue and earnings to decline

New tax legislation or changes in U.S. and foreign tax laws and regulations or challenges to BlackRock's historical taxation practices may adversely affect BlackRock's effective tax rate, business and overall financial condition

BlackRock's businesses may be affected by new tax legislation or regulations, or the modification of existing tax laws and regulations, by U S. or non-U S authorities In particular, FATCA has introduced expansive new investor onboarding, withholding and reporting rules aimed at ensuring U S. persons with financial assets outside of the United States pay appropriate taxes The FATCA rules will impact both U S and non-U S funds and subject BlackRock to extensive additional administrative burdens. Similarly, there has been renewed momentum by several EU Member States to introduce an FTT, which would impose taxation on a broad range of financial instrument and derivatives transactions. If introduced as proposed, FTTs could have an adverse effect on BlackRock's financial results and on clients' performance results In addition, the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development recently launched a base erosion and profit shifting proposal that aims to rationalize tax treatment across jurisdictions. If the BEPS proposal becomes the subject of legislative action in the format proposed it could have unintended taxation consequences for collective investment vehicles and the Company's tax position, which could adversely affect BlackRock's financial condition

The Company also manages significant assets in products and accounts that have specific tax and after-tax related objectives, which could be adversely impacted by changes in tax policy, particularly with respect to U S municipal income, U.S. individual income tax rate on qualified dividends and, globally, alternative products. Additionally, any new legislation, modification or interpretation of tax laws could impact BlackRock's corporate tax position. The application of complex tax regulations involves numerous uncertainties and in the normal course of business, U S. and non-U S tax authorities may review and challenge BlackRock's historical tax positions. These challenges may result in adjustments to BlackRock's tax position, or impact the timing or amount of, taxable income, deductions or other tax allocations, which may adversely affect BlackRock's effective tax rate and overall financial condition.

RISKS RELATED TO BLACKROCK'S SIGNIFICANT SHAREHOLDER

PNC owns a large portion of BlackRock's capital stock. Future sales of our common stock in the public market by the Company or PNC could adversely affect the trading price of our common stock.

As of December 31, 2014, PNC owned 22% of the Company's capital stock. Sales of a substantial number of shares of our common stock in the public market, or the perception that these sales might occur, could cause the market price of our common stock to decline.

PNC has agreed to vote as a stockholder in accordance with the recommendation of BlackRock's Board of Directors, and certain actions will require special board approval or the prior approval of PNC.

As discussed in our proxy statement, PNC has agreed to vote all of its voting shares in accordance with the recommendation of BlackRock's Board of Directors in accordance with the provisions of its stockholder agreement with BlackRock As a consequence, if the shares held by PNC constitute a substantial portion of the outstanding voting shares, matters submitted to a stockholder vote that require a majority or a plurality of votes for approval, including elections of directors, will have a substantial number of shares voted in accordance with the determination of the BlackRock Board of Directors This arrangement has the effect of concentrating a significant block of voting control over BlackRock in its Board of Directors, whether or not stockholders agree with any particular determination of the Board.

As discussed in our proxy statement, pursuant to our stockholder agreement with PNC, the following may not be done without prior approval of all of the independent directors, or at least two-thirds of the directors, then in office

- appointment of a new Chief Executive Officer of BlackRock,
- any merger, issuance of shares or similar transaction in which beneficial ownership of a majority of the total voting power of BlackRock capital stock would be held by persons different than those currently holding such majority of the total voting power, or any sale of all or substantially all assets of BlackRock,
- any acquisition of any person or business which has a consolidated net income after taxes for its preceding fiscal year that equals or exceeds 20% of BlackRock's consolidated net income after taxes for its preceding fiscal year if such acquisition involves the current or potential issuance of BlackRock capital stock constituting more than 10% of the total voting power of BlackRock capital stock issued and outstanding immediately after completion of such acquisition,
- any acquisition of any person or business constituting a line of business that is materially different from the lines of business BlackRock and its controlled affiliates are engaged in at that time if such acquisition involves consideration in excess of 10% of the total assets of BlackRock on a consolidated basis,
- except for repurchases otherwise permitted under the stockholder agreement, any repurchase by BlackRock or any subsidiary of shares of BlackRock capital stock such that after giving effect to such repurchase BlackRock and its subsidiaries shall have repurchased more than 10% of the total voting power of BlackRock capital stock within the 12-month period ending on the date of such repurchase,
- any amendment to BlackRock's certificate of incorporation or bylaws, or
- any matter requiring stockholder approval pursuant to the rules of the NYSE.

Additionally, BlackRock may not enter into any of the following transactions without the prior approval of PNC

- any sale of any subsidiary of BlackRock, the annualized revenue of which, together with the annualized revenue of any other subsidiaries disposed of within the same year, are more than 20% of the annualized revenue of BlackRock for the preceding fiscal year on a consolidated basis,
- for so long as BlackRock is a subsidiary of PNC for purposes of the BHC Act, entering into any business or activity that is prohibited for any such subsidiary under the BHC Act,

- any amendment of any provision of a stockholder agreement between BlackRock and any stockholder beneficially owning greater than 20% of BlackRock capital stock that would be viewed by a reasonable person as being adverse to PNC or materially more favorable to the rights of any stockholder beneficially owning greater than 20% of BlackRock capital stock than to PNC,
- any amendment, modification, repeal or waiver of BlackRock's certificate of incorporation or bylaws that would be viewed by a reasonable person as being adverse to the rights of PNC or more favorable to the rights of any stockholder beneficially owning greater than 20% of BlackRock capital stock, or any settlement or consent in a regulatory enforcement matter that would be reasonably likely to cause PNC or any of its affiliates to suffer regulatory disqualification, suspension of registration or license or other material adverse regulatory consequences, or
- a voluntary bankruptcy or similar filing by BlackRock.

Item 1B. Unresolved Staff Comments

The Company has no unresolved comments from the SEC staff relating to BlackRock's periodic or current reports filed with the SEC pursuant to the Exchange Act.

Item 2. Properties

BlackRock's principal office, which is leased, is located at 55 East 52nd Street, New York, New York. BlackRock leases additional office space in New York City at 40 East 52nd Street and throughout the world, including Boston, Chicago, Edinburgh, Gurgaon (India), Hong Kong, London, Melbourne, Munich, Princeton (New Jersey), San Francisco, Seattle, Singapore, Sydney, Taipei and Tokyo. The Company also owns an 84,500 square foot office building in Wilmington (Delaware).

Item 3. Legal Proceedings

From time to time, BlackRock receives subpoenas or other requests for information from various U.S. federal, state governmental and domestic and international regulatory authorities in connection with certain industry-wide or other investigations or proceedings. It is BlackRock's policy to cooperate fully with such inquiries. The Company and certain of its subsidiaries have been named as defendants in various legal actions, including arbitrations and other litigation arising in connection with BlackRock's activities. Additionally, certain BlackRock-sponsored investment funds that the Company manages are subject to lawsuits, any of which potentially could harm the investment returns of the applicable fund or result in the Company being liable to the funds for any resulting damages.

Italian Securities Regulator Proceeding

The Italian securities regulator, Commissione Nazionale per le Societa e la Borsa ("Consob"), initiated a civil proceeding on January 3, 2014 against Nigel Bolton, a portfolio manager and head of BlackRock Investment Management (UK) Limited's European Equity Team ("EET"), in connection with the sale of shares in the Italian oil and gas services company Saipem, SpA in January 2013.

Consob alleges that Mr. Bolton, on behalf of certain BlackRock clients, sold, or influenced the sale of, approximately 10.7 million shares of Saipem using material, non-public information thereby avoiding client losses of over € 114.5 million. The EET's sale of Saipem shares occurred between January 25 and January 29, 2013, and Saipem announced negative news following the market close on January 29, 2013. While BlackRock is not charged in the proceeding, it may be liable for the actions of its employee.

BlackRock conducted a thorough investigation and found no evidence to support the allegations. As a result of the investigation, BlackRock believes that the sale of Saipem shares was made as a fiduciary based on publicly available information that was widely disseminated in the marketplace, including negative publicity and a third-party analyst research report reducing earnings estimates, which was issued to the market before trading on January 25, 2013.

Consob also alleges that BlackRock declined to provide Consob with information and was an obstacle to Consob's investigation. BlackRock believes it has fully cooperated with Consob, and it will continue to do so.

While under Italian law the potential penalty could be greater than the loss actually avoided, BlackRock believes that Mr. Bolton ultimately will not be found liable and, as a result, neither Mr. Bolton nor BlackRock will incur any penalty.

SEC Enforcement Matter

In June 2012, BlackRock Advisors, LLC ("BlackRock Advisors"), a subsidiary of BlackRock, announced that its then-employee Daniel J. Rice III would, among other things, no longer serve as a portfolio manager for the BlackRock Energy & Resources Portfolio in order to address any perception of a potential conflict of interest as a result of his personal investments and involvement in a family business, Rice Energy LP and related entities. BlackRock Advisors further announced that Mr. Rice would retire from BlackRock Advisors, which he did in December 2012.

The staff of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") commenced an investigation into this matter in 2012. On June 17, 2014, BlackRock Advisors received a written "Wells Notice" from the SEC staff indicating the staff's preliminary determination to recommend to the Commission that the SEC file an action against BlackRock Advisors.

BlackRock Advisors has reached an agreement with the SEC staff, subject to approval by the Commission, to resolve the investigation. No assurance can be given that the settlement will be accepted by the Commission. The Company does not expect the agreement with the SEC staff to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial results or operations.

All Legal Proceedings

Management, after consultation with legal counsel, currently does not anticipate that the aggregate liability, if any, arising out of regulatory matters or lawsuits will have a material effect on BlackRock's results of operations, financial position, or cash flows. However, there is no assurance as to whether any such pending or threatened matters will have a material effect on BlackRock's results of operations, financial position or cash flows in any future reporting period. Due to uncertainties surrounding the outcome of these matters, management cannot reasonably estimate the possible loss or range of loss that may arise from these matters.

Item 4. Mine Safety Disclosures

(1) Net of net income (loss) attributable to noncontrolling interests ("NCI") (redeemable and nonredeemable).

(2) As adjusted items are described in more detail in Non-GAAP Financial Measures.

(3) Nonvoting participating preferred shares are considered to be common stock equivalents for purposes of determining basic and diluted earnings per share calculations. In addition, unvested restricted stock units ("RSUs") that contain nonforfeitable rights to dividends are not included for 2012 as they were deemed to be participating securities in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP"). Upon vesting of the participating RSUs, the shares were added to the weighted-average shares outstanding that resulted in an increase to the percentage of net income attributable to common shares. The Company's remaining participating securities vested in January 2013.

(4) Total BlackRock stockholders' equity, excluding an appropriated retained deficit of $19 million for 2014 and appropriated retained earnings of $22 million and $29 million for 2013 and 2012, respectively, divided by total common and preferred shares outstanding at December 31 of the respective year-end.

2014 COMPARED WITH 2013

GAAP Operating income of $4,474 million increased $617 million from 2013, reflecting growth in base fees and BlackRock Solutions and advisory revenue, partially offset by higher expense. The Company's 2014 expense reflected higher revenue-related expense, including compensation and direct fund expense. Expense for 2014 also included a $50 million reduction of an indemnification asset recorded in general and administration expense (offset by a $50 million tax benefit—see Income Tax Expense within Discussion of Financial Results for more information) and $11 million of closed-end fund launch costs. The 2013 expense included $124 million of expense related to the Charitable Contribution described below and $18 million of closed-end fund launch costs.

Nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, decreased $146 million from 2013. The prior year included a $39 million noncash, nonoperating pre-tax gain related to the carrying value of the Company's equity method investment as a result of an initial public offering of PennyMac Financial Services, Inc. (the "PennyMac IPO"). In addition, in 2013, the Company made a charitable contribution of approximately six million units of the Company's investment in PennyMac to a donor advised fund (the "Charitable Contribution"). In connection with the Charitable Contribution, the Company also recorded a noncash, nonoperating pre-tax gain of $80 million related to the contributed investment. The decrease in nonoperating income (expense) also reflected net lower returns on the co-investment and seed portfolio and higher interest expense resulting from a long-term debt issuance in March 2014, partially offset by the positive impact of the monetization of a nonstrategic, opportunistic private equity investment during 2014.

Income tax expense of $1,131 million included $94 million of tax benefits, including the $50 million tax benefit mentioned above. Income tax expense for 2014 and 2013 reflected the revaluation of deferred income tax liabilities related to intangible assets and goodwill. Income tax expense for 2014 included a $9 million net noncash tax benefit arising primarily from state and local income tax changes and a $73 million net tax benefit related to several favorable nonrecurring items. Income tax expense for 2013 included a $69 million noncash tax benefit, primarily related to legislation enacted in the United Kingdom and state and local income tax changes. In addition, 2013 income tax expense included a tax benefit of approximately $48 million recognized in connection with the Charitable Contribution, a tax benefit of approximately $29 million, primarily due to the realization of tax loss carryforwards, and benefits from certain nonrecurring items.

Earnings per diluted common share rose $2.38, or 14%, from 2013 due to higher net income and the benefit of share repurchases.

As Adjusted: Operating income of $4,563 million and operating margin of 42.9% increased $539 million and 150 basis points, respectively, from 2013. The current year results excluded a $50 million general and administrative expense related to the reduction of an indemnification asset. The 2014 income tax expense included a $73 million net tax benefit and excluded a $50 million tax benefit associated with the reduction of the same indemnification asset and $9 million of net noncash benefits described above. The 2013 results excluded the financial impact of the Charitable Contribution, but included the $39 million pre-tax nonoperating gain related to the PennyMac IPO. The 2013 income tax expense included a tax benefit of approximately $29 million and benefits from certain nonrecurring items and excluded the $69 million net noncash benefit, described above. Earnings per diluted common share rose $2.76, or 17%, from 2013.

2013 COMPARED WITH 2012

GAAP: Operating income of $3,857 million increased $333 million from 2012, reflecting growth in base fees, strong performance fees and higher BlackRock Solutions and advisory revenue, partially offset by higher expenses, primarily due to the previously mentioned $124 million expense related to the Charitable Contribution and higher revenue-related expense. Operating income in 2012 included a $30 million charge related to a contribution to certain of the Company's bank-managed short-term investment funds ("STIFs"). Nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, increased $133 million due to the $39 million pre-tax gain related to the PennyMac IPO and the $80 million related to the Charitable Contribution and higher net positive marks on investments during 2013 compared with 2012. Income tax expense included a $69 million net noncash benefit for 2013 and a $30 million net noncash benefit for 2012. The net noncash benefits for both periods primarily related to the revaluation of certain deferred income tax liabilities, including legislation enacted in the United Kingdom and domestic state and local income tax changes. In addition, 2013 income tax expense included a tax benefit of approximately $48 million recognized in connection with the Charitable Contribution, a tax benefit of approximately $29 million, primarily due to the realization of tax loss carryforwards and benefits from certain nonrecurring items. Earnings per diluted common share rose $3.08, or 22%, compared with 2012 due to higher net income and the benefit of share repurchases.

As Adjusted: Operating income of $4,024 million and operating margin of 41.4% increased $450 million and 100 basis points, respectively, from 2012. The current year results included the previously mentioned $39 million pre-tax nonoperating gain related to the PennyMac IPO. Income tax expense included a tax benefit of approximately $29 million, primarily due to the realization of tax loss carryforwards, and benefits from certain nonrecurring items and excluded the $69 million net noncash benefit in 2013 and the $30 million net noncash benefit in 2012 described above. Earnings per diluted common share rose $2.90, or 21%, from 2012. The financial impact related to the Charitable Contribution has been excluded from as adjusted results for 2013.

See Non-GAAP Financial Measures for further information on as adjusted items.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

BlackRock reports its financial results in accordance with GAAP, however, management believes evaluating the Company's ongoing operating results may be enhanced if investors have additional non-GAAP financial measures. Management reviews non-GAAP financial measures to assess ongoing operations and, for the reasons described below, considers them to be effective indicators, for both management and investors, of BlackRock's financial performance over time. BlackRock's management does not advocate that investors consider such non-GAAP financial measures in isolation from, or as a substitute for, financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP.

Computations for all periods are derived from the consolidated statements of income as follows:

(1) Operating income, as adjusted, and operating margin, as adjusted

Operating income, as adjusted, equals operating income, GAAP basis, excluding certain items management deems nonrecurring, recurring infrequently or transactions that ultimately will not impact BlackRock's book value. Management believes operating income, as adjusted, and operating margin, as adjusted, are effective indicators of BlackRock's financial performance over time and, therefore, provide useful disclosure to investors.

Operating margin, GAAP basis	40.4%	37.9%	37.7%
Operating margin, as adjusted	42.9%	41.4%	40.4%

- Operating income, as adjusted, includes non-GAAP expense adjustments. The portion of compensation expense associated with certain long-term incentive plans ("LTIP") funded, or to be funded, through share distributions to participants of BlackRock stock held by PNC has been excluded because it ultimately does not impact BlackRock's book value. In 2014, general and administration expense relating to the reduction of an indemnification asset has been excluded since it is directly offset by a tax benefit of the same amount and, consequently, does not impact BlackRock's book value. In 2013, the $124 million expense related to the Charitable Contribution has been excluded from operating income, as adjusted, due to its nonrecurring nature and because the noncash, nonoperating pre-tax gain of $80 million directly related to the contributed PennyMac investment is reported in nonoperating income (expense). The U.K. lease exit amount in 2012 represents an adjustment related to the estimated lease exit costs initially recorded in 2011 and the contribution to STIFs represents a contribution to certain of the Company's bank-managed STIFs. Both the U.K. lease exit amount and contribution to STIFs have been excluded from operating income, as adjusted due to their nonrecurring nature. Compensation expense associated with appreciation (depreciation) on investments related to certain BlackRock deferred compensation plans has been excluded as returns on investments set aside for these plans, which substantially offset this expense, are reported in nonoperating income (expense).

  Management believes operating income exclusive of these items is a useful measure in evaluating BlackRock's operating performance and helps enhance the comparability of this information for the reporting periods presented.

- Operating margin, as adjusted, allows BlackRock to compare performance from period to period by adjusting for items that may not recur, recur infrequently or may have an economic offset in nonoperating income (expense). BlackRock also uses operating margin, as adjusted, to monitor corporate performance and efficiency and as a benchmark to compare its performance with other companies. Management uses both GAAP and non-GAAP financial measures in evaluating BlackRock's financial performance. The non-GAAP measure by itself may pose limitations because it does not include all of BlackRock's revenue and expense.

Operating income used for measuring operating margin, as adjusted, is equal to operating income, as adjusted, excluding the impact of closed-end fund launch costs and related commissions. Management believes the exclusion of such costs and related commissions is useful because these costs can fluctuate considerably and revenue associated with the expenditure of these costs will not fully impact BlackRock's results until future periods.

Revenue used for operating margin, as adjusted, excludes distribution and servicing costs paid to related parties and other third parties. Management believes the exclusion of such costs is useful because it creates consistency in the treatment for certain contracts for similar services, which due to the terms of the contracts, are accounted for under GAAP on a net basis within investment advisory, administration fees and securities lending revenue. Amortization of deferred sales commissions is excluded from revenue used for operating margin measurement, as adjusted, because such costs, over time, substantially offset distribution fee revenue the Company earns. For each of these items, BlackRock excludes from revenue used for operating margin, as adjusted, the costs related to each of these items as a proxy for such offsetting revenue.

(2) Nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, as adjusted

Nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, as adjusted, equals nonoperating income (expense), GAAP basis, less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, adjusted for compensation expense associated with (appreciation) depreciation on investments related to certain BlackRock deferred compensation plans. The compensation expense offset is recorded in operating income. This compensation expense has been included in nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, as adjusted, to offset returns on investments set aside for these plans, which are reported in nonoperating income (expense), GAAP basis.

Management believes nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, as adjusted, provides comparability of information among reporting periods and is an effective measure for reviewing BlackRock's nonoperating contribution to results. As compensation expense associated with (appreciation) depreciation on investments related to certain deferred compensation plans, which is included in operating income, substantially offsets the gain (loss) on the investments set aside for these plans, management believes nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, as adjusted, provides a useful measure, for both management and investors, of BlackRock's nonoperating results that impact book value. During 2013, the noncash, nonoperating pre-tax gain of $80 million related to the contributed PennyMac investment has been excluded from nonoperating income (expense), less net income (loss) attributable to NCI, as adjusted due to its nonrecurring nature and because the more than offsetting associated Charitable Contribution expense of $124 million is reported in operating income.

(3) Net income attributable to BlackRock, as adjusted

Management believes net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc., as adjusted, and diluted earnings per common share, as adjusted, are useful measures of BlackRock's profitability and financial performance. Net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc., as adjusted, equals net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc., GAAP basis, adjusted for significant nonrecurring items, charges that ultimately will not impact BlackRock's book value or certain tax items that do not impact cash flow.

See aforementioned discussion regarding operating income, as adjusted, and operating margin, as adjusted, for information on the PNC LTIP funding obligation, Charitable Contribution, U.K. lease exit costs and contribution to STIFs.

For each period presented, the non-GAAP adjustments, including the PNC LTIP funding obligation, U.K. lease exit costs and contribution to STIFs were tax effected at the respective blended rates applicable to the adjustments. Amounts for 2013 included a tax benefit of approximately $48 million recognized in connection with the Charitable Contribution. The tax benefit has been excluded from net income attributable to BlackRock, Inc., as adjusted due to the nonrecurring nature of the Charitable Contribution.

Non-GAAP adjustments for 2014, 2013 and 2012 reflected the revaluation of deferred income tax liabilities related to intangible assets and/or goodwill. The amount for 2014 included a $9 million net noncash tax benefit arising primarily from state and local income tax changes. The amount for 2013 included a $69 million noncash tax benefit, primarily related to legislation enacted in the United Kingdom and state and local income tax changes. The amount for 2012 included a $50 million noncash tax benefit, primarily related to the effect of legislation enacted in the United Kingdom and the state and local income tax effect resulting from changes in the Company's organizational structure. Such amounts for 2014, 2013 and 2012 have been excluded from as adjusted results as they will not have a cash flow impact and to ensure comparability among periods presented.

(4) Amounts for 2012 exclude net income attributable to participating securities (see below).

(5) Nonvoting participating preferred stock is considered to be a common stock equivalent for purposes of determining basic and diluted earnings per share calculations.

Prior to 2013, certain unvested RSUs were not included in diluted weighted-average common shares outstanding as they were deemed participating securities. Average outstanding participating securities were 0.2 million in 2012. For further information, see Note 21, Earnings per Share, to the consolidated financial statements.

(4) Advisory AUM represents long-term portfolio liquidation assignments.

AUM increased $327.8 billion, or 8%, to $4.652 trillion at December 31, 2014 from $4.324 trillion at December 31, 2013. The increase in AUM was driven by net market appreciation of $261.7 billion and net inflows of $193.8 billion, partially offset by foreign exchange movements.

Net market appreciation of $261.7 billion included $140.8 billion of growth in equity products primarily due to higher U.S. equity markets, and appreciation of $98.8 billion and $21.0 billion in fixed income and multi-asset products, respectively, across the majority of strategies.

AUM decreased $127.7 billion from foreign exchange movements, primarily resulting from the strengthening of the U.S. dollar against the euro, the British pound and the Japanese yen.
